

Roseburg News-Review

Member of the Associated Press... Issued Daily Except Sunday by the News-Review Co., Inc.

HARRIS ELLSWORTH, Editor

Entered as second class matter May 17, 1926, at the post office at Roseburg, Oregon, under Act of March 2, 1879.

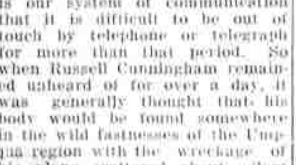

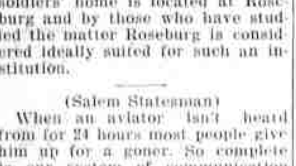

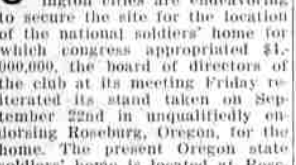

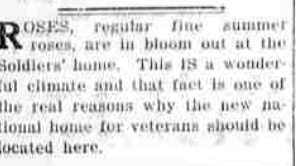

Subscription Rates: Daily, per year, by mail, $4.00; Daily, single month, by mail, $1.00; Daily, by carrier per month, 30c.

THE Southern Oregon Peace Officers' association gathered in meeting here in Roseburg Saturday night.

Southern Oregon peace officers are making enviable records and there is little doubt that this association of theirs and their spirit of individual cooperation is one of the important factors in making the work they are doing so outstandingly good.

BRINGING UP FATHER

By Geo. McManus

MEASLES LEAD IN OREGON DISEASES

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 4.—Measles is one of the most prevalent diseases in Oregon today, the state health board reports in an appeal to parents to be more considerate in their attitude toward the malady.

- 1—If the child develops a running nose, sneezing, red and watery eyes, put him to bed immediately and call the doctor.
2—Keep the patient warm and eliminate drafts and glare.
3—Light diets only—milk, soup and cereal.
4—Do not permit others to come in contact with the sick child. This establish quarantine before the placard is placed.
5—Keep the patient in bed until the doctor permits him to get up; and this, no matter how well he may appear to be.
6—And finally, after recovery, consult your physician at intervals for the possible discovery of after effects.

TWO SOUGHT FOR MURDER OF SMILEY

(Associated Press Leased Wire) YAKIMA, Jan. 4.—Police of 250 cities and towns in the Pacific northwest were asked today to be on the lookout for Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Baker, wanted for questioning in connection with the death of Frank Smiley, 45, whose battered corpse was found on the Mabton-Bickleton highway Christmas day.

WOMAN LOSES LIFE SAVING HER DOG

(Associated Press Leased Wire) MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—Violet McNally, 42, gave her life last night to save her pet Pomeranian dog. The dog was swept by Miss McNally out of the way of a street car which struck her and injured her fatally. The dog escaped with a broken leg.

SPORTSMEN OPPOSE PROPOSED BAIT BAN

(Associated Press Leased Wire) PENNSYLVANIA, Dec. 31.—Unhappily, sportsmen are not in full accord with several changes in the game code proposed by the state commission.

WILL HANDLE BROCCOLI

A W. E. Rahn, who for the past four years has represented Garcia & Mannin Co., of San Francisco, announces he will again handle Douglas county broccoli this spring.

Editorials on News

(Continued from page 1) ... because the Californians are so solemn and serious about it, like a man who enters a church just as the morning prayer is being sung.

Editorials on News

(Continued from page 1) ... American and foreign clients of Lord & Thomas and Logan have placed through it this year a total of $500,000 for newspaper, magazine, outdoor and radio advertising.

$250,000 URGED FOR PHONE RATES PROBE

(Associated Press Leased Wire) PORTLAND, Jan. 3.—The sum of $250,000 for a sweeping investigation of telephone rates in the state is proposed in legislation requested by the Oregon Club here according to a petition presented to the Multnomah county legisla-

Maybe I'm Wrong

By J. P. MEDBURY

THE average college girl won't take a penny for her thoughts. She doesn't want to turn professional.

Social Accomplishments—Having two sets of teeth. One for eating, and one for posing for tooth paste ads.

Wonder of Nature—Many a stenographer goes to a sanitarium and comes back a rebuilt typewriter.

Efficiency Experts—Government officials are now saving all the red tape in Washington and using it for the ribbon on diplomats' shirt fronts.

The Good Old Days—When a modern girl starts looking for her ringers, the chances are they're right under her eyes.

Nature Lovers—The man who became a butcher because he was so fond of animals.

Null and Void—A Brooklyn woman says the only thing she doesn't like about boat travel is being on the water.

Excuse It Please—Love is like a street car, and marriage is the end of the line.

Take It or Leave It—You can't blame a man for snoring in his sleep. That's the proper time to do it.

Our Own Vaudeville—Tom: Did Ethel break her engagement to you? Joe: No. She just postponed it while she married another fellow.

Talks on Health

By DR. R. S. COPELAND

NOT very long ago there was a very little accurate knowledge about rheumatism and its causes. It was generally supposed to afflict only the aged, and to be caused by exposure to wet and cold.

Today, physicians know that it attacks even the youngest child, and that it is a sign of some infection in the system. What used to be known as "growing pains" in children are now recognized as symptoms of rheumatism.

Rheumatism is an inflammation of the muscles or joints. In any form it is an uncomfortable ailment. Indeed, it can be the most painful of ailments.

Rheumatic fever is an acute form of rheumatism. Not only is the pain quite terrible, but there is danger of the heart being involved. This is what makes rheumatic fever dangerous for a child.

One eminent physician has said that half the ailments of mankind come from bad teeth. Well this may be true, but almost invariably the poison of the infected tooth, diseased tonsils and adenoids exact their penalty in ill health.

A recent health survey was made in Rochester, N. Y., of a group of 2,000 children between the ages of 5 and 15 years. These children had had their tonsils removed, and only 229 of them developed acute rheumatic fever.

Advice to Girls

By NANCY LEE

DEAR NANCY LEE: I am deeply in love with a young man of 24, I am 22. We have been keeping company for over a year. Last night he told me he wasn't seeing me until he was financially able to take care of me.

These are probably liver spots. This condition is due to more or less poor elimination. Correct constipation.

Around... The County

By K. R. WOOD

Putting on a "bold front" enables some people to get along, and the schemes those sort of fellows devise must keep them busy a good share of the time.

Over her shoulder her lips formed the words, "It's come."

Ardeith's eyes peered anxiously on Ken. He was painfully thin. There were deep hollows about his eyes, and the eyes had a strained look as though the man were pushed to the limits of endurance.

Within a few minutes he again had occasion to open his cash register, and for some reason picked up that twenty dollar bill. It was a piece of Mexican currency, worth about ten cents or less.

Sheep, real estate, or cattle acceptable in trade for our used cars, J. E. Newland and Son, 111 So. Stephens St.—Adv.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our heartfelt appreciation to the many friends for their sympathy and assistance during the illness and death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Nettie Henderson.

We Welcome You to Portland, 200 comfortable rooms, each with bath, k. reasonable rates, convenient downtown location.

The Hotel Congress

Louis E. Bogel, Resident Manager, PORTLAND, OREGON

Maybe I'm Wrong

By J. P. MEDBURY

THE average college girl won't take a penny for her thoughts. She doesn't want to turn professional.

Social Accomplishments—Having two sets of teeth. One for eating, and one for posing for tooth paste ads.

Wonder of Nature—Many a stenographer goes to a sanitarium and comes back a rebuilt typewriter.

Efficiency Experts—Government officials are now saving all the red tape in Washington and using it for the ribbon on diplomats' shirt fronts.

The Good Old Days—When a modern girl starts looking for her ringers, the chances are they're right under her eyes.

Nature Lovers—The man who became a butcher because he was so fond of animals.

Null and Void—A Brooklyn woman says the only thing she doesn't like about boat travel is being on the water.

Excuse It Please—Love is like a street car, and marriage is the end of the line.

Take It or Leave It—You can't blame a man for snoring in his sleep. That's the proper time to do it.

Our Own Vaudeville—Tom: Did Ethel break her engagement to you? Joe: No. She just postponed it while she married another fellow.

Talks on Health

By DR. R. S. COPELAND

NOT very long ago there was a very little accurate knowledge about rheumatism and its causes. It was generally supposed to afflict only the aged, and to be caused by exposure to wet and cold.

Today, physicians know that it attacks even the youngest child, and that it is a sign of some infection in the system. What used to be known as "growing pains" in children are now recognized as symptoms of rheumatism.

Rheumatism is an inflammation of the muscles or joints. In any form it is an uncomfortable ailment. Indeed, it can be the most painful of ailments.

Rheumatic fever is an acute form of rheumatism. Not only is the pain quite terrible, but there is danger of the heart being involved. This is what makes rheumatic fever dangerous for a child.

One eminent physician has said that half the ailments of mankind come from bad teeth. Well this may be true, but almost invariably the poison of the infected tooth, diseased tonsils and adenoids exact their penalty in ill health.

A recent health survey was made in Rochester, N. Y., of a group of 2,000 children between the ages of 5 and 15 years. These children had had their tonsils removed, and only 229 of them developed acute rheumatic fever.

Girl Unafraid

By Gladys Johnson

CHAPTER XLIII. Down the hall, almost running to keep pace with Tom's long strides.

"We don't want to raise a row," Tom was explaining nervously. "Look like fools—get old Ken in wrong."

Tom tried the knob. "Ken!" his voice was cautiously low. "I know you're in there. Let me in, old fellow."

Silence. The heavy silence of one who pretends not to be there. At Tom's motion Ardeith put her lips close to the crack and pleaded.

"Dear—It's Ardeith! Aren't you going to let us in?" Her voice trembled. Surely—oh surely she heard a little startled movement.

Tom stepped back, grasped the arm and pointed to a window in an angle of the wall. "The fire escape goes under one of the windows in Ken's office. I can get in."

"Let me—" He was beginning when her motion silenced him. "No—I can do more with him."

She had unlatched the window as she spoke and stepped onto the fire escape. A fleeting moment when she saw the city far below.

Then the intense need of the moment swallowed every other emotion. She was at Ken's window—struggling to open it.

She had a glimpse of him—at the desk writing, and she saw his startled face turn as she succeeded in flinging up the window.

An open drawer at the desk. The glimpse of a revolver. She was running across the room, flinging her arms about him.

"No, darling. Not that. Never that. Oh, my dearest—"

Under her touch he sagged like a man suddenly deprived of strength. He slumped into his chair, which creaked sharply under his weight, his head dropped forward into his outflung arms.

Ardeith saw what Tom had feared. Ken was broken. Utterly gone. She quietly unlocked the door and as Tom burst in, she flew back to Ken.

Over her shoulder her lips formed the words, "It's come."

Ardeith's eyes peered anxiously on Ken. He was painfully thin. There were deep hollows about his eyes, and the eyes had a strained look as though the man were pushed to the limits of endurance.

The sight of the girl was a shock to Ken. After the first outburst he was like one stunned. He slumped down in his chair and rested his head wearily on his hands, sunk in an indifference which was almost a stupor.

He was content to let others take the reins, all his strength went to holding himself together.

Looking at him, Tom shook his customer, thrust the twenty dollar bill into the drawer, closed up the cash register and hastened out to the cars and climbed in. The tourist had already taken his seat at the wheel of his own baby automobile, Hellwell applied the juice, the caravan started down the highway toward Roseburg, and after twenty or thirty rods the motor of the rear car got into action, the tow rope was released and the travelers drove rapidly away, while Mr. Hellwell returned to Boswell station.

Within a few minutes he again had occasion to open his cash register, and for some reason picked up that twenty dollar bill. It was a piece of Mexican currency, worth about ten cents or less.

It's office was notified, but though officers kept watch at Roseburg, that particular car never have in sight. Mr. Hellwell exhibited the "twenty dollar bill" to friends the other day, and told the story, just illustrating how some folks manage to get along. Whether the bill is genuine or not, Mr. Hellwell does not know, but hopes to be able to learn as to that. At any rate those fifteen United States dollars the stranger got were all worth their face value.

(To Be Continued)

TRADE

Sheep, real estate, or cattle acceptable in trade for our used cars, J. E. Newland and Son, 111 So. Stephens St.—Adv.

Armed, piano tuner. Phone 159-J.

Turkeys Wanted

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY January 7th and 8th No. 1 32c

The Valley Poultry & Produce Co. 170 S. Pine Phone 646

PLAY GOLF

18 HOLES All Felt Greens 15c By Special Permission of S-S-O-P-W. G. Asst. BOB-O-LINKS ORIENTAL GARDENS

OREGON AVIATION LICENSES TOTAL 75

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 4.—Pity the poor aviator! While the Oregon motorist now has until July 1st to worry about paying his 1931 license, the flier is not so lucky.

Oregon aviators in common with the rest of the nation are securing their 1931 plates this week.

Secretary of State Hoss has received 75 plates to be issued to aviators who fly within the state. Those traveling in and out of the state obtain their plates from federal authorities.

Last year approximately 70 plates were issued, Hoss said.

Children's Colds

Checked without "dosing." Rub on VICK'S VAPORUB OVER 17 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

DR. DEAN B. BUBAR

OPTOMETRIST Specialist in the fitting of Glasses 116 Jackson St.

DAME FASHION HOSIERY

Local Representative Clara A. Satherberg 244 S. Pine St. Phone 568-J

San Francisco $7.00 Los Angeles $14.00

Daily Thru Limited Service Heated Reclining Chair Cars. Independent Stage Co. Tickets Silverbrook Grill. Phone 515.

Roseburg Cabinet Shop

E. S. Cackelreag F. C. Cackelreag All kinds of cabinet work—Cupboard doors Furniture Repairing, Truck Bodies. We sell Union Board and Veneer. Saw Filing a Specialty. Phone 541-J 542 Fowler St.

NEW YEAR SPECIAL

Jan. 5th to 15th, inclusive Start the New Year right with a clean wardrobe. Let the prices listed below help you to save.

Ladies' Wool Dresses $1.00 Ladies' Plain Silk Dresses $1.00 Ladies' Coats $1.00

WE GIVE S. & H. GREEN STAMPS

Roseburg Cleaners

Osk & Stephens St. Phone 472