active and kept me awake nights. My back hurt so I couldn't bend over. I spent hundreds of dollars for medicines that did me no good. I haven't missed a day from work since my third bottle of Sarsaparilla. I've taken 15 bottles and never have a rheumatic pain now. My kidneys seem normal; the pains in my back disappeared. There are few men my age as active as I am." Chas. A. Marsh, 570 Crescent St., Kansas City. Mr. Marsh was for 21 years an engineer on the Santa Fe System.

OREGON STATERS EXPECTED TO DOWN UCLA'S GRIDDERS

Northerners' Record More Impressive and Date in East Will Be Spur to Conquer.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21 — Making its second bow here this season, a much improved Oregon State football team, fresh from a triumph over the traditional foe from Oregon university, tonight clashes with an equally rejuvenated University of California at Los Angeles aggregation.

On the first visit at the start of the season Coach Paul Schilsler's Beavers lost to the University of Southern California. They will entrain for Chicago tomorrow morning, where on Thanksgiving day they will play Virginia.

The playing conditions will be more to Oregon State's liking than the first visit with the weather near freezing to icy winds sweeping down from snow clad mountain peaks in the vicinity.

Both teams worked out under the coliseum lights last night in order to acclimate themselves with the playing conditions. Coach Bill Stoshinger has shifted his lineup, adding weight to his line in an effort to cope with the heavy state forwards.

Eastern Date Seers Oregon State is favored to take the game, though coming as it does between their two most important games of the season it may find the Orangemen in a physical and mental letdown that might give the Bruins their chance.

Thought of what such a defeat would mean to their prestige in Chicago is likely, however, to spur Schilsler's men on to top performance. So far the Beavers have not won a conference game this year, but they have shown steady improvement. The victory over Oregon Saturday has directed considerable attention to the well-balanced strength of the Staters' team, the number of good reserves, and to the all-around quality of at least one Oregon player.

"Wild" Bill McKelip, left end. It was this balanced strength that made possible a smooth working team even on a slippery field Saturday with a rainstorm in progress throughout the game. The strong reserves kept the team at top speed in the final scoring march of more than half the length of the field. Phyllis is with McKelip's trusted playing that made the beavers in the first quarter that his teammates converted into scores.

90 GOLFERS VIE IN OREGON OPEN CARD FOR CASH, TROPHIES

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21 — Ninety golfers, including internationally known professionals and amateurs, were ready here today for the opening of the annual Oregon open tournament.

Prizes at stake in the three day tournament are $2500 for the professionals and valuable trophies for the amateurs.

The program will include 18 holes today and Saturday and 36 hole final round Sunday. Low scores on the 72 holes will determine the winners.

Horton Smith is here to defend the Oregon title which he won last year. Leo Diegel, 1929 champion of the professional golfers' association, and Leo Gene Sarazen, former national champion, are among the other players of international experience. This will be the first appearance of Diegel and Sarazen in Portland.

The amateur division is led by Dr. O. F. Willing, Frank Dolp and Ernie Hogan.

The Columbia course, where the tournament will be played is rather heavy but little rain has fallen recently and some record scores are expected in both divisions.

BEARS AND CARDS PREPARE FOR 36TH ANNUAL STRUGGLE

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 21 — California's Golden Bears and Stanford's Cardinals waited in their retreats today for the call tomorrow which will bring them together for their thirty-sixth "big game."

The Bears pin their hope on their forward wall and the ability to block a passing attack—a defense they have seldom shown this season. If the line can hold the driving Cards, and the secondary defense can function against an aerial barrage, dopsters say the Bears will have an even chance.

The weakness of the lines of both teams is expected to turn the game into a battle of the air, which, previous showings indicate, would give Stanford a distinct advantage.

The Cards haven't appeared as a team yet, but their one defeat, 41 to 12, by Southern California, looks like a victory compared to California's 74 to 0 beating by U. S. C. Washington State and Washington have aided in ruining the appearance of the Bear eleven.

WILLAMETTE AND WHITMAN TO CLASH

SALEM, Nov. 21 — Enthusiasm over the game tomorrow between the Willamette and Whitman college football teams, a game which may eliminate one from a tie for first place in the northwest conference, is at fever heat in the state capital, and a crowd of 10,000 fans, a record attendance, is expected for the contest.

Willamette university, which last year won its first game from Whitman for a period of years, is hope-

Due to the salacious nature of the case, Judge Hamilton excused all of the women jurors, dismissed the lady bailiff and appointed Attorney Ira B. Riddle to serve as court reporter during the trial of the case. All minors were ordered barred from the courtroom.

Landkiering Convicted In the case of Clarence Landkiering, charged with the theft of logs, the jury returned a verdict of guilty but found that the value of the property taken was less than $25, which made the crime that of simple larceny rather than grand larceny.

Landkiering claimed that he had been unable to find any brand up on the logs, and that he did not touch them until after they had been left tied to the dock and were unclaimed for more than a month. The size of the logs caused considerable debate, as it was a material factor in determining the value of the property, thereby distinguishing between grand larceny and petty larceny.

Loughran figures to defeat convincingly the terrifically intimidating Chicagoan beyond any dispute by plastering Levinsky's well-flattened nose with left hand jabs. Levinsky's only chance of winning appear to rest solely on his ability to score a knockout. The former champion expects to scale around 181 pounds and regards this as his ideal weight. The line-fish probably will scale 134 pounds.
