

Classified Section

RATES: Per word, each insertion, 1 cent. By the week, 5 cents a word. Minimum per advertisement, 25 cents. Mail your ads—count the words and enclose stamp, check or money order.

FOR SALE

SEASONED fir block, $2 per tier. Phone 362.

FOR SALE—Apples. 511 West Oak St. Phone 654.

DRY fir wood, $2.25 and $2.50 per tier. Phone 24221.

FOR SALE—Young Jersey cow. H. M. Wolcott, Star Rt., Roseburg.

PIPE, PIPE, PIPE—Water pipe for every purpose. Low prices. Leake & Gurnee.

FOR SALE—4 booths, tables for lunch or confectionery. New, cheap. Roy Bellows.

$6.50 CORD—14 ft. seasoned first growth fir; sawed any length, $7.50. Delivered. South End Fuel Co.

BAILED hay and straw; 40 tons good quality oats and vetch, $14 per ton; straw $8. C. F. Krogel, Dixonville.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—6 milch goats, 1 bull and 5 nannies. Reasonable early. Bernice White, Canyonville.

WALKING PLOWS—New Oliver plows and shares. Also several used plows at low prices. Leake & Gurnee.

TRACTORS—New Case and service. Bargains in used Case and Fordson tractors. Leake & Gurnee.

BEAN SPRAY OUTFITS—Built for service. New outfits $240 up. Remounted Bean 4 h. p. outfit at a bargain. Leake & Gurnee.

FOR SALE—Baled hay, second cutting alfalfa, $17 per ton. Cheap, vetch and oats mixed, $15. Ralph F. Weaver, Canyonville, Oregon.

$1200 to $4000 per year. government job, steady work; men, women, is to $50. We coach you for early exams. Write for particulars Box 71, care News-Review.

FOR SALE—Six head work horses; 2 saddle horses, good condition, well broken; 2 farm wagons; 2 sets double harness. Umpqua Valley Freight Line, Cor. Main and Washington Sts.

FOR SALE—Broccoli seed, earliest variety, from imported stock. Samples from this lot planted by Clay Smith, Winston, now being harvested. Will pay you to investigate. Limited quantity only available. Place orders now. A. W. Baum, Kohlhaugen Apts., Phone 155, Roseburg.

WANTED

WANTED—100 glass posts. Fred E. Richard, Lookingglass.

WANTED—Douglas county Improved farm for clear. East Hollywood business corner, 6-room house. Value $10,000. What have you. Hawthorne, Glendale P. O., California.

FOR RENT

HOUSE for rent at 1131 E. 3rd St. Phone 133.

FOR RENT—Furnished apartment, close in, clean, homely. Telephone 722-R.

FOR RENT—Furnished room, steam heated, bath, 122 S. Jackson St., opposite Hunt's Indian theatre.

FOR RENT—3-room furnished house, 828 Hamilton St. $10. Lights, bath, garden spot and garage. Phone 13F13.

LOST

LOST—Strayed or stolen Saturday. "Ginger" bull terrier. Answers to name "Ginger." Reward. Call at Wigwam, Coos Junction.

FOUND

FOUND—Driving glove. Owner bringing other glove for identification to News-Review office.

MISCELLANEOUS

CAR for trade for radio or type writer. Box 22, care News-Review.

EAR OWNER—Don't forget to call 553 when in need of auto parts. Saff's Auto Wrecking House.

NEW TODAY

FOR RENT—50 acres pasture. First ranch So. of town on highway.

WATER SYSTEMS—Fairbanks Morse pumps for every purpose. Leake & Gurnee.

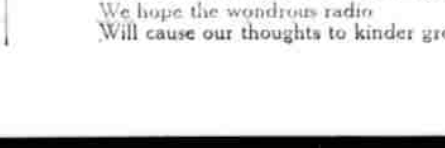

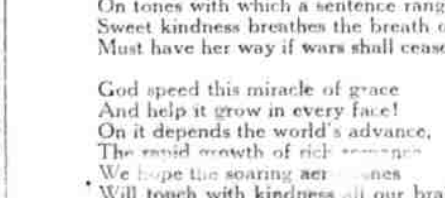

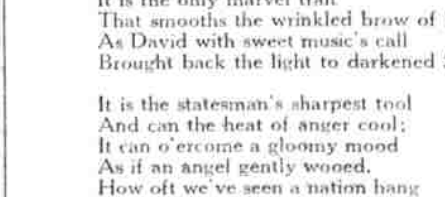

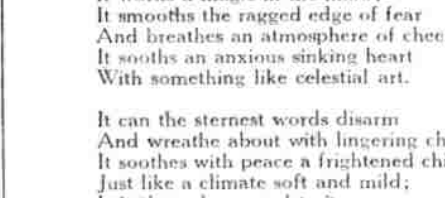

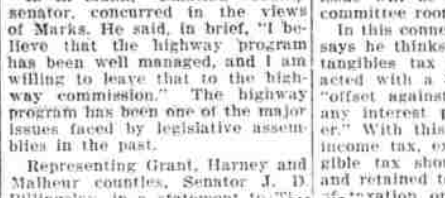

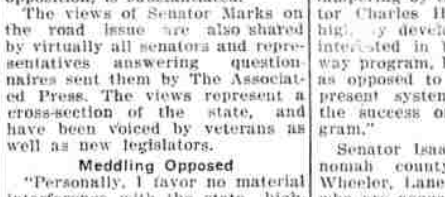

WANTED—A good milch cow. State age, price and breed. Max Heider, Oakland, Ore.

REPAIR SERVICE—Try our shop for your overhauling job. Reasonable rates. Leake & Gurnee.

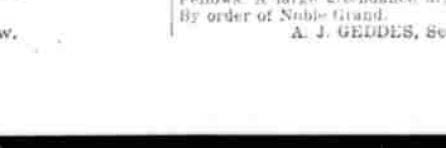

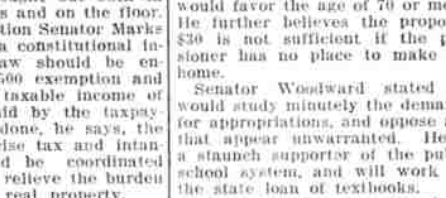

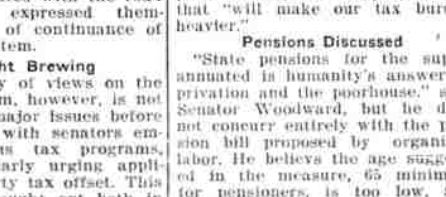

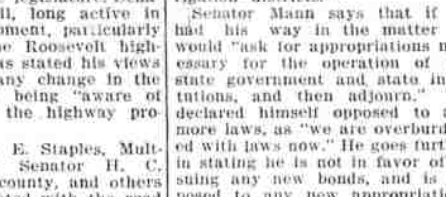

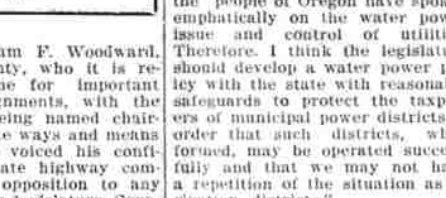

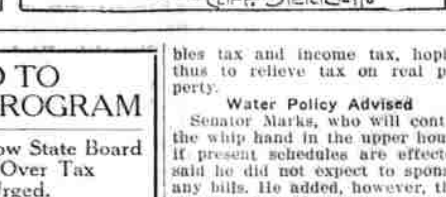

WANTED—100 head of ewes. State age and price. J. S. Powell, 505 5th St., Cottage Grove, Ore.

DON'T WAIT till late spring when shops are crowded, but get your car refinished now. Whatever it needs I've got. No long waiting for your car either. Murphy's auto painting and refinishing shop. Near S. P. depot.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Within the Law

WORLD DIFFERENT SINCE CRUCIFIXION. DR. LOWRY ASSERTS

REVIVAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Afternoon and evening services each day except Monday. TONIGHT, at the armory at 7:30, "Why All Men Are Not Saved"; at 7:30, "Law and Grace"; at 7:30, "Found Out"; FRIDAY at 7:30, "The Second Coming of Christ"; SATURDAY, at 7:30, "Home Sweet Home."

(By Revival Editor)

The subject of Dr. Lowry's sermon at the armory last night was "The Crucifixion, or The Three Crosses," and it was a telling discourse. The Scripture lesson was taken from the twenty-third chapter of Luke, beginning with the thirteenth verse. The text was Luke 23:33, "And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left."

"Jesus Christ, while here on earth was not only associated with the poor, but he was also associated with sinners, and he was associated with sinners in his death. I thank God that Jesus Christ is and always has been the sinner's friend, and yet how difficult it is to make the unsaved realize that truth! Had that not been so, I certainly would not have stood a show of being saved, neither would you. He was lifted up between two thieves, and the cross stands as the central figure of history."

"We have set before us in this text three crosses, on one the innocent thief, on the second the Son of God, on the third the guilty thief. The evangelist pointed out, 'The world has never been the same since those three crosses were raised upon Calvary, especially the cross of Christ.'"

"I would have you note that each of the three crucified bore a different relation to sin. One was dying in sin, one was dying for sin, and one was dying to sin, that is, becoming dead to the penalty and power of sin. The two thieves represent the only two classes of people in the world, the saved and the unsaved, while Jesus was offering Himself as our substitute. First, we will stop in front of the cross bearing the innocent thief, and I would have you note that what brought repentance to the thief seems to have hardened this one. They both saw and heard the same things, and in one they produced repentance and in the other hardness of heart. The gospel is doing two things wherever it is preached, it brings repentance to those who accept it; it hardens those who reject it. A gospel-hardened sinner is the most pitiful sight that any Christian worker is called to look upon. He may be morally all right or deep in sin. That has nothing to do with it. His attitude toward Jesus is all that counts. It is his heart that is the matter, and he is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God."

"In the second place, we see that that which opened the other thief's eyes to see his lost condition, seems to have blinded this one. Way is it that the average individual sees no beauty in Christ, and no righteousness in Christianity? It is because they are blinded by the devil. Paul says in 2 Cor. 4:4, 'But our gospel is veiled in them that are lost in whom the god of this world (that is, the devil) has blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them. This passage of Scripture contains what we are in one of the saddest truths I know of in God's word in respect to the unsaved.'"

"Let us now stop in front of the center cross. While we find the one on the first cross was dying in sin, with the guilt of sin upon him, the one on the center cross had no sin in him. I Peter 2:22, 'Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth.' But while there was no sin in Christ, yet he was made to bear the sin of the whole world, one day, Isaiah 53:6, 'All we turned away from our own way; we have despised everyone to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. And you say, 'Then, if he has borne the sin of all, why won't he be saved anyway, whether I make any effort or not? Indeed you will never be saved in a prison, and a governor should sign a pardon setting you free, it would do you no good unless you accepted it. Some years ago a man who was placed in the state prison of Massachusetts, who thought himself very wrongly sentenced, through the influence of his friends was pardoned, but when he received the pardon he simply tore it up and threw it away. Just so it is with you. You have been redeemed. Your pardon was sealed by the blood of Jesus, but you reject it. All men are redeemed in the sense that Jesus died for all. But all men are not saved because they will not accept of the pardon."

"Let us now stop in front of the third cross, bearing the one dying to sin. The two malefactors went to the cross for the same offense. It may be they were companions in crime. But though they went to the cross and saw and heard the same things, one is today in hell and the other in heaven. One is in hell because he rejected Jesus, and the other in heaven because he accepted in other words, no man ever went to hell because he was a bad man or to heaven because he was a good man, but where a man spends eternity depends altogether upon what he does with Jesus Christ."

"Some of you may be saying, 'I will repent on my death-bed, like the dying thief. Yes, but your case is not like his. He had not any other opportunity. Paul said in 1 Cor. 12:3, 'No man can say that Jesus is Lord but by the Holy Ghost.' Remember that repentance is the gift of God, and you put off repentance until the very chance to strive with you, and you could not repent if you would. 'My spirit shall not always strive with man.' With all due regard to the feelings of any who have had loved ones who made a profession on their death-bed, I want to say that I have but one word to say to you, as a man lives so shall he die. In London, a city missionary kept track of 2,000 supposed death-bed conversions, that is, 2,000 people who thought they were going to die again, and out of that number how many do you suppose lived a Christian life? Only two. Had they all died as they expected they were going to die, how many would have gone to hell? Just 1998 of them, for certainly if they had been truly converted they would have lived a Christian life afterward."

"Oh, you say, 'I expect to become a Christian some time, a man was dying to sin, that is, becoming dead to the penalty and power of sin. The two thieves represent the only two classes of people in the world, the saved and the unsaved, while Jesus was offering Himself as our substitute. First, we will stop in front of the cross bearing the innocent thief, and I would have you note that what brought repentance to the thief seems to have hardened this one. They both saw and heard the same things, and in one they produced repentance and in the other hardness of heart. The gospel is doing two things wherever it is preached, it brings repentance to those who accept it; it hardens those who reject it. A gospel-hardened sinner is the most pitiful sight that any Christian worker is called to look upon. He may be morally all right or deep in sin. That has nothing to do with it. His attitude toward Jesus is all that counts. It is his heart that is the matter, and he is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.'"

"In the second place, we see that that which opened the other thief's eyes to see his lost condition, seems to have blinded this one. Way is it that the average individual sees no beauty in Christ, and no righteousness in Christianity? It is because they are blinded by the devil. Paul says in 2 Cor. 4:4, 'But our gospel is veiled in them that are lost in whom the god of this world (that is, the devil) has blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them. This passage of Scripture contains what we are in one of the saddest truths I know of in God's word in respect to the unsaved.'"

"Let us now stop in front of the center cross. While we find the one on the first cross was dying in sin, with the guilt of sin upon him, the one on the center cross had no sin in him. I Peter 2:22, 'Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth.' But while there was no sin in Christ, yet he was made to bear the sin of the whole world, one day, Isaiah 53:6, 'All we turned away from our own way; we have despised everyone to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. And you say, 'Then, if he has borne the sin of all, why won't he be saved anyway, whether I make any effort or not? Indeed you will never be saved in a prison, and a governor should sign a pardon setting you free, it would do you no good unless you accepted it. Some years ago a man who was placed in the state prison of Massachusetts, who thought himself very wrongly sentenced, through the influence of his friends was pardoned, but when he received the pardon he simply tore it up and threw it away. Just so it is with you. You have been redeemed. Your pardon was sealed by the blood of Jesus, but you reject it. All men are redeemed in the sense that Jesus died for all. But all men are not saved because they will not accept of the pardon."

"Let us now stop in front of the third cross, bearing the one dying to sin. The two malefactors went to the cross for the same offense. It may be they were companions in crime. But though they went to the cross and saw and heard the same things, one is today in hell and the other in heaven. One is in hell because he rejected Jesus, and the other in heaven because he accepted in other words, no man ever went to hell because he was a bad man or to heaven because he was a good man, but where a man spends eternity depends altogether upon what he does with Jesus Christ."

"Some of you may be saying, 'I will repent on my death-bed, like the dying thief. Yes, but your case is not like his. He had not any other opportunity. Paul said in 1 Cor. 12:3, 'No man can say that Jesus is Lord but by the Holy Ghost.' Remember that repentance is the gift of God, and you put off repentance until the very chance to strive with you, and you could not repent if you would. 'My spirit shall not always strive with man.' With all due regard to the feelings of any who have had loved ones who made a profession on their death-bed, I want to say that I have but one word to say to you, as a man lives so shall he die. In London, a city missionary kept track of 2,000 supposed death-bed conversions, that is, 2,000 people who thought they were going to die again, and out of that number how many do you suppose lived a Christian life? Only two. Had they all died as they expected they were going to die, how many would have gone to hell? Just 1998 of them, for certainly if they had been truly converted they would have lived a Christian life afterward."

Delayed Factory Shipment of Weller Kitchen and Cooking Utensils

A large assortment of colors and sizes to choose from... The new prices are low:

|                           |               |
|---------------------------|---------------|
| Mixing Bowls              | 20c to $1.00 |
| 3-piece Refrigerator Sets | $1.75        |
| Casseroles                | 65c to $1.00 |
| Tea Pots                  | 65c to 80c    |
| Pitchers                  | 30c to 90c    |
| Custard Cups              | 10c           |

We shall be pleased to have you call and look over the stock.

CHURCHILL HARDWARE CO.

The Ironmongers

will report on my death-bed, like the dying thief. Yes, but your case is not like his. He had not any other opportunity. Paul said in 1 Cor. 12:3, 'No man can say that Jesus is Lord but by the Holy Ghost.' Remember that repentance is the gift of God, and you put off repentance until the very chance to strive with you, and you could not repent if you would. 'My spirit shall not always strive with man.' With all due regard to the feelings of any who have had loved ones who made a profession on their death-bed, I want to say that I have but one word to say to you, as a man lives so shall he die. In London, a city missionary kept track of 2,000 supposed death-bed conversions, that is, 2,000 people who thought they were going to die again, and out of that number how many do you suppose lived a Christian life? Only two. Had they all died as they expected they were going to die, how many would have gone to hell? Just 1998 of them, for certainly if they had been truly converted they would have lived a Christian life afterward."

"Oh, you say, 'I expect to become a Christian some time, a man was dying to sin, that is, becoming dead to the penalty and power of sin. The two thieves represent the only two classes of people in the world, the saved and the unsaved, while Jesus was offering Himself as our substitute. First, we will stop in front of the cross bearing the innocent thief, and I would have you note that what brought repentance to the thief seems to have hardened this one. They both saw and heard the same things, and in one they produced repentance and in the other hardness of heart. The gospel is doing two things wherever it is preached, it brings repentance to those who accept it; it hardens those who reject it. A gospel-hardened sinner is the most pitiful sight that any Christian worker is called to look upon. He may be morally all right or deep in sin. That has nothing to do with it. His attitude toward Jesus is all that counts. It is his heart that is the matter, and he is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.'"

"In the second place, we see that that which opened the other thief's eyes to see his lost condition, seems to have blinded this one. Way is it that the average individual sees no beauty in Christ, and no righteousness in Christianity? It is because they are blinded by the devil. Paul says in 2 Cor. 4:4, 'But our gospel is veiled in them that are lost in whom the god of this world (that is, the devil) has blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them. This passage of Scripture contains what we are in one of the saddest truths I know of in God's word in respect to the unsaved.'"

"Let us now stop in front of the center cross. While we find the one on the first cross was dying in sin, with the guilt of sin upon him, the one on the center cross had no sin in him. I Peter 2:22, 'Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth.' But while there was no sin in Christ, yet he was made to bear the sin of the whole world, one day, Isaiah 53:6, 'All we turned away from our own way; we have despised everyone to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. And you say, 'Then, if he has borne the sin of all, why won't he be saved anyway, whether I make any effort or not? Indeed you will never be saved in a prison, and a governor should sign a pardon setting you free, it would do you no good unless you accepted it. Some years ago a man who was placed in the state prison of Massachusetts, who thought himself very wrongly sentenced, through the influence of his friends was pardoned, but when he received the pardon he simply tore it up and threw it away. Just so it is with you. You have been redeemed. Your pardon was sealed by the blood of Jesus, but you reject it. All men are redeemed in the sense that Jesus died for all. But all men are not saved because they will not accept of the pardon."

"Let us now stop in front of the third cross, bearing the one dying to sin. The two malefactors went to the cross for the same offense. It may be they were companions in crime. But though they went to the cross and saw and heard the same things, one is today in hell and the other in heaven. One is in hell because he rejected Jesus, and the other in heaven because he accepted in other words, no man ever went to hell because he was a bad man or to heaven because he was a good man, but where a man spends eternity depends altogether upon what he does with Jesus Christ."

"Some of you may be saying, 'I will repent on my death-bed, like the dying thief. Yes, but your case is not like his. He had not any other opportunity. Paul said in 1 Cor. 12:3, 'No man can say that Jesus is Lord but by the Holy Ghost.' Remember that repentance is the gift of God, and you put off repentance until the very chance to strive with you, and you could not repent if you would. 'My spirit shall not always strive with man.' With all due regard to the feelings of any who have had loved ones who made a profession on their death-bed, I want to say that I have but one word to say to you, as a man lives so shall he die. In London, a city missionary kept track of 2,000 supposed death-bed conversions, that is, 2,000 people who thought they were going to die again, and out of that number how many do you suppose lived a Christian life? Only two. Had they all died as they expected they were going to die, how many would have gone to hell? Just 1998 of them, for certainly if they had been truly converted they would have lived a Christian life afterward."

"Oh, you say, 'I expect to become a Christian some time, a man was dying to sin, that is, becoming dead to the penalty and power of sin. The two thieves represent the only two classes of people in the world, the saved and the unsaved, while Jesus was offering Himself as our substitute. First, we will stop in front of the cross bearing the innocent thief, and I would have you note that what brought repentance to the thief seems to have hardened this one. They both saw and heard the same things, and in one they produced repentance and in the other hardness of heart. The gospel is doing two things wherever it is preached, it brings repentance to those who accept it; it hardens those who reject it. A gospel-hardened sinner is the most pitiful sight that any Christian worker is called to look upon. He may be morally all right or deep in sin. That has nothing to do with it. His attitude toward Jesus is all that counts. It is his heart that is the matter, and he is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.'"

"In the second place, we see that that which opened the other thief's eyes to see his lost condition, seems to have blinded this one. Way is it that the average individual sees no beauty in Christ, and no righteousness in Christianity? It is because they are blinded by the devil. Paul says in 2 Cor. 4:4, 'But our gospel is veiled in them that are lost in whom the god of this world (that is, the devil) has blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them. This passage of Scripture contains what we are in one of the saddest truths I know of in God's word in respect to the unsaved.'"

"Let us now stop in front of the center cross. While we find the one on the first cross was dying in sin, with the guilt of sin upon him, the one on the center cross had no sin in him. I Peter 2:22, 'Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth.' But while there was no sin in Christ, yet he was made to bear the sin of the whole world, one day, Isaiah 53:6, 'All we turned away from our own way; we have despised everyone to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. And you say, 'Then, if he has borne the sin of all, why won't he be saved anyway, whether I make any effort or not? Indeed you will never be saved in a prison, and a governor should sign a pardon setting you free, it would do you no good unless you accepted it. Some years ago a man who was placed in the state prison of Massachusetts, who thought himself very wrongly sentenced, through the influence of his friends was pardoned, but when he received the pardon he simply tore it up and threw it away. Just so it is with you. You have been redeemed. Your pardon was sealed by the blood of Jesus, but you reject it. All men are redeemed in the sense that Jesus died for all. But all men are not saved because they will not accept of the pardon."

"Let us now stop in front of the third cross, bearing the one dying to sin. The two malefactors went to the cross for the same offense. It may be they were companions in crime. But though they went to the cross and saw and heard the same things, one is today in hell and the other in heaven. One is in hell because he rejected Jesus, and the other in heaven because he accepted in other words, no man ever went to hell because he was a bad man or to heaven because he was a good man, but where a man spends eternity depends altogether upon what he does with Jesus Christ."

"Some of you may be saying, 'I will repent on my death-bed, like the dying thief. Yes, but your case is not like his. He had not any other opportunity. Paul said in 1 Cor. 12:3, 'No man can say that Jesus is Lord but by the Holy Ghost.' Remember that repentance is the gift of God, and you put off repentance until the very chance to strive with you, and you could not repent if you would. 'My spirit shall not always strive with man.' With all due regard to the feelings of any who have had loved ones who made a profession on their death-bed, I want to say that I have but one word to say to you, as a man lives so shall he die. In London, a city missionary kept track of 2,000 supposed death-bed conversions, that is, 2,000 people who thought they were going to die again, and out of that number how many do you suppose lived a Christian life? Only two. Had they all died as they expected they were going to die, how many would have gone to hell? Just 1998 of them, for certainly if they had been truly converted they would have lived a Christian life afterward."

"Oh, you say, 'I expect to become a Christian some time, a man was dying to sin, that is, becoming dead to the penalty and power of sin. The two thieves represent the only two classes of people in the world, the saved and the unsaved, while Jesus was offering Himself as our substitute. First, we will stop in front of the cross bearing the innocent thief, and I would have you note that what brought repentance to the thief seems to have hardened this one. They both saw and heard the same things, and in one they produced repentance and in the other hardness of heart. The gospel is doing two things wherever it is preached, it brings repentance to those who accept it; it hardens those who reject it. A gospel-hardened sinner is the most pitiful sight that any Christian worker is called to look upon. He may be morally all right or deep in sin. That has nothing to do with it. His attitude toward Jesus is all that counts. It is his heart that is the matter, and he is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.'"

"In the second place, we see that that which opened the other thief's eyes to see his lost condition, seems to have blinded this one. Way is it that the average individual sees no beauty in Christ, and no righteousness in Christianity? It is because they are blinded by the devil. Paul says in 2 Cor. 4:4, 'But our gospel is veiled in them that are lost in whom the god of this world (that is, the devil) has blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them. This passage of Scripture contains what we are in one of the saddest truths I know of in God's word in respect to the unsaved.'"

"Let us now stop in front of the center cross. While we find the one on the first cross was dying in sin, with the guilt of sin upon him, the one on the center cross had no sin in him. I Peter 2:22, 'Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth.' But while there was no sin in Christ, yet he was made to bear the sin of the whole world, one day, Isaiah 53:6, 'All we turned away from our own way; we have despised everyone to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. And you say, 'Then, if he has borne the sin of all, why won't he be saved anyway, whether I make any effort or not? Indeed you will never be saved in a prison, and a governor should sign a pardon setting you free, it would do you no good unless you accepted it. Some years ago a man who was placed in the state prison of Massachusetts, who thought himself very wrongly sentenced, through the influence of his friends was pardoned, but when he received the pardon he simply tore it up and threw it away. Just so it is with you. You have been redeemed. Your pardon was sealed by the blood of Jesus, but you reject it. All men are redeemed in the sense that Jesus died for all. But all men are not saved because they will not accept of the pardon."

LEGISLATORS NOT INCLINED TO MOLEST OREGON ROAD PROGRAM

Expressed Opinions Reveal Willingness to Allow State Board Free Hand in Operations—Controversy Over Tax Bills Looms—Water Power Policy Urged.

By CLAYTON V. BERNHARD Associated Press Correspondent SALEM, Jan. 7.—No material interference in the state highway program will be made by legislators of the 36th Oregon assembly, if the sentiment expressed by Senator Willard L. Marks of Linn county, who is slated for the senate presidency without any apparent opposition, is substantiated. The views of Senator Marks on the road issue are also shared by virtually all senators and representatives, answering questionnaires sent them by The Associated Press. The views represent a cross-section of the state, and have been voiced by veterans as well as new legislators.

"Personally, I favor no material interference with the state highway program, having confidence in the state highway commission as constituted," Senator Marks stated. "I believe that it should continue its present plan of operation. I think that if any new roads are placed on the highway map, it should be done by the commission after careful investigation rather than through legislative logrolling."

L. L. Mann, Umatilla county senator, concurred in the views of Marks. He said, in brief, "I believe that the highway program has been well managed, and I am willing to leave that to the highway commission." The highway program has been one of the major issues faced by legislative assemblies in the past.

Representing Grant, Harney and Malheur counties, Senator J. D. Billingsley, in a statement to The Associated Press, said he would not comment on the issues that may come before the legislature "further than to say that the state highway program should be left as it is, entirely to the commission."

Senator Isaac E. Staples, Multnomah county, Senator H. C. Wheeler, Lane county, and others who are acquainted with the road situation, have expressed their views in favor of continuance of the present system.

The unanimity of views on the highway program, however, is not held on other major issues before the legislature, with senators emphasizing various tax programs, several particularly urging application of property tax offset. This issue will be fought out both in committee rooms and on the floor. In this connection Senator Marks says he thinks a constitutional intangibles tax law should be enacted with a $500 exemption and "offset against taxable income of any interest paid by the taxpayer." With this done, he says, the income tax, excise tax and intangible tax should be coordinated and retained to relieve the burden of taxation on real property.

Senator Woodward is also in favor of an intangibles tax, with an income tax, as voted by the electorate last November, and providing a property tax offset. Senator Mann favors both an intangibles tax and income tax, hoping that to relieve tax on real property.

Water Policy Advised Senator Marks, who will control the whip hand in the upper house, if present schedules are effected, said he did not expect to sponsor any bills. He added, however, that the people of Oregon have spoken emphatically on the water power issue and control of utilities. Therefore, I think the legislature should develop a water power policy with the state with reasonable safeguards to protect the taxpayers of municipal power districts in order that such districts, when formed, may be operated successfully and that we may not have a repetition of the situation as in irrigation districts."