

PERSIAN CARPET WORTH $2,500,000 SHOWN IN LONDON

(Associated Press Local Wire) LONDON, Nov. 12.—In London now there is a magic carpet—almost as magic as any that has figured in fairy tales.

It is part of the $10,000,000 Persian art treasures which have been unpacked in secret at the Royal Academy vaults in Piccadilly for exhibition in January.

The carpet covers a huge octagon of the royal academy, where the stately usually is shown. It is a seventeenth century "woven mystery" from a mosque never entered by unbelievers, and its beauty is exquisite poetry from a loom.

Dr. Butler termed the re-election "the handwriting on the wall" and predicted delegates to the next republican convention would have an opportunity of voting on a repeal plank.

HOME WINE MAKING IS PROBLEM NOW STUDIED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Just how much latitude the prohibition laws give those who make wine at home is being studied anew by the justice department.

Attitude on fruit juices in the home has not changed since 1926. Attorney General Mitchell said today, but a new factor has arisen not covered by previous statements of policy.

The attorney general also mentioned instructions about a year ago to prohibition agents, telling them not to interfere with the sale of fruit juices intended only for home use.

Brookhart insistent on EXPORT DEBENTURE PLAN WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Farm relief in the opinion of Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, will be one of the problems that the coming congress session must pass upon.

Brookhart said yesterday the agricultural marketing act had been a failure and he favored the export debenture or some familiar plan of relief.

He said the government already had machinery set up through the farm board which could handle the debenture plan.

"I have criticized the farm board in the past," he said, "but I understand that it is not against the export debenture and that opposition comes from higher sources."

"A fixed price should be paid for practically all agriculture products that are exported," Brookhart added. "This will automatically bring the domestic price up to that level. They have tried other things and have done no good. It is time for more comprehensive plans."

BORAH DENIES REPORTED COALITION AGREEMENT BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 13.—A "rumor" that insurgents would start a filibuster at the winter session of congress was branded today by Senator William E. Borah of Idaho in an interview today as a "bit of pure imagination."

The "rumor" referred to by the senator was a statement in an article of a special writer at Washington declaring the insurgent bloc, combining with the democrats, would probably begin a filibuster to prevent passage of necessary supply bills and thus force the president to call a special session, which would enact the debenture and embarras the president.

There is no intention on the part of the insurgents to do this, Senator Borah said.

He said besides the debenture, two other bills probably would be brought to the floor, if time permitted, one

MINORITY IN ROAD VOTE LOSES PLEA

The county court today announced the rejection of the application of a number of residents of the Lone rock district for another road election. The district recently held a meeting at which time a proposed 10-mill tax was considered.

The money was desired for the improvement of the road along the south side of the river to the farms and country homes located there. The tax was defeated by a small margin.

Some of the residents favoring the road petitioned the court for another meeting, while the opposition opposed the request. Both sides had attorneys before the court to present the respective claims.

The court found that the meeting had been regularly called and that the decision of the taxpayers at that time should therefore be considered final.

BOOSTING OF COAST HIGHWAY PLANNED

(Associated Press Local Wire) MARSHFIELD, Ore., Nov. 13.—The Coast Empire association, consisting of nine coast counties, met here last night. Governor A. W. Norblad was the principal speaker.

The association adopted a skeleton plan for formation of the "Oregon coast association," the purpose of which will be to complete and advertise the coastal highway through Oregon, and to work with Washington and California for tourist travel along the coastal route.

JABEZ B. STANLEY AND GLADYS I. SHINN WED

Jabez B. Stanley of Joseph, Ore., and Gladys I. Shinn of Roseburg, were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the office of C. F. Hopkins, justice of the peace. Only necessary witnesses were present.

They will make their home at Joseph, where Mr. Stanley is employed.

The charred remains of this rural schoolhouse are a pathetic plea for safer buildings for all common schools. Fire broke out in the schoolhouse at an evening entertainment. 150 people crowded into the small schoolhouse. Fire broke out. Windows heavily smeared deflected light. Doors opening inward were jammed tight shut by a fire-drawn crowd. Lives were lost and serious injuries occurred—all because of improper construction in the first place.

Let us assist you with suggestions for safety inspection, and with adequate rock fire insurance protection.

TRAGEDY PUZZLES PORTLAND POLICE

PORTLAND, Nov. 12.—With no motive for suicide revealed, Portland police today were baffled by the mysterious case of Michael Luffaw, 74, found on a bed at his home Tuesday, fatally wounded, a bullet hole in his temple and another over his heart. An inquest will be held Friday.

The whole volume of tax collections is concerned. Refund Frat Duty. Chapman predicted strong opposition to a revamping of the intangibles tax by the legislature.

The first thing for the tax officials to think about, he said, is the refunding of the money collected under the intangibles act recently held unconstitutional by the supreme court.

That the state is in a chaotic condition as far as taxation is concerned today, but no solution was offered.

W. T. Lee, assessor for Klamath county, asked that a solution be worked out between the assessors and the tax commissioners relative to the assessment of cut-over timber lands.

and found a bread knife plunged into her breast. Bowles called a doctor but Mrs. Bowles died shortly after his arrival.

Mrs. Bowles' body was removed to a mortuary and the apartment put in order before authorities were notified of the tragedy.

Doubt Remains. L. V. Jenkins, chief of police, said today he is not "completely satisfied" Mrs. Bowles' death was a case of suicide. He made it plain, however, he had not reached a conclusion. He remarked upon the circumstance that the body of Mrs. Bowles had been removed to a mortuary, the kitchen had been scrubbed, the death knife washed and dried, and the house placed in order before police were called. Members of Mrs. Bowles' family today told investigators they were not satisfied with the theory Mrs. Bowles killed herself, and they demanded a full investigation of every angle of the tragedy.

Authorities highly praised the courage of priests of the parish, who went about among the ruins to administer the rites of the church to the helpless victims.

DOUGLAS CHILDREN GET TREATMENT AT ANTITOXIN CLINIC

Saturday, November 8, marked the beginning of a toxin-antitoxin clinic in the office of the Douglas county health unit, according to Dr. B. E. Shoemaker, county health officer. Eight children received the first injection of this serum, three being required to complete the immunization. These injections are given a week apart.

Dr. Shoemaker emphasizes the importance of having these immunizations to prevent diphtheria made now, as the toxin-antitoxin does not make the recipient immune until six months after he has received the treatment, and so is powerless if given during the prevalence of an epidemic. There is no unpleasant reaction from the treatment, he states, and every child of six months of age and over should receive this immunization.

As is the custom in all parts of the state, toxin-antitoxin is being given at cost of the serum. The charge for the complete series is only thirty cents.

The following report is made of the activities of the health unit of the University of Oregon are on scarlet fever, and 1 case of erythema reported. 1 sanitary investigation made, five water specimens taken, 1 infant visit, 64 children examined for defects, 1 convulsion performed, 3 visits to convalescent hospital, 1 infant visit, 1 infant visit, 1 investigation made, 3 prisoners examined and 1 lunatic examination made by county health officer. Eleven of five conferences and 222 miles traveled by nurses.

GEORGIA WOMAN ASKS OREGON ROCK

(Associated Press Local Wire) EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 13.—Are you building a rock garden? "Please send me a nice rock," pleaded a woman from Atlanta, Ga., in a letter to the geology department of the University of Oregon. She is building a big rock garden and needs a rock from every state in the union.

"I've got rocks from most states now and they've all been very nice. I'm not asking for a very big rock," she wrote.

The geology department obliged with a "nice" rock with lots of fossil shells imbedded therein.
