All Contributions to this Page—Society, Women's Clubs, and Personal—Should Be Telephoned to the Society Editor by Friday of Each Week.

THIS week has seen an increased activity in social circles after the long lull during the weeks past. Many guests have been entertained at luncheons and garden parties during the week, and golf and bridge have come in for their share of attention. The cooler days during the latter part of the week have been ideal for outdoor affairs, and society folk took advantage of them.

Vacation resorts are increasing in popularity as the summer progresses. Bandon, Crater lake and Diamond Lake have their devotees, and those still in the city linger for long hours in shady nooks along the river, at swimming holes and in summer cabins in the country.

Society folk who left earlier in the summer for tours are returning now, while others are leaving for their trips. California and Canada are popular for the shorter tours.

Mrs. Henry Entertains Garden Valley Women's Club at Umpqua Home

The members of the Women's Club of Garden Valley enjoyed a better outing on Thursday afternoon, July 17, when they motored to the home of Mrs. Dean Henry at Umpqua, and were entertained by Mrs. Henry in her home on the Umpqua river.

A short business meeting was held, followed by a social hour in which music was featured. Later the hostess, assisted by Miss Charlotte and Miss Mark Knapp, Mrs. Mildred Fogel and Mrs. Donna Ferguson served refreshments.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Henry's home were Mrs. I. A. Callahan, Mrs. Robert Harmon, Mrs. Margaret Ferguson, Mrs. C. W. Hughes, Mrs. R. S. Hutton, Mrs. E. E. LaFayette, Mrs. G. McDaniel, Mrs. Fred Parrott, Mrs. Hugh Ritchie, Mrs. Chloé Ritchie, Mrs. E. H. Hitchcock, Mrs. J. W. Young, Mrs. Hope Henry, Mrs. Jim Fogel, Mrs. Jean Ritchie, Miss Charlotte Knapp, Miss Mary Knapp and Miss Janet Ritchie of San Francisco.

New Idea Club Entertained Wednesday at Clemens' Cabin

The New Idea club was most enjoyably entertained on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. F. A. Clemens invited to her home, Frank Clemens, on the North Umpqua for a one o'clock luncheon and picnic. The luncheon was served out of doors in the cool shade at tables attractive with summer flowers.

Mrs. A. W. Nelson of Jamestown, North Dakota, daughter and house guest of Mrs. Clemens, and Mrs. Robert Gile were guests of the club. A number of the husbands of the club members, C. B. Callahan, John Porter, Mr. Harvey, F. A. Clemens, Mr. H. C. Richardson, Mr. E. A. Armstrong, Mrs. A. Bouslog, Mrs. Kathryn Babue assisted the hostess in serving.

General tables of bridge were laid for the diversion of the guests at the close of luncheon. Mrs. Callahan received high honors for the afternoon.

Mrs. Spence Honor Guest at Prettily Appointed Luncheon Given Thursday

One of the week's delightful social events was the prettily appointed luncheon arranged on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. George Smith for the pleasure of her sister-in-law and house guest, Mrs. J. C. Spence, who left the city following for her home in Alameda, California. Dishes were used about the rooms to give a gay note of color.

During the hospitality of Mrs. Smith were, besides Mrs. Spence, honor guests, Mrs. J. E. Barker, Mrs. H. Casey, Mrs. M. Babue, Mrs. Charles Lockwood, Mrs. W. Callahan, Mrs. E. Richardson, Mrs. E. Armstrong, Mrs. A. Bouslog.

Mrs. Kathryn Babue assisted the hostess in serving.

General tables of bridge were laid for the diversion of the guests at the close of luncheon. Mrs. Callahan received high honors for the afternoon.

Clark Family Honored With Reception in Epworth Hall

MRS. CALLA, July 25.—Rev. and Mrs. K. K. Clark and daughter, Mary Jean, were the honored guests at a reception given in the Epworth hall, Thursday evening, July 25. The hall and church in Epworth were beautifully decorated with large baskets of dahlia's, chrysanthemums, ferns and sweet peas. An impromptu program was given, followed by an address of welcome by R. W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Payne, Mrs. Bishop, Dr. McKaig and Mrs. Blanche Daughters. Rev. Clark, in behalf of his family responded to the addresses, expressing their joy on returning to Yoncalla for another year. Following the program, delicious refreshments of tea, cream and cookies were served to about sixty guests.

New Idea Club Elects New Officers

Mrs. C. B. Callahan presided over a very pleasurable affair when she entertained the members of the New Idea club at a one o'clock luncheon at her home on the Garden valley highway, the occasion being the last business meeting of the club before September. The luncheon was served on the lawn in the shade of a huge maple tree, at small tables graced with bowls of bright flowers.

Election of officers took place at the close of luncheon. Mrs. Edna Callahan was chosen as the new president, Mrs. V. R. Buckingham as vice-president, Mrs. John Porter as secretary and Mrs. W. D. Hess treasurer.

After the disposition of business affairs the afternoon was passed informally.

Miss Frew Bride of Illinois Man

A marriage, which came as a complete surprise to her friends and relatives, both here and in the east, is that of Miss Melba Frew of this city, and Harmon Wright of East Moline, Illinois at the home of the justice of the peace. The single ring ceremony was used.

Mrs. Wright, who is a talented pianist, is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Frew of this city. She has many friends among the younger set, having attended the Roseburg schools. Her parents and brother she has been visiting in Illinois with relatives for the past month. It was while she was visiting relatives in Moline that she met Mr. Wright.

The couple will accompany the bride's parents to this city on their return, and will make their home here.

Pleasant Afternoon Spent Sunday at H. P. Conn Home

An afternoon of pleasuring and visiting was spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Conn in Melrose, when a large group of relatives and friends gathered there. A picnic lunch was served at noon, and afternoon tea and coffee were enjoyed swimming while the others chatted.

Those present included Mrs. C. W. Clark and son, Junior, Mrs. L. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Worthington of Canyonville, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Robertson of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Diller of Aurora, Rev. and Mrs. R. Shoun, Miss Lucille Shoun, Miss Pauline Shoun, Miss Kathryn Mannell of Aberdeen, guest of the Shouns, Miss Loris Mezik of Aurora, Miss Crystal Penn, Miss Mary Diller of Aurora, Mrs. Shoun, E. Diller, Stamen and Walter Diller of Aurora, Woodrow Conn, Jay Conn and Roderick Shoun.

"No-Host" Dinner Honors Wedding Anniversary Dr. and Mrs. Bradburn

A "No-Host" dinner of attractive appointments was given on Monday evening of this week at "Ralph's Place" in Camp View, when a group of twenty-eight friends gathered in observance of the wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. George Bradburn of Winston.

At the close of dinner the group enjoyed a round of golf on the middle course at Camp View. After golf they assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Waldell, where tables were arranged for bridge.

Week-End Outing Enjoyed in Garden Valley

Among the many delightful summer outings which society folk are enjoying was the one last week-end on the banks of the Umpqua river in Garden valley, planned by Jerry Jerome of Medford, who is spending a few weeks here, for the pleasure of a group of his guests. Spending Saturday and Sunday at his guests were Mrs. Jerry Jerome, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Armstrong and A. B. Cunningham, all of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turner of Sutherlin.

Southern Visitor Honored With Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Shockley of Hoquiam entertained at dinner Thursday, July 18, in honor of Gene Kohler, of Pasadena, California, who is visiting at Hoquiam. The dinner was served to 20 guests at one long table in the river room. A buffet and green color scheme was carried out, with sweet peas starring the table.

Mrs. Emma Pizon and her daughter, Miss Alice Pizon, were entertained here for several days this week as house guests of Mrs. Pizon's cousin, Mrs. Sam Hoblinger. Mrs. Pizon was an old timer in this vicinity.

Program Is Feature of Rebekah Meeting on Tuesday Evening

The members of the local Rebekah lodge met on Tuesday evening of this week in the Odd Fellows hall. The regular business matters of the order were taken care of in a session held for that purpose.

Following the disposition of business a program was given by the two factions of the lodge into which the members have been divided for a membership campaign. Miss Ella Laubach is the captain of the side wearing the green badge and Mrs. V. T. Reddon heads the side with the pink badge, with Mrs. O. L. Johnson active captain.

Miss Laubach's faction, costumed in clothes of fifty years ago, dramatized a model lodge meeting of that time, opening the meeting and carrying it on in the manner in which it would have been done then. Then a piano solo was played by Miss Daynae Reese, Mrs. Minnie Clark sang a vocal solo, Fred Goff and Jack Dent entered and sang a vocal duet, and Mrs. Clara Crawford gave a reading. All the numbers chosen were old-fashioned pieces, and the performers were appropriately costumed.

The other faction also entertained with several selections, which included a vocal solo by Mrs. Evelyn Fredrickson, an arrangement by Miss Claudia Householder; a musical number by Mrs. Louis Kohlhagen and her daughter, Miss Veronika Kohlhagen, and a piano solo by Miss Householder.

A big social affair is being planned by the lodge for the meeting to be held Tuesday, July 29. Several surprise numbers are to be on the program, and the event promises to be very enjoyable.

Bridge Club Entertained With Seven o'Clock Dinner on Wednesday Evening

An affair of pleasing appointments was the seven o'clock dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wharton presided on Wednesday evening at their summer cabin, entertaining the members of the bridge club. Seasonal flowers arranged about the rooms made a colorful setting for the event.

Covers were laid for Miss Elizabeth Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chapman, Gene Parrott and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Wharton.

Following dinner the group assembled at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood, where tables were arranged for bridge. Mrs. Lockwood won high honors among the ladies, with Gene Parrott scoring high among the men.

Mrs. Wade Is Hostess to Christmas Club

Mrs. C. B. Wade entertained the members of the Christmas Holiday club on Monday evening of this week at her lovely home on South Stephens street, arranging a seven o'clock dinner followed by an evening of sewing and chatting for their pleasure. Roses and anaparnas were used in the artistic appointments.

Enjoying the evening were Mrs. Guy Gordon, Mrs. John McClintock, Mrs. Leon McClintock, Mrs. Dean Buhar, Mrs. Oscar Berrle, Mrs. Jack Wharton, Mrs. Ivan Pickens, Mrs. H. C. Church, and the hostess, Mrs. Wade.

Comfort and Style in Season's Mode

Sports wear has almost entirely replaced the more elaborate day dress of former days. And the leader of the fair contingent of sports clothes is Marion Davies, who would rather sacrifice fashion than comfort. She believes that sports clothes help to keep a woman's figure lithe and healthy.

In short, that a woman will live up to the obligations imposed upon her by her simple, but trim costume. Lella Hyams is also a devotee of sports wear. The palm for beautiful evening clothes must be divided between Billie Lawe and Gloria Swanson, thinks Miss Dimmitt, although the glamorous Gloria cannot be equaled for wearing exotic raiment.

The prize for the really best dressed woman of the movies, both on the screen and off, goes in Miss Dimmitt's opinion, to Norma Shearer. Her clothes are always in perfect taste and she wears them always with perfectly planned and appropriate accessories. For her, Miss Dimmitt created a gown of black tulle cut on form fitting lines, but with a flaring train, which has for embellishment, a flower spray design made of tiny bits of mirror glass.

Janet's Attire. In marked contrast are the clothes worn by Janet Gaynor, who affects simple, demure things, often designed to emphasize her wistful appeal and charm. Janet, by the way, is one of the economical and careful shoppers, a characteristic shared by no less a star than Mary Pickford, who believed in inexpensive simplicity for all but really formal clothes. It is not merely a question of expense but Miss Pickford is just naturally careful in all financial matters and business, and believes that she should receive value for her money.

Another extremely economical shopper is Ruth Roland, who once starred in movie serials, but is now immensely rich from real estate ventures.

Form-fitting undergarments are worn by the stars in order to avoid even the slightest bulge in the tight-fitting silhouette at present ordained by fashion. Constance Talmadge, Sally Eilers and Gloria Swanson are some of the actresses who especially delight in creating and keeping a perfect line for the slinky silhouette.

Dress Designer Gives Inside Facts on Clothes Worn by Movie Stars

By ALICE ALDEN. NEW YORK, July 25.—Fashion has replaced temperance in Hollywood, and by the same token, sensible economy has been taken the place of reckless expenditure. Take this for no less an authority than Viola Dimmitt, who, for over five years, has been the favored dress designer of the stars and satellites that cluster in such bewildering profusion in the movie metropolis.

And if a dress designer should not know the fashions, fashions, character and characters of the movie queens—well, who should? Certainly not their press agent, for Miss Dimmitt insists that the business manager has become a far more vital member of a star's entourage than any "public" agent ever was.

Intelligence and type is the thing and that is just what has altered matters out in Hollywood and incidentally caused Miss Dimmitt to now create clothes that are subtly simple rather than glittering glorious. Sports wear has replaced aquinas in the new order of design that has come to Hollywood.

In a special interview with this reporter, an interview that was interrupted with many "gobs" and "ahs" of delight as various gowns were shown and inspected, Viola Dimmitt, who is as slender, sweet and lovely as any of the women she dresses, exposed many of the wardrobe secrets and foibles of noted stars. Many of them she says, used to be lax about putting their bills, but the more intelligent type of woman now elevated to stardom, sees that the all-important business manager really manages her affairs and makes prompt settlement of outstanding accounts.

Melrose Home Economics Club Entertained at Beyers Home

The Home Economics club of Melrose was entertained on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herbert Beyers of this city. A hostess social was held, at which the club decided to discontinue their next September with the exception of a picnic to be August 21st at the Bensenhals home in Melrose. The next business meeting was set for September 14th at the home of Mrs. H. P. Conn.

Sewing and quilting filled the afternoon hours at the close of the business meeting. At the hour the hostess served refreshments.

Present were Mrs. L. E. Thompson, Mrs. J. C. Leedy, Mrs. W. T. Cleaves, Mrs. L. R. Penn, Mrs. Fred Goff, Mrs. T. R. Boushark, Mrs. C. L. Mabley, Mrs. Homer Gross, Mrs. May Meyers and the hostess, Mrs. Beyers.

Women's Missionary Society of M. E. Church, South, Meets Thursday

The Women's Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, passed a very enjoyable afternoon Thursday when they assembled at the parsonage for a social meeting. Snapdragons and roses were used throughout the rooms where the ladies chatted and engaged in contests. Mrs. Jean Crawford reveals a tailored dressmaker pattern showing flared from skirt worn over a lacy-in blouse and topped by a curved-in waistline jacket in a powder-blue shade with white scalloped collar and cuffs, and a white hat, the ensemble is complete.

At a late hour dainty refreshments were served by the volunteer in charge.

Mrs. Kate Nest was a visitor of the society.

Christian Endeavor of Presbyterian Church Holds Picnic Thursday

The members of the local Presbyterian church assembled at Umpqua park on Thursday evening of this week for a swimming party and picnic. Swimming and other outdoor sports were enjoyed, followed by a picnic lunch.

Those present included Miss Helen Norton, Miss Dorothy Norton, Miss Lucy Pinkerton, Miss Allen Pinkerton, Miss Vera Pinkerton, Miss Garlandine Hall, Miss Vivian Williams, Miss Bernese Torrey, Miss Ruth Partin, Miss Margaret Metzger, Mrs. R. L. Russell, Rev. and Mrs. Alexander Muldren, Dale Owen, Lester Russell, Emory Williams, Leland Russell and Willard Morgan.

Mrs. Strong, Miss Page Honored Guests at Birthday Picnic

Mrs. B. W. Strong and Miss Margaret Page of South Stephens street were pleasantly surprised when a group of twenty-five of their friends assembled at the river at Winchester in honor of their birthday which was July 19th. Friends were generous in their congratulations for the day.

A picnic dinner was furnished by the ladies present, following which the swimming and other outdoor sports and visiting filled the afternoon hours.

Florence Nightingale Tent Meets in Armory

Florence Nightingale Tent Number 15, Daughters of Union Veterans, 1861-1865, met in regular session at the armory on Friday evening, July 19th.

Reports of the state convention held in Eugene on June 24th to 26th inclusive, were given by Mrs. Mary B. Wilcox and Mrs. Emma R. Sprague.

Comrade Moore, a member of the order, was a visitor at the meeting. An adjournment was made until August, when special work will be given by the council and plans made for a picnic.

Evening Frock Gives Graceful Effect

Mrs. J. G. Spence has left for her home in Alameda, California, after visiting her for several months at the home guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Hotel Rose.

The delicate soufflé used to fashion the evening frock (above) helps to achieve the slenderizing effect of the dress and to give softness to the flaring sleeves. Bands of silver cloth outline the neckline and edge the snug elbow sleeve inebore the flaring cuffs.

County W. C. T. U. Holds Institute Tuesday in Lookingglass

A Douglas county W. C. T. U. institute was held in Lookingglass on Tuesday with Mrs. Earl Agee, county president in charge. The feature of the afternoon's program was an address by Mrs. Ada Jolley, state president. She stressed the importance of every W. C. T. U. worker being a subscriber to the "Union Signal", the national publication of the W. C. T. U. She urged cooperation with school teachers and an appeal to the educational associations for more teaching of the effects of alcohol on the human body, thus building the right background in the lives of boys and girls for the keeping of the prohibition amendment. As a nation-wide poster campaign is being carried on she suggested that posters with appropriate mottoes be placed in the Sunday school rooms throughout the county.

Mrs. W. R. Ferguson spoke on publicity, Mrs. Lillian Davis on economics, and Mrs. Earl Agee on Loyal Temperance Legion work in the schools of the county. Miss Lucile Rogers of Lookingglass entertained with a reading. A question box conducted by Mrs. Jolley was very interesting and instructive. Miss Dorothy Rogers, accompanied by Mrs. O. Ollivant, sang a group of songs to the delight of her audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Brand Entertain Wednesday With Six-Thirty Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brand presided over a delightful affair on Wednesday evening of this week, when they arranged a six-thirty dinner at their barbecue stand on the Pacific way, invited a number of friends to enjoy the evening.

The dinner was served in the flower garden beside the stand, prettily appointed tables being arranged for the guests. Miss Gladys Strong and Mrs. Harrie W. Booth were assistants to the hostess.

Bidden to the affair were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Ellsworth, Dr. and Mrs. George E. Houck, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Sangford, Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Poets' Corner

UNCROSSED STREAMS
W. TAYLOR COOPER
One of the things we worry about
And that often fills us with dread,
Is not the river we cross today,
But the one that lies just ahead.
We think we can hear its sullen
roar,
While we know it is deep and
wide,
And ever the question troubles us,
How we'll get to the other side,
Or all the burdens that weigh us
down,
Those burdens of trouble and care,
The ones that we bear, but never find,
Are the heaviest of all to bear.
What seem to be plants in our path
Get prove to be just crumpled leaves,
And that which we thought would
break us down,
We find we can readily face.
Yet there are real problems we must solve,
And tasks that we can't get around,
But if we face them with trust in Him,
We will see that a way is found.
But worst are the ones we never meet;
Those that threaten threat and
loss,
And the streams we've seen will
lay our way,
Are the ones that we never see.
