This week has been comparatively quiet after the increased activity of last week. The social following, however, will see much greater activity in social circles of the city. Already the school teachers are returning from the summer schools they have been attending, and college girls are turning their thoughts again toward school. August will see several delightful affairs appearing on the social calendar.

August is popular as a vacation month, and many Roseburg folks are planning to spend all or part of it visiting distant friends or part of it at summer resorts. Many are departing out of town visitors, who are seeking pleasant recreation. The month is also the time when the fishing on the North Umpqua is gaining much deserved publicity, and sportsmen and vacationists are coming from long distances to enjoy the sport.

Of much interest among the younger circles of the city will be the announcement of the engagement of Miss Pauline Bubar, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Bubar, to Donald MacKillop of Long Beach, California.

Ladies' day at the Country Club continues in popularity during the summer months, and this week there was an unusually large number on the links in the morning and at the bridge tables in the afternoon. Monthly prizes at golf were awarded this week.

Paris Displays Fall Fashions

PARIS, Aug. 2.—Milady's frocks this winter must be both elegant and subtle.

Mysterious plumpness, tapers and curves mark the silhouettes displayed this week by half a hundred style establishments which consider themselves "high style" before buyers searching for the new and beautiful with which to clothe Eve's posterity.

The lines, interrupting, but not distorting the outlines of the now completely feminized figure, promise a complication for the home-dressmakers art.

While the style shows are rapidly approaching a climax, none of the half dozen biggest houses has yet exhibited and until they do final "style dope" is still subject to upset.

The consensus is, however, that skirts are to be only slightly longer for day wear, while waistlines hung by the fashion wearing the rich purple and black and white for morning, non and night.
