FLOOD IN ARIZONA TAKES TOLL OF LIFE

Editorials on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

IN China the city of Changsha, approximately the size of Los Angeles, is seized by bandits and looted. Those of its residents who get in the way of the looters are slain.

THE looting of Changsha is a mere incident, as we may see by reading the following paragraph from a recent dispatch:

"Leaving Changsha smoldering today, thousands of reds advanced toward the tri-cities, Hangkow, Wuchang and Hanyang, avid for further spoils. Thousands of terrified natives, bearing their goods, poured into foreign districts in those cities, seeking protection."

If these cities fall, the march of destruction will be continued to other cities. The DESIRE for loot grows with the opportunities for it.

HERE in America, happy, safe, stable, with nothing worse to fear than an occasional slack period in business, we hear a lot of talk about TOO MUCH government.

China has too little government.

"HOW good a home can I afford to own?"

If you are a normal American citizen, you have asked yourself this question from time to time. Willard K. Denton, president of one of the largest American building and loan associations, answers it.

"Not more than three times the sum of your annual income," he says.

THAT is to say, if you earn $100 a month, you can afford a home costing $3600. If you are in the $2,000 a year class, you can afford to go as high as $6000.

He adds: "No young couple should attempt to buy a home until they are ready to pay down at least 25 per cent of the cost in cash."

LET us add a little more to that advice:

No young couple should plan to get married unless they are prepared to plan also to buy a home.

THERE is a growing tendency throughout the world to regard marriage as a pleasant adventure, promising plenty of thrills and involving no particular responsibilities.

It isn't anything of the sort. Marriage is still, as it always has been, the most important event in EVERY human being's life. It is, or should be, a pleasant event, to be sure, but it involves PLENTY of responsibility.

One of the responsibilities of marriage is the founding of a home, and a home can be founded more surely on ground that YOU YOURSELF OWN than on anybody else's ground.

So, if you are young and just married, or just getting ready to be married, include the purchase of a home in your plans.

ALL this, of course, sounds old-fashioned and old-fogeyish, better suited to the generations that have gone before than to the present generation.

It IS old-fashioned. MARRIAGE is old-fashioned. And don't forget this: HAPPINESS is old-fashioned.

Married happiness is pretty apt to be adherence to at least some of the old-fashioned virtues.

HERE is an extract from a letter just received by a resident of Oregon from a friend in Illinois:

"Your 88 degrees maximum out there would be welcome any day"

Hawks Lowers Cross Country Mark

14 HOURS 50 MINUTES NEW TIME RECORD

Average Speed of 170 Miles Per Hour Cuts Three Hours From Old Flight Mark.

Faces Storms on Most of The 2600-Mile Trip; Mother's Advice to Rest Taken.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—Frank Hawks, Los Angeles aviator, today holds the record for the quickest westward crossing of the United States.

Flying at an average speed of 170 miles per hour, Hawks, yesterday drove his low-winged monoplane from Curtiss field, New York to Municipal airport, Los Angeles, in 14 hours, 50 minutes and 43 seconds. It was the first time a trans-continental flight had been made in full daylight. The Traveler's plane touched the ground here at 4:50:43 p. m. (P.S.T.) after leaving New York at 5 a. m. (E. S.T.).

Hawks lowered by three hours, 52 minutes the recent east-west record set by Roscoe Turner. Hawks made refueling stops at Columbus, Ohio, St. Louis, Wichita, Kan., Albuquerque, N. M., and Kingman, Ariz. Turner made but one stop on his flight.

Stormy weather was encountered by the former instructor at the army flying school, Brooks field, Texas, during most of the 2600 miles he flew. Rains were encountered between Pittsburgh, Pa., and Terre Haute, Ind., and severe storms from Albuquerque to the Arizona-California border. Over Arizona, Hawks said, he was forced to fly high and off his course to avoid thunderstorms.

Makes Five Stops
Detaching the time taken for the five stops, Hawks actually flew across the country in 13 hours and 35 minutes, 43 seconds.

About 200 aviation enthusiasts hailed Hawks as he flashed across the finish line at better than 200 miles per hour. Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hawks, the flyer's parents, and Turner were on hand.

Hawks said he was "tired and glad to get here" as he climbed from his plane. His father suggested that he rest.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 7.—More than 500 British and Japanese soldiers and marines were enroute to Yangtze valley cities today as the result of uncertain communist conditions.

Carrying 400 marines, four Japanese destroyers arrived here today from Sasebo, Japan. The vessels were to proceed to Kiangsi, Kiangsi province, which recently was reported threatened by an army of 10,000 communists.

Fifty British soldiers Friday will follow 110 troops dispatched to Hankow today.

The arrival of additional Chinese troops at Hankow relieved the tension there somewhat, but dispatches from the Hupeh province industrial center said foreigners have completed plans for evacuation in an emergency arise.

Communists were reported approaching Hankow and its sister cities, Wuchang and Nanyang, from the south.

Areas vacated by Chinese troops moved into Hankow by the government were said to be suffering increased disorders.

The nationalist foreign office was reported in Nanking dispatches preparing statements for the power concerning communist depredations at Changsha, Hunan province capital, and elsewhere.

RAIN BREAKS HEAT WAVE IN MOST PLACES

Cooling Winds Blow Over Heat-Seared Sections Bringing Respite; Mercury Drops.

Southwest Cools Off After Being Hottest Spot in Whole Land; East Is Hot.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Rains and cooling winds brought seasonal temperatures today to most of the heat-seared areas.

Southern Illinois still sweltered, however, in a withering wave that ranged upwards from 100 degrees. Wells, streams and reservoirs have been burned dry. Farmers are carting water from oases for their families and beasts.

Showers spotted the midwest and northwest, bringing a cool respite. Up in Aberdeen, S. D., inches of rain late yesterday clogged sewers and stood in streets. The rain was general over northeastern South Dakota and southern North Dakota. St. Paul was cooled off by a 10 degree drop.

The precipitation pushed south into central and southern Nebraska. Omaha was swept by a rainstorm and the thermometer dropped 26 degrees in two hours—from 96 to 70. In Lincoln, a half inch of rain brought a heat drop of 22 degrees. Over the state, the temperatures ranged below 90.

New York Still Hot
Southwest Iowa was doused with a good downpour last night, leaving the southeastern counties the only part of the state still in need of a good rain.

Throughout the southwest, the hottest part of the nation two days ago, seasonable temperatures generally prevail.

Light local showers cooled off Ohio, with temperatures generally in the 80's. One heat death was reported.

In New York City, the heat wave lingers on with no relief in sight. Thousands have been sleeping at the beaches at night and the heat caused three deaths yesterday.

Lake Michigan's winds were again good to Milwaukee and Chicago. The uplake city had a low of 65 to start the day off with, while Chicago, with a shower greeting the day, still lolled in the seventies.

Scattered sections of northern Illinois and Indiana were also cooled off with rains.

FARM HOME NEAR RIDDLE BURNED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. J. Mayes, situated about two miles from Riddle on the Canyonville road, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The fire started in the wash house, where Mrs. Mayes has been putting out a washing that morning. Mr. Mayes, who is an invalid, was assisted to safety by Mrs. Mayes, who, in devoting her time to saving her husband, was able to rescue only a small amount of the household goods. Embers from the burning building were blown across the road and a grass fire started up Shoestring creek, but a crew of men finally brought this fire under control before any damage was done. No insurance was carried on the house.

SCHOOLBOY BEATS BIG BILL TILDEN

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Frank Shields, youthful New York star, sprang a sensational upset today by defeating Big Bill Tilden in the Meadow club's invitation tennis tournament, 6-1, 2-6, 6-1.

Shields, 19-year-old schoolboy who ranks No. 12 on the national list to Tilden's No. 1, scored his surprising conquest in clean-cut fashion in the quarter-final round of the tournament.

Tilden, only two days off the boat from Europe, made a belated entry into the singles competition yesterday. He won his first two matches but was hard-pressed to beat J. Gilbert Hall in three sets.

Welsh Likes River Better On Each Visit

Stuart Welsh, son of Joe Welsh of Pasadena, California, has been spending the past few weeks at Idlewild on the North Umpqua river and will be joined by his father and a party of six friends Friday. In spite of the fact that he has fished the North Umpqua for the past four years, his enthusiasm has not waned. Mr. Welsh says, and he is enjoying the vacation more each year.

"In all my travels during the past eleven years, covering the entire west in quest of beautiful camping and fishing spots, I have yet to meet the equal of the gorgeous North Umpqua," Mr. Welsh declares. "The angler and camper need look no further for the ideal spot."

"What impresses me strongly is the innumerable small fry trout that infest the river for twenty miles above this camp. This factor most certainly assures excellent fishing for years to come and the fact of it being a sea-run river assures us that it can never be fished out."

"A new run of steelhead trout appeared several days ago and these silver beauties are affording plenty of sport."

"I have been lucky enough to bag my limit the past three days fishing, with a twelve-year-old lad, Edward Daniels as my partner. Young Daniels took a 27 and a 32 inch fish on a four-ounce rod, which I consider some sort of a record for a youngster."

INDEPENDENTS TO NOMINATE TODAY

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, Aug. 7.—Oregon independents meet tonight at the public auditorium here to nominate a candidate for governor, which probably will be Julius L. Meier, Portland merchant.

The call for an independent rally was signed by more than 300 citizens of Oregon, who sought the nomination of Meier after the republican convention which nominated Phil Metcalf, Portland hotel man, and well known state resident.

In his first public statement dealing with state politics issued since his nomination, Metcalf last night said development of Umatilla rapids for power and irrigation by the federal government should be urged on congress without delay.

He said if elected governor he would ask the legislature to enter into a compact with Washington state for a division of the power and water and would recommend a delegation be sent to the national capital to work for an appropriation for the project.

The bandit stammered a "thanks" as he withdrew. "It seemed like that pistol was burning in his hand," Grabiner said, "We were glad to get rid of him."

WAGES FOR PRUNE HARVEST ADOPTED

A wage scale to be used during prune harvest was adopted at a meeting of the directors of the Douglas Cooperative Prune association held at the office of the county agent last evening.

After considerable discussion and taking into consideration the general economic conditions, the following scale was agreed upon: Haulers, shakers and trayers, $3.50 per day for ten hours; drivers, $4.00 per day for 12 hours; pickers, 5 cents per box for large size prunes, 6 cents per box of small size prunes, with a 1 cent per box additional as a bonus for staying through the season.

At the request of H. S. Merriam, president of the State Horticultural society, the board of directors of the local prune marketing association selected the following people from whom two will be selected to represent growers' interests on the board of arbitration agreed upon to settle disputes between growers and packers arising over the delivery of dried prunes: A. A. Wilson, G. E. Atkins, Riddle, H. A. Adams, S. Haines, Myrtle Creek; S. W. Moore, Ruckles; M. B. Green, Clay Smith, Winston; Alva Maupin, Kellogg; A. F. Stearns, Oakland; J. G. Bacon, Umpqua; Clay Ullam, Milo; Fred Fisher, Harry Burr, Roseburg; Gus Lindbloom, Dixonville; John Krohn, Chehalis; and food administration in cooperation with the state food and dairy commission asked the board of directors of the Douglas Cooperative Prune association to make a recommendation as to the percentage of tolerance of brown rot to be permitted in dried prunes for the 1930 season. After thorough consideration, the directors decided to make no definite percentage recommendation, but suggested that the words "merchantable prunes" be used in describing the dried products.

The directors present were:

TORRENT HITS TWIN CITIES DURING NIGHT

Buildings Swept Away as Water Pours Into Two Border Localities; Children Lost.

Confusion Reigns as Tots Are Washed Away in Their Cradles; Flood Grows.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 7.—Four persons were known to be dead, forty were missing, and police of Nogales, Sonora, this morning believed deaths would total at least 25 in a torrential rain and flood which inundated the twin border cities shortly after midnight.

Surging walls of water, preceding a heavy, steady downpour, struck this border district at 11 o'clock last night and swept through the streets of both cities. Furniture, trees and parts of buildings were swept about as rushing walls of water poured northward from the Sonora side over the international border.

At 3 a. m., the chief of police of Nogales, Sonora, made his way to the American side and said he had received reports of at least two dozen deaths, although he could make no personal confirmation.

25 Children Missing
He declared 25 children had been reported missing from their homes.

Up to 3 a. m., only one death, that of a Mexican woman, had been confirmed, but police on the American side said more dead undoubtedly would be found when daylight came. Utmost confusion reigned on both sides of the border and little could be done to confirm the many reports of deaths.

A Nogales, Sonora, hotel, of adobe construction, crumbled at four o'clock. It was not known how many persons were in the building at the time. Mexican police said they feared similar occurrences and that as many lives would be lost in collapsing buildings as by drowning.

Rescue Work Starts
Physicians and nurses were being mobilized on the American side and all space in hospitals here was made ready. Rescue work was made difficult because of darkness and the heavy rain.

At four o'clock the skies still were pouring forth sheets of water and there was no perceptible slackening of the flood.

An American aviator, Don Phillips, visiting on the Mexican side, managed to make his way to the American city and said he had seen several small children swept away when an adobe building collapsed.

Phillips declared the business section of the Mexican city was flooded with from five to six feet of water and that debris was swirling about.

Several persons from the residential section of Nogales, Ariz., reported they had seen three baby cribs floating down Morly avenue, but were unable to reach them. They said they heard babies crying in the cribs.

Many Trapped
Police here believe the Sonora side was the hardest hit. Flood waters poured from the Mexican side over the international border with considerable force, and police said it appeared impossible that
