IDEAL BUTLER AND WIFE FOUND DEAD ON THE SAME DAY

(Associated Press Leased Wire) CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—George Brown, the "ideal butler" in the household of Mrs. Bertha Bauer, society, business and political leader, is dead, as is his wife Martha. Their deaths occurred yesterday within a few minutes of each other. George, 75 years old, had been on a pension for five years, but he still felt it necessary to keep in touch with the Bauer household and see that it was handled properly by the butler who had succeeded him.

He spent an hour or so Saturday night there, giving instructions he thought were needed; for he had been the "ideal butler." When morning came, he was dead.

NORRIS' NAMESAKE AT SENATE PROBE

(Associated Press Leased Wire) LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 22.—George W. Norris, the grocer, told Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, at the campaign fund hearing opening here this morning that he had hoped by filing in opposition to Senator George W. Norris in the republican primary to force senator to run as an independent.

"How did you know you would force him off?" Senator Nye asked. "Well, I knew he could not split the vote," the Broken Bow grocer replied. "He had run as an independent before and I thought he would again."

CAMPBELL SOUP CO. PRESIDENT DIES

(Associated Press Leased Wire) CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 22.—Dr. John Thompson Dorrance, 57, founder, president and sole owner of the Campbell Soup company, a pioneer in the field of condensed canned foods and reputed to be one of the country's wealthiest men, is dead.

The story of Dr. Dorrance's life was one of the great romances of American business. He rose from a $7.50-a-week employee in his uncle's fruit and preserve factory to the head of a world-wide business organization.

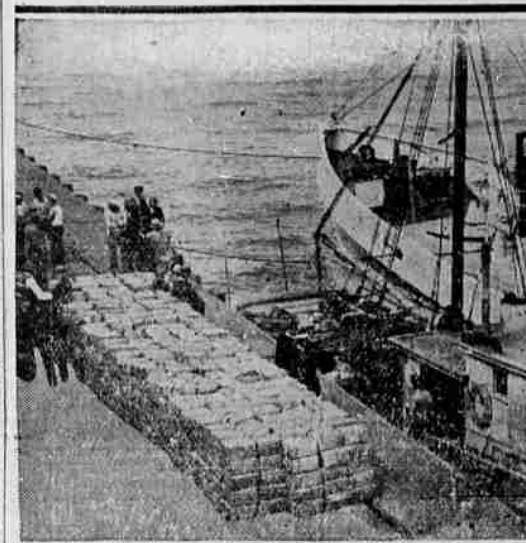

The stock of the Campbell company owned by Dr. Dorrance is said to be valued at $150,000,000.

U. OF O. FOOTBALL SCHEDULE BARRIER TO FIRST HONORS

BY FRANK G. GORRIE

Associated Press Sports Writer. EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 22.—Except for a weak schedule, Coach Dr. Clarence W. Spears would have an excellent chance of giving the University of Oregon the Pacific Coast Conference football championship this fall in his first year as the head grid mentor of the Webfooters.

But with only four conference games on the Oregon schedule, the Webfooters will hardly be recognized as coast champions even if they win them all, provided of course that some other school cleans up its schedule. Oregon's only conference games will be with Washington, Idaho, University of California at Los Angeles and Oregon State college.

Hard work has been the program since the opening of training camp. The Webfooters have an interconference game scheduled with Drake university Oct. 3. The tilt will be contested at Chicago in the city's first night game.

Veterans Return—Six veterans returned to school for their third year on the Oregon varsity. They are Austin Colbert and Jerry Little, guards; George Christensen and Marion Hall, tackles; John Kitzmiller, captain and halfback, and John Donahue, quarterback. With the exception of Hall who played as a reserve, all these men were regulars.

Colbert teamed with Christensen to form the Webfooters' famous "quarter ton tackle" combination, but this year the pair have been parted and Colbert moved into guard.

Other lettermen on the varsity squad are Eric Forta and Bill Anater, centers; Henry Hedden, Norman Jones and Ralph Bates, backs; Fred Scholz, guards; Jack Briller and Al Browne, John Landahl, Wally Shearer and Ed Moeller, backs.

Two shifts are seen in the backfield. Moeller likely be moved from fullback to center and Al Browne from halfback to full. Moeller, who alternated with Hal Hatten last season had a position under former Coach Captain John McEwan that called for constant handling of the ball. Since his fingers have been stiffened from discus throwing he fumbled often. At quarter, however, he will carry the ball less and run more interference.

Kitzmiller Back—The two halfbacks will probably be Kitzmiller, the "flying Dutchman," and Don Watts, a sophomore. Kitzmiller was the leading scorer of the conference two years ago, and was gaining additional fame as a "sideline" last season until he injured his right ankle. Watts is being counted on heavily for first team work. He is a fellow citizen of Kitzmiller, both hailing from Harrisburg, Penn., and is reported to perform equally well with the "flying Dutchman."

Other outstanding backfield men are Cliff Carpell, Wally Taurance, Don Shearer, Landahl, Howard Dirks, Jack Rushlow and Donahue.

One of Oregon's most important games this season will be with University of Washington at Portland, Oct. 18. It will be a battle of coaches with Jimmy Phelan, former Purdue University mentor, leading the Washington Huskies, and Spears heading the Webfooters. Washington officials decided on Phelan over Spears to succeed Enoch W. Bagshaw as Husky coach, and victory means much in the eyes of the students.

Humphreys' cows must yield 400 pounds

"300-pound cows barely pay expenses—400-pounders make a profit," says George Humphreys, a one-man dairy farm operator. "My objective is now 500-pound butterfat production per cow with a minimum of additional expense."

Such are the type of farmers who benefit most from attendance at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition, 20th Annual of which will be held Portland, Oregon, Oct. 25-Nov. 1. Featured this year: 13 complete shows (including 4-H Club and Smith-Hughes Junior Agricultural activities)—exhibits of million dollars worth of pure-bred Beef and Dairy Cattle, Horses, Sheep, Hogs, Goats, Foxes, Mink, Marten, Poultry, Rabbits, Wild Birds, and Game Fish—Premiums totaling $100,000.

The Umpqua Valley Bank recommends attendance at Pacific International to every person hereabout interested in farming operations of any kind.

Hills Bros COFFEE
its rare flavor to the principle you follow in making mayonnaise
You add the oil a little at a time to prevent the mayonnaise from separating. Hills Bros. roast their coffee a few pounds at a time to prevent variation in flavor. That's why this patented, continuous process is called Controlled Roasting. No bulk-roasting process can produce such a rich, delicious flavor.
