

O. S. C. WILL HOLD 3-DAY COURSE FOR PRUNE GROWERS

Soil Treatment, Spray and Marketing on Program, Also Advice as to Regulations.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 15.—Prune growers seem to be finding life just one thing after another, and now it is government pure food regulations to raise the quality of dried prunes. Some think this is an additional hardship on top of low prices, while others hail it as a "good calamity" which will help the industry by giving recognition to high quality and keeping poor stuff off the market.

Regardless of this argument, the horticultural department here has arranged at the suggestion of leading prune growers and packers, to hold a three-day prune growers' short course at the college November 24 to 26, when every phase of the question will be discussed by specialists.

The detailed program just issued by W. S. Brown, chief in horticulture, shows that all the highlights of prune production, drying and marketing will be included as well as those features intended primarily to help growers meet the pure food regulations.

The first day will be devoted to management problems, such as prune soils, fertilizers, irrigation, rejuvenation and pruning. Such specialists as C. V. Ruzek, O. T. McWhorter, C. E. Schuster, M. R. Lewis and W. S. Brown are on the program.

Spray methods and materials will be the second day's subject, covering prune insects with emphasis on thrips, brown rot control, and a demonstration of spraying equipment. Dr. Don C. Mote, Dr. W. P. Durst, H. P. Darrs and Joseph Wilcox are staff members in charge.

Marketing and grade standards will bring the course to its climax the third day when the world-wide outlook, improved prune grades, marketing principles, fresh prune market outlook and drier management will be discussed by L. H. Breithaupt, E. H. Wiegand, George

Neuritis and Rheumatism CASEY'S COMPOUND A Blood Cleansing Tonic

Will help Nature build up and enrich your blood. Will strengthen your whole body. Restores loss of appetite, weak and rundown condition. It banishes rheumatism, neuritis, stone, pain and swelling, drives out the uric acid poison through direct action on the stomach, liver and kidneys.

Mr. Fred Bernardi, Cross and High streets, Salem, Ore., states a few years ago he had a bad case of rheumatism, was not able to work for some time. A friend told him to try Casey's Compound which he did. After taking four bottles, hasn't been troubled since. He highly recommends Casey's Compound for it did the work for him and has given lasting relief. $1.50 per bottle. Marston's Drug Store and all leading druggists.—Adv.

ROYAL DAME OF 82 LIKES "GASPER'S"

(Associated Press Lead Wire). LONDON, Nov. 12.—Queen Mary, it would appear, is not the lone smoker among the feminine members of the royal family. Princess Louise, 82-year-old daughter of the austere Queen Victoria and aunt of King George, says the "Londoner" in his diary in the Evening Standard, not only smokes cigarettes but likes "gasps"—a British term for cheap, strong, cigarettes that grip the throat.

Writing about a visit by the princess to a regimental concert of her own Kensington regiment, he says: "Not long ago she commented, the moment she arrived, on the fact that the men weren't smoking. 'Let them all smoke,' she said, 'in fact I want a cigarette myself.' "A box was handed to the princess with the apology that the cigarettes were not of an expensive brand. "Nonsense," she replied, lighting one. 'I always smoke gaspers.'"

STAGE IMPROVED FOR GIRLS VODVIL

New stage equipment has been secured at the senior high school and will be used for the first time in connection with the Girls' club vodvil to be presented Friday evening. A raised platform is being constructed for the orchestra, and this will be located at the rear of the stage. The orchestra, seated on the platform in front of an attractive backdrop of rainbow colors, will provide a fitting setting for the acts on the program. A new front border of dark blue velvet has been installed at a cost of $128. This curtain was the gift of the graduating class of 1930 and will help greatly to make the stage more attractive.
