

WINNING OF SOULS
WORLD'S GREATEST BUSINESS—LOWRY

TONIGHT at 7:30 Dr. Lowry will read his Scripture and take his text from the Roman Catholic Bible.

(By Revival Editor)
"I have come to you tonight," said Dr. Lowry at the armory last night, "to talk about a business of which the results are sure and certain, for both time and eternity, that is, the business of winning souls, the greatest business on earth."

A striking feature of yesterday's services was the large attendance at the afternoon meeting, in which there was shown great interest.

Last night, Mr. Raymond O. Nelson, the soloist and chorus leader, sang splendidly two striking solos, the first being entitled, "He was not willing that any should perish," and the second being the old-time favorite, "The Ninety and Nine." Cottage prayer meetings are to continue on Tuesday morning at 9:30.

The evangelist took as his text last night, Proverbs 11:29, "The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth souls is wise." "I want to call your attention particularly," he said, "to the latter part of that text. These words were spoken by Solomon, considered the wisest man that the world has ever known. Certainly this man Solomon had an opportunity to taste all the sweets of life, commonly so called. He had great wealth and great wisdom, all that this world had to offer. What was his conclusion of the whole matter? 'I have seen all the works that are done under the sun and behold all is vanity and vexation of spirit.' It is often said of an individual, that his life was a failure, and yet who can tell what failure or success is when measured from the standpoint of eternity?"

"Are you getting the greatest joy and satisfaction out of your life? Then you must be a winner of souls. The one who led you to Christ did you a greater service than the mother who gave you birth. If you would do the greatest possible thing for an individual, lead him to Christ. Fathers and mothers, are you heaping up your gold and your silver that your sons and daughters may be rolled into hell?"

"One is wise for giving himself to Jesus Christ. There is no joy or satisfaction like that of winning others to Jesus Christ. There is no joy or satisfaction in three places when a soul is won for Christ. First, there is great joy in the sinner's heart as he over his new found hope; then there is joy in the heart of the one who led him to Christ; and third, there is joy in heaven, for Jesus said, 'There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.' True joy never comes to those who are living a selfish life of pleasure. It is truly happy souls in this world are those who forget themselves in the service of others."

"You are wise for giving yourself to the work of winning others to Jesus Christ, because you are doing the greatest thing possible for that individual. You are under greater obligations to the one who led you to Christ than you are to the mother who gave you birth. The greatest debt of love we owe is to the one who led us to Jesus Christ, for had you gone on in sin and died without salvation it would have been better for you had you never been born. I would tell you that your parents were one-tenth as much interested in you as you are in getting them educated and in providing them with money. Fathers and mothers, why are you laying up your silver and gold? If that your beloved son may be rolled into hell, he has a chariot of ease, piloted and cushioned round about? Don't you know that twenty thousand or fifty thousand or a hundred thousand dollars will buy the average boy a thorough education? He will invest in the first thing he does and check his baggage right through and all the powers of heaven and earth cannot stop him. Those to be most pitied in this world are the fathers who do not give their children to work like I have had to do. You are not a more God-fearing man than I am in your life. If it had not been for your work, you would have come to the devil long ago."

"I had work to do many a man and woman out of hell. An ill mind is the devil's work. Therefore the father who has left his boys going out into the world, has left them for the devil. I tell you the honest truth when I say I never had children to buy up wealth for my children. Do you know why? Well, if my children are any account, they don't need it, and if they are not, it would be a curse to them. The best thing that can happen to the average boy is to have to work like I have had to do for himself. I would rather be able to lead my children to Christ than to be able to buy them out of their course of a million dollars unwaged friend, whether you would believe it or not. I would rather be able to lead you to Christ than to be able to make you a million dollars. I would rather have some saved money than to have a million dollars. You see, you are not to have a million dollars, but you are to have a million souls."

"One is wise for giving himself to the work of winning souls to Jesus Christ, because you are doing the greatest thing possible for that individual. You are under greater obligations to the one who led you to Christ than you are to the mother who gave you birth. The greatest debt of love we owe is to the one who led us to Jesus Christ, for had you gone on in sin and died without salvation it would have been better for you had you never been born. JACK OAKIE, that irrepressible wizard of the art of wise-cracking, is coming to the Indian theatre Sunday in "The Social Lion," a comedy-drama based on the story "Marco Himself" by Octavus Roy Cohen.

The current craze of invited never had as his profession, the playing fool who makes good on a society polo team but fails to make good with the society debut. The plot, like all Octavus Roy Cohen plots, is engaging and filled with surprise twists.

Mary Brian, Skeets Gallagher and Olive Borden head the support.

WALKER AND PARR HERE FOR MEETING
Ed Walker district game warden of Medford, and Roy Parr, deputy game warden at Grants Pass, arrived in Roseburg last night and are remaining today to attend the tax enforcement officers' banquet and meeting tonight. They came to Canbyville last night to make a trip into Tillamook in the search for Roosevelt's missing bird pilot. CARIEO ENGAGED TO FILM ACTRESS

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Jan. 3.—Frank Carideo, Notre Dame's all-American quarterback, has completed another pass, but this time it is the heart of the great Kocbek field marshal that has been flipped and received, with Coach Dan Cupid directing the play.

Miss Nina Quartero, film actress, announced yesterday she and Carideo, unanimous choice for all-American honors at the close of the 1930 football season, are engaged to wed.

Definite plans have not been made for the wedding, Miss Quartero said, because of Notre Dame's rule on marriage of students, which was violated during the last season by "Jumping Joe" Savaldi with the result Savaldi, another member of the Irish backfield, was forced to withdraw from the university.

"We consider ourselves engaged to be married," Miss Quartero said, "but we won't make any plans until Frank is graduated in June, or even later, because he plans to study medicine after graduation."

The engagement culminates a childhood romance that had its origin in Mount Vernon, N. Y., where both were born. Miss Quartero said.

MEIER EXPECTED TO STRESS TAX REDUCTIONS AND RETRENCHMENT

First Message of New Governor Also to Touch Upon Water and Power Bills—Neuner-Drafting Free School Book Measure—Bennett to Ask Telephone Rates Quiz.

BY CLAYTON V. BERNHARD
Associated Press Staff Writer
PORTLAND, Jan. 3.—Special interest of senators and representatives is centered, as the opening of the 36th legislative assembly draws near, upon the recommendations to be made in Governor Julius L. Meier's first message to the state legislature.

Statements made by legislators to questionnaires sent them by the Associated Press indicate the program of the session will depend largely upon the governor's views on the main issues that confront the lawmakers. The governor's address, now being drafted, will be presented to a joint meeting of the house and senate immediately after the opening of the session at Salem January 12.

Just what the new governor will suggest is largely a matter of conjecture at the present time, but talks made by Meier before public bodies recently, indicate he will stress the necessity of retrenchment in certain departments of state government, point out methods meant to reduce taxes and forward a program of construction.

The business side of the administration will receive special attention, he stated in an address this week.

Senator Hall "Hopes" Senator Charles Hall of Coos and Curry counties, who was a candidate for the republican gubernatorial nomination last May, said he was "awaiting with special interest the governor's message on water power and utility control."

He added, "I hope and trust the present reports to the effect that the governor-elect has secured the services of expert taxation and budget men to assist in solving the current financial situation and taxation problems of the state is correct."

Relative to the state highway program Senator Hall said he was keenly aware of the "success of the state highway program and I hope the same policies will continue."

He believes closing of streams, such as the Rogue river, to commercial fishing would be beneficial to that immediate section and to the people generally. Both Coos and Curry counties, as the November election, opposed by large majorities the closing of the Rogue to commercial fishing.

Senator Hall concurs with Governor Meier in support of free textbooks. The action of the Oregon State Teachers' association in convention in Portland this week passed a resolution urging free books supplied by the state, which Mrs. Agnes Page of Winchester, spent Friday in Roseburg shopping and visiting friends.

W. A. Ludington, of Myrtle Creek was a business visitor in Roseburg Friday afternoon.
