A. P. JOCHIMSEN, RESCUER OF TEN IN ARCTIC, DIES

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 — Acton P. Jochimsen, rescuer of the Karluk survivors in the Arctic in 1914, died today at Brooklyn.

He was a native of Denmark. As captain of the King and Winge, a furbearing ship of Seattle, he came to be known as the most skillful ice pilot in the Arctic. During the war he was lieutenant commander in the United States merchant marine.

The rescue of the Karluk survivors, which tested his ice-piloting skill to the limit brought him world renown.

When Captain Jochimson piloted the King and Winge to Wrangel island after two other vessels had failed to get through the ice, he saved seven men, a woman and two children from starvation. Nine others had already perished.

The ill-fated Karluk was the chief vessel of the Canadian Arctic expedition, headed by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, which set out in June, 1913. In August of the same year she became imprisoned by ice near Point Barrow, Alaska, and drifted with the ice until September.

Stefansson and five others left the ship then to search for fresh food. While they were gone she began to drift again. A blizzard finally crushed her and the survivors reached Wrangel and Herald islands.

When Captain Jochimsen arrived they were too weak to even cheer.

IDAHO DEMANDS CUT IN FREIGHT RATES

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Declaring the development of Idaho is being handicapped and retarded by unreasonable freight rates, the Idaho public utilities commission has filed a complaint with the interstate commerce commission against the Oregon Short Line, part of the Union Pacific system.

The Idaho commission points specifically to the fact that 29 cents a net ton, or $9.37 per car, in excess of the Portland, Ore., rate is charged on freight from Willbridge and Linnton, although these points are within the Portland city limits and switching limits.

Excessive rates, the commission said, are assessed on freight distributed from 20 or 30 other points.

If the rate can be reduced to where applicants and intervenors believe it should be, they declare, there will be a greatly increased petroleum freight business between Portland and Idaho.

In addition to the Portland district the Idaho commission is asking for a lower rate from Seattle.

ESTATE DRAGS 11 YEARS; COURT ACTS

PORTLAND, Jan. 8.—A bench warrant was on file here today for Dan E. Powers, attorney, who was summoned to appear in circuit court to settle an 11-year-old estate. The warrant was issued, Circuit Judge Tazwell said, as a last measure after he had called, written and sent verbal messages to Powers urging him to wind up the case in order that the court records might be cleared.

In 1919 Powers was made guardian of the estate of Joseph Orisnick, adjudged insane, and sent to the state hospital. The estate consisted, Judge Tazwell said, of $100. There was against the estate, the judge said, some $100 in debts.

"The work entailed was the subtraction of the debts from the total sum," Judge Tazwell said. "During these eleven years the court has had no report on the matter."

SPORTIVE SEAL OF PORTLAND PASSES

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, Jan. 8 — "Tackie" the seal, is dead. The little denizen of the pond at Washington park for the past 20 years, passed away today, supposedly from old age.

The little animal tug gladdened the hearts of thousands of children as well as many that have left childhood. Dickie's favorite game was hide-and-seek. He would appear in view if called by a childish voice, but adults attempting to bring him into the open had no effect.

SHIRT NEW EXHIBIT IN GIRL'S MURDER

FORT MORGAN, Colo., Jan. 8 — A bloodstained blue cotton work shirt, the collar torn away, possibly to conceal laundry marks, has been found five miles east of Wiggins, Colo., from where Miss Enid Marriott, 28-year-old school teacher, disappeared last November 16.

The shirt was discovered yesterday near the banks of the Bijou irrigation canal, into which Sheriff Rufus Johnson believes the young woman was thrown after being murdered. No trace of the woman has been found since her disappearance, although several of her personal effects were found near the canal.

Melvin G. McClanahan, 48-year-old Mitchell, Nebr., farmer, is charged with abducting Miss Marriott. He was released on bond of $1,000 and his trial set for Feb. 10.

Subjection of the wife to a husband, says the pontiff, does not ever "forbid that exaggerated reverence which cares not for the good of the family. It requires "honorable, noble obedience."

ONE-SIDED GAMES MARK OPENING OF CITY HOOP RACE

The city basketball league opened last night at the senior high school gymnasium, with a fairly large crowd of local fans present. Three games were played, the Ramblers defeating the Methodists 40 to 17, Christians beating the national guard 39 to 19, and Spencer's winning from the Lions 66 to 10. While the games were all one-sided, they furnished much pleasure to the many fans.

The Ramblers and Spencer's have been organized for several weeks, and the result of their practicing together was plainly evident. The Christian church team has played a couple of outside contests, so that these three winning teams had a considerable advantage over the three opposing squads, which were playing their first games of the season.

The Ramblers had an easy victory over the Methodist in the first game. The church team was very ragged as the contest started, owing to its inexperience, but settled down into better work as the game progressed. The score was 18 to 2 at the half ended. Miles for the Ramblers was the high point man, while Hull carried the defensive work, and was responsible for many baskets. Richardson and Zenor were the strongest players on the church team.

The Christian church squad had little difficulty in overcoming the national guard, leading 16 to 5 at half time. The victors made several substitutions near the end of the game. Pruitt and Atterbury made a strong combination for the church offense, while Palm, at center, was a good defensive player. Russell carried most of the heavy work for the guardsmen.

Spencer's played an unusually fast game against the Lions in the third and final contest. Fisher, Hoffman and Rapp worked some beautiful combinations that went for fast scores, while the Lions had a poor defense in the opening part of the contest. Black and Whipple were the leading players for the service club, while Hallmark in the last half led the defense.

The defeated teams, while on the losing end of large scores, indicate possibilities for the future, and with a little practice will be able to make far better showings, it is expected.

The faculty team drew a bye in last night's round, but will play in the series of three games next Wednesday night.

MYRTLE POINT TO BE FIRST FOE OF LOCAL SENIOR FIVE

The Roseburg senior high school basketball team will play its first conference game for the season Friday night when it will meet Myrtle Point here at the senior high school gymnasium. The Roseburg team has been making great progress under the coaching of Hod Turner and is developing very rapidly into a smooth working combination, despite the fact that only one experienced player, Dan Eatler, is on the squad.

The boys last year had a wonderful example of team work in the five-man combination that carried the school through to the district championship, and that lesson has been well learned, so that this year's team, like last season's squad, is expected to stress no individual playing, but rather a combination system that will doubtless be very effective.

The school is expecting a good showing from its basketball players this season. It is urging the loyal support of Roseburg fans in the games to be played at home this season to order that the boys may have the encouragement so necessary to morale and the development of a winning team.

THYE TOO ROUGH; CANTONWINE WINS

PORTLAND, Jan. 8 — Referee Chet Wiles stopped the wrestling bout between Howard Cantonwine and Ted Thye last night and awarded the match to the former Iowa football star on a fall after Thye had spilled Cantonwine several times with his wristlock, finally drawing him out of the ring. They had been at it hammer and tongs for 26 minutes when the bout was stopped and the decision was anything but popular with the crowd.

John Ryke, Chicago heavyweight won over Stanley Pinto, Nebraska when he dropped the latter with an airplane spin after 34 minutes 6 seconds of rough wrestling. Pinto was unable to continue after additional time had been granted for recuperation.

ATHLETIC CLASSES ATTRACT 40 BOYS

Classes in boxing, wrestling and tumbling have attracted more than 40 high school boys, who have signed up for instruction in these classes to be conducted at the Roseburg senior high school starting next Monday. There have been numerous requests made for these sports by the students in the school, and Principal Peter Jensen has arranged to personally conduct the classes in boxing and tumbling, while E. A. Britton, scout executive, will take charge of the wrestling instruction. Several young men outside of school have also made application to join.

A meeting was held Tuesday to discuss the organization of these classes, and a very enthusiastic response was received for the proposal, so that arrangements are going ahead for the instruction. Equipment has been ordered and is expected to be on hand for the first schedules Monday.

HUSKIES EXPECT FOURTH HOOP TITLE

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 8 — The 1931 Pacific coast conference northern division basketball race will start tomorrow night with the University of Oregon meeting the University of Washington at Seattle, and Oregon State college tangling with Washington State college at Pullman. Second games will be played Saturday night.

Washington will start the season with a hope of capturing its fourth successive northern division championship. Washington State college finished in second place last year and has a veteran lineup back for duty this season.

The Washington State - Oregon State series is expected to decide which team will give Washington the most trouble. The Huskies came through 12 pre-season games undefeated and appear on paper as the strongest aggregation in the circuit.

The University of Idaho, the other school in the northern division conference, will swing into action Monday night against Oregon State.

All five teams will play 16 games with the schedule winding up February 28.

INMATES SHOULD PAY FOR KEEP, IS VIEW OF NORBLAD

SALEM, Jan. 8 — Following up a recommendation Governor Norblad has announced he will make in his message and a suggestion made by State Budget Director Kozer several months ago, the state board of control will recommend in its report to the legislature that inmates of certain state institutions, who are financially able to do so, be required to pay for their maintenance.

The board will recommend that a charge of $4.50 a week be assessed against inmates of the state insane hospitals and the state institution for the feeble-minded. It is estimated that revenues from these sources would be about $200,000 a year. In the case of inmates of the insane hospitals who are unable to pay and whose mental affliction is due to the infirmities of old age, it will be recommended that the counties from which they are committed be required to pay at the rate of $4.50 a week. The board proposes to use this means to combat the practice of some county courts of sending their aged indigents to the state hospitals.

Relative to the state tuberculosis hospitals the board will recommend that inmates pay $15 a week for maintenance and medical care, or such part of that amount as they are able to pay.

MILLIONS SPENT FOR OREGON ROADS SHOWN IN REPORT

SALEM, Jan. 8 — The state highway department spent $22,458,536 for road work and in interest and principal on its bonded indebtedness during the period from December 1, 1928, and September 30, 1930, the department's biennial report to the legislature, released yesterday, shows. Of this sum $6,671,893.17 was applied on the principal and interest of bonded indebtedness, leaving nearly $16,000,000 spent on highways in Oregon in 22 months.

The report of the department reveals that during the years 1931 and 1932 the state will have available about $21,000,000 for this department, and this added to the county fund and federal aid, will make available for new construction and betterment alone about $8,000,000 over and above other expenditures on bonded indebtedness, maintenance and completion of present contracts.

The report covers the activities of the department and commission during the past 14 years, since the adoption of the highway program in 1917. The total mileage in the system to date is 4,359, of which 4,019 miles are improved and 340 unimproved. During the 14 years the department has spent $141,992,545.74 on this program. The report made no recommendations for legislative action.

Of all the highways in the state one, the Pacific Westside highway, is considered completed.

Aiding Factor Cited

The state engineer's report, embodied in that of the highway department, stated that greater progress in highway work in recent years was made possible by two factors: the increase in motor vehicle license fees and increase in federal aid. The federal aid added $800,000 increase during 1930, the engineer stated.

The highway engineer, in estimating the amount of funds available during the next two years, and what expenditures are required, stated that there will be a balance of approximately $2,000,000 in the highway fund. To this will be added about $8,700,000 accrued from motor license fees, $13,300,000 from the gasoline tax, $600,000 motor transportation fees, $160,000 from other sources, making an estimated total of $24,760,000.
