'CHARLEY'S AUNT' AT INDIAN TODAY

"Charley's Aunt," the farce of Oxford university life, is this week's attraction at the Indian theatre. Today and Saturday. It has been acclaimed by the press and public wherever it has played. The reason for the enthusiastic acceptance of this farce is that it is a long succession of laughs. Four hundred and twenty-two sure fire laughs have been counted. The simple, hearty fun that follows on the wild students' trick of turning a chum into an old lady so that their sweethearts should be encouraged to visit them under "protection" convulses audiences everywhere.

Great care was lavished in bringing this play by Brandon Thomas to the screen. The role in itself was such a riot that one of the most outstanding comedians on the screen today had to be chosen for its portrayal. It is none other than Charles Ruggles, who is in a class by himself so far as sophisticated comic portrayals are concerned. It is a difficult role indeed, and required unusual ability.

But Charley Ruggles is peculiarly adapted to the delineation of difficult roles. He is a veteran star of musical comedy. His picture work includes roles in such successful attractions as "Gentlemen of the Press," "The Lady Lies" and "Young Man of Manhattan." It is safe to predict that his performance in "Charley's Aunt" will go down in red letters in motion picture history.

In the cast with him are June Collyer, Flora Sheffield, Doris Lloyd, Hugh Williams, Rodney Lennon and Halliwell Hobbes. Al Christie, a master hand in the direction of comedy, handled the production.
