TODAY'S MARKETS

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, Dec. 16.—Wholesale butter and egg markets were steady at unchanged quotations today.

Both demand and receipts were a little lighter in the butter trade while egg receipts continued heavy with dealers reporting a big volume of sales for fresh stock.

Highlights of the fruit and vegetable trade were noted by the government market news service as follows:

The customary increased volume of Christmas trading is expected to materialize this week. There has been no noticeable increase in activity yet.

Cauliflower loadings continue at the rate of 4-5 cars daily, and the carlot market is steady at around $1.00 per crate of U. S. No. 1 flower.

Imperial valley lettuce, although costing nearly $1.00 more per crate, delivered at Portland, is unable to command any premium over central California lettuce, in selling to jobbers. Imperial stock is still very leafy, and of only fair quality.

First Mexican tomatoes are in Portland, but no reports are on sale yet from this stock.

Turkeys Steady

PORTLAND, Dec. 16.—Turkey market continued steady at 28 cents a pound; receipts light but sufficient for a fair demand.

Recent sharp fall of Portland prices have affected the poultry market sharply downward. Farmers have begun reducing their flocks and increased receipts on the local market Monday and Tuesday have forced quotations on live hens down around 2 cents a pound.

Country dressed meat quotations were steady on choice veal, 14 cents a pound; on pork, 12 to 14 cents a pound.
