"IT'S THE COFFEE!"

One of the cleanest, snappiest and most worthy added features of the day is "KELLEY'S AD SHOW" idea coming to Hunt's Indian Theatre Tuesday night, April 21st, the first of which is called the "Dining Room Idea."

The ad show consists of merchandise gifts starting with a walnut dining room set consisting of a table, four chairs and buffet, silverware, set of china, full set of linen, stem ware, electric clock, waffle iron, toaster and others too numerous to mention to be given away to those attending the theatre Tuesday evening. The merchandise is all of first class quality and something that we would all be proud to own. It is on display in the Roseburg Furniture Store window and is being sponsored by Hunt's Indian Theatre and some of Roseburg's leading merchants. Merchandise coupons can be obtained from any local merchant advertising on this page.

In addition to these valuable and useful gifts you will see Will Rogers, the world's best known man, the screen's greatest personality in the brightest piece of humor ever presented, Mark Twain's "Connecticut Yankee." It's guaranteed entertainment for the whole family, the kiddies, the flappers and their boy friends, the young married couple, the middle-aged parents and the gray headed folks.

MARK TWAIN'S

"A Connecticut Yankee"

You have laughed at Rogers before, but here comes his wittiest masterpiece—brought up to date with his latest gags on prohibition, radio broadcasting, midget automobiles, the business depression and politics.
