GOVERNOR STANDS BY GAME COMMISSION

Editorials on the Day's News

By MALCOLM EPLEY.
AIMEE McPHERSON returns to the front page, and that page looks more like its old self.

At this writing, just what is wrong with the famous evangelist seems to be somewhat of a conjecture, and one guess seems to be as good as another.

To Aimee herself, at least, the important thing is that she is back on the front page.

THAT remark is written without insinuation of contempt. As for her reported physical encounter with her mother, such a thing, if true in spite of her denial, is plainly disgusting.

But at the same time, it is doubtful that she objects strenuously to finding her name back in the headlines. Less secretiveness about her affliction, whatever it is, would undoubtedly reduce its news value.

But, instead of a simple little announcement, there are half a dozen conflicting statements from Angelus temple, from her physician and from her mother, which, altogether, arouse public curiosity and start the newspaper writers of Los Angeles on their hunt.

AND those Los Angeles newspaper men welcome it. It is a part of the code of progress for Los Angeles, it seems, that the Los Angeles date-line should appear over as much newspaper copy as possible in any given length of time.

Los Angeles, in the space of a few years, has become virtually the news story capital of the country, competing as the source of news, with the nation's capital itself. In fact, it is reported that in one period a press service actually carried on its nation-wide wires more news originating from Los Angeles than from Washington.

Whether you think it a desirable type or not, there is, at any rate, a vast volume of publicity for the City of Angels.

CAST your thoughts back over the big stories of the past few years that have originated in Los Angeles—the Taylor case, the Hickman case, the McPherson case, the Northcott murders (not really in Los Angeles, but most of the stories carried that date-line), the Julian oil conspiracy, and so on. All of them big stories, with sustained interest that has kept them on the front pages of the nation's newspapers day after day.

And then, of course, there is Hollywood, a source in itself for thousands of words which the reading public has devoured.

A real harvest, for Los Angeles newspapers.

AND that is not all. Sometimes, it looks as if there is a wide conspiracy to help put the Los Angeles date-line on news stories.

Seven Die In Yacht Wreck

GALE DRIVES BOAT AGAINST ROCKY COAST

Commodore Henry D. King, Noted British Soldier, Parliament Figure, One of Victims.

One Woman, Two Children Also Perish; Guardsmen Powerless to Give Assistance.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
FOLEY, Cornwall, England, Aug. 21.—Commodore Henry Douglas King, conservative member of parliament, brilliant soldier and one-time aide de camp to King George, was believed to have met death with probably a half dozen others aboard the 22-ton motor yacht Islander, wrecked here in the night during a channel gale.

One woman, two children and a well known naval surgeon were believed aboard the vessel when it went to pieces after going on the rocks of the Cornwall coast at Lantivet bay.

Definite knowledge of the make-up of the yachting party still was lacking this evening. It is believed Commodore King changed his mind about inviting some fellow members of parliament. This apparently spared their lives, since all on board the Islander were lost.

Two Bodies Found
Late today the police reported the bodies of two young children had been washed ashore near the scene of the wreck. At that time the authorities expressed the fear the death toll would reach eight. Much of the night and nearly all of the day had passed without the recovery of any bodies. When those of the children were washed up diligent search began for others.

A statement by a local resident that he saw what appeared to be two women and a boy washed overboard from the yacht and disappear in a whirl of water supported the belief not all of the victims were men, although Mrs. King, the commander's wife, holidaying on the Isle of Wight, had expressed the belief there were no women.

TERRIFIC BEATING ENDS BOXER'S LIFE
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—John Anderson, 20, preliminary boxer, died today from effects of a terrific beating received in a four-round bout with "Red" Kuehl, Preado soldier, at National hall last night. A brain hemorrhage caused death.

Anderson absorbed a severe beating in the first three rounds and in the fourth went down from a right hand punch to the jaw. He struggled to his feet but collapsed as the bell rang. The police homicide squad was investigating.

McClintock's Return—Mr. and Mrs. Leon McClintock have returned from a week spent at Hansen's camp on the Metullus river near Bend. They were accompanied by Mrs. McClintock's sister, Mrs. L. A. Counts, who has been their guest for two weeks. Mrs. Counts left today for her home in Seattle.

ARID PICTURE OVERDRAWN
BEND, Aug. 21.—L. K. Cramb, Bend chamber of commerce secretary, today denied alleged reports several hundred eastern and central Oregon families would abandon their farms unless federal assistance relieved a "drought condition."

Cramb said he asked President Hoover and Oregon congressional members to insure more adequate water supply for irrigation districts next year.

The secretary said "for a time this summer" Arnold and Lone Pine districts were without water because of low water conditions.

LUPER CALLED ON CARPET
Associated Press Leased Wire)
SALEM, Ore., Aug. 21.—State Engineer Rhea Luper will be asked, at a specially called meeting of the state reclamation commission tomorrow, to explain a statement made in an audit of Luper's accounts wherein it is said that he has retained since October, 1926, about $1800 in interest on funds of irrigation districts.

An auditor's report made by Otto F. Kubin, accountant for the state department, says Luper has neither turned the money over to the state nor credited it to the funds that earned it.

Luper says that he can readily account for the money if he commission wants a statement. He holds that the interest does not belong to the state since it is not earned by state money.

PORTLAND BANKERS LOSE IN DECISION

Status of Trust Company Doesn't Give Blue Sky Act Immunity, Judge McMahan Rules.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
SALEM, Ore., Aug. 21.—The American Bank & Trust company, Portland, operated by Will Moore and others, is a general corporation having trust powers, but it is not exempt from the provisions of the state Blue Sky act in its sale of stock, says a decree by Judge L. H. McMahan today.

The company brought suit against Mark D. McCallister, as state corporation commissioner, seeking, under the declaratory judgment act, to be declared a trust company, and therefore exempt from the Blue Sky law.

The company undertook to sell stock without a permit, but was informed by McCallister that it could not exercise that privilege because it was not a trust company within the meaning of the Blue Sky exemption. It then applied for a permit to sell $200,000 in stock, and the permit was refused by McCallister on the basis of the company's showing. The company then took the case into court in an effort to be declared a trust company.

AIMEE NOT FOND OF MA'S PRESENCE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—With Aimee Semple McPherson well enough to consider returning to her pulpit next Sunday, the latest difficulties to beset the governing powers of Angelus temple today had resulted in another definite break between the noted evangelist and mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy.

Reporters interviewing the evangelist at the Malibu beach cottage she is staying at, quoted her as saying she wanted her mother to go away and let her alone.

All I ask of mother," she was quoted, "is that she go away and let me alone. She talks of coming back. I don't want her back."

Mrs. McPherson, terming herself "just a sick girl," denied emphatically she struck her mother. Mrs. Kennedy, however, repeated her assertions she suffered a broken nose in a flaccid encounter with her daughter and announced last night she would start for "the mountains" as soon as she was able to leave the sanitarium where she is staying.

Mrs. Kennedy said she later might go to Olympia, Wash., where she recently dedicated a church. She declared she never would return to the temple as long as Mrs. McPherson's secretary, Mae Waldron, remained.

Dr. Edward H. Williams announced Mrs. McPherson probably would be able to resume her pulpit Sunday. He said the evangelist expressed the desire to do so.

McClintock's Return—Mr. and Mrs. Leon McClintock have returned from a week spent at Hansen's camp on the Metullus river near Bend. They were accompanied by Mrs. McClintock's sister, Mrs. L. A. Counts, who has been their guest for two weeks. Mrs. Counts left today for her home in Seattle.

DRINK-CRAZED MAN TRIES TO SLAY INFANT

Jack Huhton of Reedsport Invades Home, Seizes Babe, but Parents Beat Him Off.

Prisoner Given 30 Days in County Jail on Minor Charge—Stronger Case Later.

Crazed by excessive drinking of alcohol, Jack Huhton yesterday terrorized residents of the Reedsport district for several hours, attempting to kill a child of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hinsdale, attacking a motorist, and otherwise spreading terror in the community, before he was finally subdued and brought to Roseburg, where he was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Huhton, according to Deputy Sheriff George Dietsch, who brought the prisoner to Roseburg, became intoxicated from drinking alcohol, and was temporarily crazed. He started to the Scottsburg quarry to seek work, and just outside of Reedsport attacked a motorist.

He jumped to the running board of a passing car and attempted to pull the driver out of the auto. The driver finally managed to free one hand and knocked Huhton off the car and succeeded in making an escape from the crazed man.

Huhton then went on, the officer reported, to the Hinsdale home, and forced an entrance into the residence. He seized the baby from its bed, and was going to kill it, while Mr. and Mrs. Hinsdale frantically fought him. They finally succeeded in wresting the child from him and beat him out of the house and locked the doors. They then called for help, and Huhton

BANKER KILLED IN TUMBLE FROM TRAIN

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 21.—The body of Samuel L. Lipp, Cincinnati banker was found today on the New York Central railroad tracks near here.

The body was clad in pajamas over which were worn the coat and trousers of a business suit.

Preliminary investigation indicated he fell from the observation platform of a New York Central train.

Papers and documents, including automobile registration certificates, showed Lipp was vice-president and attorney of the Security Savings and Loan company of Cincinnati.

Among the personal effects found were documents showing Lipp a member of the Ohio Grand Lodge of Masons, a past chancellor of the Knights of Pythias and a member of the Cincinnati Elks club.

TAX REDUCTION IN 1931 NOT PROBABLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Treasury officials see little prospect of maintaining for next year the reduction of one per cent in income taxes which was allowed this year as an emergency measure by congress.

Congressional action would be necessary to extend the emergency reduction over another year. Unless action is taken at the short session beginning next December, the tax rates enacted in 1928 would apply on next year's taxes.

While the outlook is not regarded as hopeful for the lower tax scale, Secretary Mellon said today it was too early to begin talking with any definiteness about the tax situation.

GOVCO PLANS MAY CONVENE LEGISLATORS

Governor Norblad Ponders Requests for Special Session to Check Water Filings.

Engineer Luper of Opinion Lawmakers Have Right to Establish Ban on New Sites.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
SALEM, Ore., Aug. 21.—Governor Norblad is giving "detailed and profound consideration" to the suggestion that he call a special session of the legislature next month for the purpose of enacting legislation required to withdraw all public waterpower sites in Oregon from further filings and appropriation for private exploitation, he admitted Thursday.

Beyond that admission and the announcement that he has received requests for such a session from four or five different sources during the past two days the governor was non-committal.

"I do not know where this agitation has its inception and until I have had time to give it proper study I have nothing to say further than that I am giving detailed and profound consideration," said Governor Norblad.

Luper Not Surprised
Rhea Luper, state engineer and secretary of the state reclamation commission, expressed no surprise when informed that a request had been made for such a session, although he said that he was not aware that such a move was under way. The movement, he said, likely had its inspiration in the recent filing of private power companies on the largest of the power sites remaining in the state feasible for private development, referring to the applications of the California-Oregon Power company on the North Umpqua and Klamath rivers, and those of the Northwest Power company on the waters of the Santiam river and Marion lake, which latter rights are also sought by the city of Salem for municipal power and water.

MARITAL WOES OF GOLF STAR INCREASE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Tommy Armour, golf professional, technically is without a wife today as a result of a supreme court decision granting his first wife a divorce and declaring invalid his marriage to Estelle Andrews.

Mrs. Constance Armour, in her suit, named Estelle Andrews, as co-respondent. She and Armour were married after Armour had obtained a Mexican divorce two years ago. The decree nullifies the Mexican divorce and declares he can not marry again without consent of the New York supreme court.

Armour's marital difficulties have lasted several years. After his Mexican divorce, his first wife sued him for $270,000, but out-of-court settlement was made.

The supreme court decree gives his first wife custody of Thoran Armour Jr., seven, and awards her $250 a month alimony.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN OREGON VERY LOW

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Michigan with 3.3 per cent of unemployment in its population, showed the highest unemployment figure of five states reported today by the census bureau.

Not a county in any of the five states carried the small star by which the bureau indicates less than one tenth of one per cent unemployment.

Today's unemployment totals were as follows: Michigan, population 4,842,280, unemployment 160,506 or 3.3 per cent. New Jersey, population 4,628,027, unemployed 127,915 or 3.3 per cent. California, population 5,672,069, unemployed 172,556 or 3.0 per cent. Oregon, population 952,691, unemployed 24,849 or 2.6 per cent. Pennsylvania, population 9,640,802, unemployed 121,877 or 2.2 per cent.

BOY SLAYER NOW WARD OF STATE

Laverne McDonald, of Long Beach, Calif., who confessed he had slayed a rabbit, Jimmy Ellis, 3, under water until he suffocated, is today confined in a Southern California boys' home, where he will remain until he is 21 or until he responds to mental treatment.

SOVIET WOOD BAN CREATES PROBLEM

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Secretary Mellon and his subordinates have found a problem in defining forced labor, under the tariff act forbidding importation of articles so manufactured. They may call upon congress to settle it for them.

The view is held at the treasury that many articles being imported from Russia as pulpwood and manganese, do not compare directly with American products and unless there is a distinct violation of the law involved, no harm is done in allowing the imports.

Assistant Secretary Lowman is going to make a thorough examination of the complaint of the Manganese Producers association that Russia is dumping manganese in this country. A hearing will be held here tomorrow.

The affidavits of Rep. Johnson, republican, Washington, that Russia is sending commodities to this country manufactured "by soviet induced labor" have not been received by the treasury. Apparently this term is one which Mellon and his officials hesitate to interpret and may ask congress to define.

GIANNINI LOSES RACE WITH DEATH

SAUSALITO, Cal., Aug. 21.—Death moved faster than airplanes today and claimed Lorenzo Scatena, 80-year-old stepfather of A. P. Giannini, San Francisco banker, and founder of the Bank of Italy, just a few hours before Giannini was scheduled to arrive after a swift dash from Paris.

Scatena died just before noon while the San Francisco financier was speeding here by airplane from Clovis, N. M. Giannini was expected to arrive at 7 p. m.

Physicians had made desperate efforts to prolong Scatena's life. Oxygen was administered the former Bank of Italy president frequently but the aged man sank rapidly during the morning.

AL SMITH PREDICTS NATIONAL VICTORY

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—In a message to the Joel Parker association expressing his regret at his inability to attend its outing yesterday former Governor Alfred E. Smith predicted the democratic party "will soon be in national control and will make this a happy as well as a prosperous nation."

STATEMENT GIVEN OUT IN OUSTER CASE

Clifford and Clark Praised but Reinstatement Not Favored Because of Board's Enmity.

Responsibility for Strife Laid by Norblad Upon Multnomah Group of Sportsmen.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
SALEM, Ore., Aug. 21.—Governor Norblad will make no changes in the personnel of the state game commission for the purpose of having Harold Clifford and Ed Clark reinstated as state game warden and deputy warden respectively. The governor made this plain in a long statement today.

The statement expressed full confidence in the integrity and ability of Clifford and Clark, the governor declaring that, in his opinion, their removal would not solve the difficulties in the administration of the game department. "On the other hand," he adds, "I do not conscientiously believe that the reinstatement of Clifford and Clark through the removal of some of the present commission will relieve the situation and offer a solution to the varying problems of the game commission."

The governor states that he has given serious thought to the lot of persons against and approval of the commission for the ouster and read all evidence taken at the hearing.

"I am passing up entirely my own personal judgment of these men as to their conduct of the office," he says, "and also, in the light of my decision, I am not passing my opinion upon the evidence."

Good Work Credited
The governor says he considers that both Clifford and Clark conducted their offices properly and ably. He mentions that Clifford "devoted himself in a very vigorous, practical manner to the restoration of Malheur lake as a wild life sanctuary," and credits him with taking the lead in the movement for a federal appropriation of a million and a half dollars for the restoration of the lake area.

He credits Clifford with sponsoring the solution of the open irrigation ditch menace and the appropriation of $25,000 for experiments in solution of the problem of the annual loss of millions of trout and salmon fry.

Further the governor says Clifford led in game farm propagation for field and upland birds, and that he has responded to the police of holding trout fry and turning them into streams as legal sized fish capable of caring for themselves.

The statement declares that Clifford has turned the financial affairs of the game department over to the new commission.

W. P. SPRINGSTEAD DIES IN 61st YEAR

William Perry Springstead, 61, a resident of Roseburg for the past four years, passed away this morning after a short illness. He was born in Pitschville, Ohio, July 8, 1869, and was married in Roseburg, Ohio, August 22, 1911. He came to Oregon about four years ago from New London, Ohio. He is survived by his wife and the following children, Perry, John, and Agnes, Joseph, Martha, and William, all of this city, Loretta Springstead of Harbor, Ore., and Mrs. Wilma Rumbaugh, Norwalk, Ohio. The body has been removed to the Douglas Funeral home, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.
