TODAY'S MARKETS

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, March 21.—Wholesale butter and egg markets opened steady at unchanged quotations today. Butter receipts were moderate to light with a good call reported but firm with predictions of a rise ed for all grades.

Egg market was not only steady in quotations circulating. Receipts, while quite liberal, were readily taken up due to active storage demand which in some quarters were reported offering premiums for storage quality eggs.

Country dressed meats and poultry markets were steady.

Conditions in the fresh fruit and vegetable trade were reported by government market news service as follows:

Asparagus declined another cent, with best green stock selling to retailers at 14-15c.

Oversupplies of California spinach have lowered prices to $1.25 per lettuce crate, or less.

Rhubarb supplies were light today, with local stock in 20-in. boxes selling at $1.35-1.50.

Wool Trading Widens

BOSTON, March 21.—The Commercial Bulletin says today:

"There is a broader movement in wool. Quarter-bloods are in fairly good demand, while wools continue to move well. Prices are firm on all descriptions and slightly dearer on scoured wools. The tendency of prices is generally against the buyer.

"The foreign markets have shown a further advance this week. London is practically five per cent up from the opening rates and the primary markets are distinctly higher on fine and medium wools.

"Informal openings of piecegoods for the new heavyweight season have been made by leading factors at 7½ to 10 per cent reduction over last season's prices on comparable goods. Apparently, the new price levels are attractive to buyers.

"In the west, a little wool is moving in southern California, southern Idaho and Arizona, at about the parity of prices which has been current in the earlier sales in Arizona, for the finer wools.

"Mohair is still rather slow since the movement of some 3½ million pounds of hair in Texas, recently, partly to dealers and partly to mills."

DIPHTHERIA STILL GRIPS PT. BARROW

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

POINT BARROW, Alaska, March 21 — Although outbreaks are fewer, the diphtheria epidemic that has held this village in its grip for more than two weeks still was raging here while efforts were being made to obtain food and hospital supplies from outlying trading posts.

Persons as far inland as 40 to 70 miles are believed to have been exposed. The total number of cases here exceeds 39, about the number stricken in the Nome epidemic in 1924, when antitoxin was rushed overland by relay dog teams from Fairbanks. No deaths have occurred here, however. Two supplies of serum have been brought here from Fairbanks by airplane and enough is believed to be on hand to control the disease, unless it spreads to the east.

U. S. LIBERALS TO LAUNCH NEWSPAPER

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The Victor L. Berger national foundation is preparing to launch a drive next month for a $100,000 fund as a nucleus for a national chain of daily newspapers for "the promulgation of liberal thought and public welfare."

Marx Lewis, executive director of the foundation, said the program called for a "national edition" of the Milwaukee Leader, followed by publication in that city of local editions for Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland to be delivered by airplane.

"What will be the political affiliation of the newspapers I cannot say definitely," Lewis added, "but it is likely they will advocate a third party in 1932—as we have always done."

Professor John Dewey of Columbia university, whose third party suggestion recently was declined by Senator Norris of Nebraska, is one of the leaders of the foundation. Associated with him are Clarence Darrow, Jane Addams, President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin, Upton Sinclair and Elizabeth Gilman of Baltimore.

WE HAVE THE SOLDIERS HOME

Business revival is at hand. I want to sell my tire shop to some one with lots of pep and ambition. He can make money. I have, and want to retire to virgin wild woods, where I have bought some mining claims on Graves creek. Will prospect, fish and hunt, where I can hear the lonesome howl of the coyote on barren hilltops, the hoot owl hoot, the panther scream and buck deer snort. Am not kidding you. If you want a good business, see Nick Carter, 439 N. Jackson St., Roseburg, Oregon.—Adv.

I will not be responsible for bills contracted other than by myself.

They Helped Get the Veterans Home!

But We Will Help Pay For It!

The location of the new veterans' home at Roseburg will provide a lot of employment and a market for a considerable amount of Douglas County products, BUT the money comes from taxes, and you must help pay them.

We are not kicking about that, the boys deserve all they get.

We are just pointing out that conditions are requiring more careful figuring of costs and expenses than ever before.

That being the case it is only good business for you to patronize the firms that are helping you to meet those conditions.

We are selling goods at the lowest possible price consistent with business safety, and if we can sell more, we can make still lower prices.

If you want lower prices, trade with us, and call for the products of the firms we represent.

If you don't believe that we (and by we, we mean the Farm Bureau Exchange and the folks who buy from us) are responsible for lower prices, ask yourself why 9-39 Keystone fence sells for 34c a rod at Roseburg, 35c at Eugene, 36c at McMinnville, 37c at Oregon City, 38c at Forest Grove, and 46c at Klamath Falls.

Ask yourself why the Poultry Producers are getting $2.18 a sack for Milk Laying Mash at Portland, and you are paying $2.15 here, or $2.03 for plain mash and you can buy it here for $1.85.

If you are honest with yourself you will have to admit there is only one answer.

The concentrated buying power of a lot of folks through the Farm Bureau Exchange.

Are you going to help lower prices for what you buy, or hinder them?
If you want to help, buy from your own business. If you want to hinder, buy somewhere else.

POEM FOR THE DAY

By LOUIS ALBERT BANKS

KEEP THE SOUL FREE

Here is a memorable sentence by John Stuart Mill: "The state which dwarfs its men in order that they may be docile instruments in its hands, even for beneficial purposes, will find that with small men no great things can really be accomplished, and that the perfection of machinery to which it has sacrificed everything will in the end avail it nothing for want of the vital power which it has preferred to banish."

Whate'er you dwarf, let men go free—
They will not grow in slavery;
No bondage tyrant ever found
So bad as where the mind is bound.
Men must be free to talk and think—
Unfettered press where minds may drink,
Have frank discussion of their woes,
Have fullest chance to meet their foes.

No foulness can withstand the light—
Publicity is dynamite.
The finest test for any dream
Is freest chance to blow off steam;
If men have freedom in their talk,
They'll be more careful of their walk;
And there's a pressure in the mass
That forces up its guiding class.

Such freedom gives men chance to grow,
Gives mental food to learn and know.
Where men are free to search and find,
There is development of mind;
In such a wholesome atmosphere,
The soul, expanding, casts off fear;
There men may grow to giant size
And lead the race in pastures wise.

This human life's no easy road—
Requires both discipline and goad;
But we must dare its friction, strife,
If we would have abundant life.
The only way to make men great,
Make them an honor to the state,
Is in a free and sunlit air
Where all in government may share.
