W. C. T. U. Hold Fine Meeting in Club Rooms on Wednesday Afternoon

The W. C. T. U. met in the Women's club rooms on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. E. Willis, president in charge. Mrs. H. R. Ferguson conducted the devotionals taking as the scripture lesson, the 15th chapter of John.

Mrs. G. W. Young reported that she sent several packages to the Children's Farm home in Corvallis, which contained many useful articles and toys for the children there.

Mrs. Ferguson read a letter from the National W. C. T. U. on "What Brought Prohibition." "The Wickersham commission answers the question. The brewer, the distiller and the saloon-keeper and the way they corrupted state and city governments; the police and society at large; admirably the greatest achievement of the 18th amendment has been the abolition of the saloon," reads the report.

Plans were made for the next meeting to be held on February 18th. It was decided to combine the Victory day and Frances E. Willard Memorial day by an all day meeting to be held in the Christian church on that date. The Women's club rooms are very improved since they were remodelled. The W. C. T. U. members state that they are happy over the changes made and that the surroundings have been made both attractive and comfortable and that they enjoy having it for a meeting place.

Perkins Twins Celebrate Fifth Birthday Anniversary With Party on Friday

A delightful children's party of the past week occurred when Miss Julia Ellen and Miss Caroline Anne, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Perkins, celebrated their fifth birthday anniversary at the home of their parents at the corner of Stephens and Mosher streets. The party was held from two until four with the Heinline kindergarten pupils as guests of the day.

A hunting butterflies contest was won by Harold Casey and Peggy Smith won the Peter Rabbit contest. Games, such as ring-around-the-rosy, London bridge, drop the handkerchief and many others that children delight in playing, were enjoyed. Fishing for prizes in a fish pond was one of the most enjoyable features of the afternoon.

Many lovely gifts were brought to the twins by their guests. These were placed in two baskets. The guests formed a circle and sat down, while the twins sat in the center of the circle and opened the gifts so that all could see and enjoy them.

The birthday table was a fairyland for the children. The color-scheme was carried out in lavender and pink with caps, favors, place cards and everything pleasing to their eyes. Two large birthday cakes, bearing five candles each, were placed on the table and served with the refreshments.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Julia Ellen and Miss Caroline Anne, honor guests, Miss Lou Helen Strange, Miss Barbara May Coleman, Miss Eleanor Miceli, Miss Barbara May Turner, Miss Peggy Smith, Tommy Lockwood, Harold Casey, Leland Wimberly and Bobby Elliott.

The party was immensely enjoyed by the children and one that will long be remembered by all.
