political situation here today. There was much damage to property while troops, civil police and excited students by thousands struggled for the upper hand along principal streets of Cairo. In one throngfare hardly a window remained unbroken in the showers of stones and other objects hurled by the rioters. PORT SAID, July 21.—Twenty persons were injured, 27 seriously, when Egyptian troops fired on a mob during rioting in the native quarter here this forenoon. Sixteen police also were injured before the disturbance was quelled. (Associated Press Leased Wire) EL PASO, Tex., July 21.—Political strife which caused the deaths of two men and brought severe injuries to more than a score of others, subsided in Juarez, Chihuahua, today. The disturbance resulted from a special state election for governor and members of the legislature. Victory, according to officials returned from the Juarez district, apparently rested with the national revolutionary party. Andres Ortiz, running for governor, was reported to have a majority of 5,092 to 295 over Manuel M. Prieto, representing the "socialist league of resistance." CAIRO, Egypt, July 21.—One rioter was killed, 87 injured, 27 seriously, by gunfire and missiles during severe rioting which climaxed

POLITICAL RIOTS CLAIM LIVES IN MEXICO AND EGYPT

THE SECRET OF JOYOUS AGE Mrs. Mary Arnold Bonebrake, pioneer, resident of Roseburg, Ore., and cousin of President Garfield, recently celebrated her 83d birthday. Friends and relatives from several parts of the state were in Roseburg to participate in the celebration of the event. Mrs. Bonebrake was born in Concord, O., in 1837, during the administration of President Van Buren. She has witnessed the development of this country virtually from its infancy and has always retained a vivid interest in it. She was the youngest member of a family of 11 children. During the early years of her life, the Central Ohio railroad was built near her home. During her early teens her cousin, James Garfield, later president of the United States, was a frequent visitor at her home. While she was still young her parents moved to Iowa, where two of her brothers enlisted with the northern forces in the Civil war. She was married to John Star Bonebrake November 27, 1856. In 1862 the two of them joined a band of friends and relatives and crossed the plains to California in a covered wagon. Mr. and Mrs. Bonebrake remained in California until 1861, when they moved to Douglas County, Oregon, taking up property on Deer Creek, near Roseburg. Mr. Bonebrake died in 1902. Mrs. Bonebrake thoroughly enjoys life despite her advanced years and is still a consistent reader of current events. Seven of her children are living, George, Will and Fred Bonebrake and Mrs. Emma Erickson and Mrs. Will Van Buren, all of Roseburg; Mrs. William Geminder of Alhambra, Cal., and Mrs. Charles Bruner of Portland.—News story in the Morning Oregonian, July 7, 1930. Sweet Mary Bonebrake's winding trail Reveals a rare romantic tale. She grew in that old Buckeye state When war was knocking at the gate; She heard the beating drums of strife— The Union battling for its life. Her memory tells of those old days When skies were dark with bloody haze. She dared a prairie schooner trip— The new world emigration ship; She took adventure by the hand, And chanced the risks of this new land. Three score and six long years ago— Right here where Deer Creek waters flow— She settled down upon the soil, And faced a homestead's life of toil. At ninety-three she still is young— A happy heart, a wholesome tongue; She's caught the spirit of the West With all its bright and breezy zest; She keeps her face turned toward the morn And hears the future's bugle-horn; She keeps alive a curious mind That will each day adventure find. She's found the secret of success— The guarantee of happiness. To do her duty day by day, Make others glad along the way; To keep in step with growing youth And learn with them each bright new truth; That's Mary Bonebrake's new-old story— That is the secret of her glory.

DOUGLAS SLAYER CHEATS GALLOWS

(Associated Press Leased Wire) SAN QUENTIN, Cal., July 19.—William "Red" O'Brien, Oakland bank robber and slayer sentenced to hang next Friday, cheated the gallows today by committing suicide in his cell in condemned row. Guards found O'Brien's body at breakfast time. Although it was not immediately determined how the condemned man ended his life, Warden James Holahan believed poison had been smuggled into his cell. O'Brien was the last of three bandits condemned to death for the slaying of William McFarlin, Oakland bank teller, during a robbery several years ago. Louis Lazarus and George Costello died on the gallows for their participation in the crime after numerous unsuccessful attempts had been made to obtain a commutation of their sentence.

STALLARD DEFIES SALEM'S BAN ON STREET SPEAKING

(Associated Press Leased Wire) SALEM, Ore., July 21.—H. H. Stallard of Portland, independent candidate for United States senator, has served notice on Salem police that, in defiance of a Salem city ordinance prohibiting street meetings of any kind in a certain area, he will attempt to make a political speech at State and Liberty streets Saturday night, July 26. In an attempt to talk at that place last Saturday night he was stopped by an officer. Stallard mentions the incident in

ROSEBURG GOLFERS PLAY MARSHFIELD

More than a score of local golfers went to Marshfield yesterday for a social game with the club there. A very enjoyable time was reported. The meeting between the clubs was not classed with the tournaments of the year, due to the style of play. The local course was crowded during the day with local players and with 18 visitors from various coast points. The last handicap sweepstakes of the season will be held next Sunday and cup play will start August 3. Enjoy Fishing Trip—Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hartley of Garden valley spent the week-end camping and fishing on the North Umpqua river. They report a limit catch.

TODAY'S MARKETS

(Associated Press Leased Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., July 21.—Bakers' unionmen patent flour was reduced 2c to $4.25 by the Harry Flour company in keeping with the lower price of that brand of wheat. No other brands were affected. The butter market was lately steady with trade quiet and receipts more than ample. The egg market continued steady for the grades, without change in price. Retail demand was improved.

THREE AIRPLANES TRYING TO BREAK ENDURANCE MARK

(Associated Press Leased Wire) ST. LOUIS, July 21.—Forest O'Brien and Dale Jackson, former holders of the world's endurance refueling championship, took to the air today in an attempt to regain the title, now held by the Hunter brothers, who remained aloft until July 4. The fliers, should they succeed, will be the first to lose the endurance championship and then regain it. Their old mark of 420 hours, set here a year ago in a flight that focused nation-wide attention on St. Louis, was shattered June 29 by the Hunter brothers, who then remained aloft until July 4. ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., July 21.—The crews of two endurance planes, "The Red" and "The Green," chatted with each other by radio over Roosevelt field today as they idled through the first hours of their efforts to exceed the 554 hour record of Chicago's Hunter brothers. The two planes went up last night within 55 seconds of each other and each had its first refueling this morning.

'HOLT' CHANGED TO 'CATERPILLAR'

A change in the name of the Holt combine to "Caterpillar" Combined Harvester, was announced by Miller Sanford Tractor company, dealer for "Caterpillar" tractors and the newly-named "Caterpillar" Combined Harvester in Roseburg. The new name is given to the combine which has a 85-year work history back to 1875 in California. California, a new band of the '49 gold strike, was so weighted down by high prices for even the commonest articles that anything which suggested a cheaper method of producing the needed food supplies was eagerly tested. That is why California led in the development of harvesters from the imported Michigan machine of 1880 to the present day. Stockton, Calif., became the center of the harvester industry. It is here that such features as link belt chains, the first side-hill combine, the first friction clutch, were introduced by Benjamin Holt, Daniel Best of San Leandro, Calif., perfected the use of the gasoline engine for powering harvesters. The features in the present "Caterpillar" combine can be traced directly to this background. The windrow system, offered the farming public three years ago for the first time, has also been perfected in the 1930 models until it is ready to make practically any small grain or seed crop anywhere "combine-able." Ask Miller-Sanford, local dealer.

AVIATOR FORCES INDIAN MAID TO TAKE CHUTE LEAP (Associated Press Leased Wire) CHICAGO, July 21.—Princess Red Feather, a comely Indian maiden made a parachute jump yesterday under sudden circumstances. It was her own idea. She told Maj. R. W. Schroeder, manager of Curtis Flying field, that she was a parachute jumper of long experience. She had jumped, she said, all over Texas. Pilot Jimmy Van Cise took her up. He started to tell her how—but decided not to because the princess was such a grand jumper that would be like carrying coal to Pittsburgh. Up about 2,000 feet the pilot opened the door of the cabin and pointed suggestively down. The princess arose, and stood poised in the doorway. Then she decided she would not jump. In the meantime, however, she pulled the rip cord, and the parachute began filling up, being blown around and endangering the control of the plane. The craft began acting up. Pilot Van Cise saw drastic action was needed. He reached out his foot and gave
