Attractions AT THE MOVIES

INDIAN—Today and Tuesday, Greta Garbo in "Romance"; Wednesday, Thursday, Maurice Chevalier in "Playboy of Paris"; Friday, Saturday, Rex Beach's "The Silver Horde," with Evelyn Brent, Louis Wolheim.

GRETA GARBO, who may always be relied upon to do something different, will be seen in curls and crinolines in her second all-talking picture, "Romance," which will open today at the Indian theatre for a two-day run. The star will play the heroine of the celebrated Edward Sheldon drama which is laid in a setting of New York of 1885 with all that that picturesque era entails in the way of voluminous costumes, brownstone fronts, hansom cabs, etc.

The picture was adapted from the stage hit in which Doris Keane scored an outstanding success both here and abroad, by Ross Macduff and Edwin Justus Mayer, author of "The Firebrand." Miss Garbo will be supported by Gavin Gordon, a screen newcomer, Lewis

TO IMPROVE CONDITIONS

INCREASE CONSUMPTION

PRODUCTION AND EMPLOYMENT WILL FOLLOW

Mills will not produce lumber unless it is used. Factories cannot make things that are not bought. It is useless for farmers to produce unless their products are consumed. Consumption must increase.

BUT HOW????

Unfortunately man is essentially selfish. At times he may do things to help others, but he will ALWAYS do things to help himself. Business men must consider this angle. Saying: "Buy Now" is not sufficient. Give folks a better reason.
