

HAUPTMANN TELLS MOTHER ALL O. K.

KAMENZ, Germany, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann assured his 70-year old mother today that "all will be well."

Frau Pauline Hauptmann received this word in a letter from her son, dated Dec. 12 and sent from the Trenton, N. J. prison where the convicted slayer of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby has been condemned to die some time during the coming week.

Hauptmann assured her that a "clear conscience" told him the new year would bring them both luck.

"Don't think I am a broken man," he wrote. "My clear conscience tells me all will and must go well. The decision of the high court cannot change my belief."

"An inner voice tells me I'll return to mine, and see happy days again. The pretty lie, factory-built against me in order to sentence somebody, will smash some day."

Hauptmann urged the aged woman, who is praying daily as a time for her son's death approaches:

"Dear Mother, I wish you and all the good to pray to God that our prayers will be heard. I am happy that I can tell you my conscience is clear and I have not deserved this suffering."

"So, mother dear, don't lose courage. I pray with you that the new year will bring all of us luck in abundance, especially you. Mother dear, I write this letter in the firm conviction that all will be well."

Frau Hauptmann, who sent a plea to Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, Dec. 16, asking commutation of her son's death sentence, said she has received no answer.

M'LAGLEN GIVES AID TO TED KEY

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Discredited in college, and quickly forgotten by the sports world, Ted Key, the Texas football player, has found a helping hand in Hollywood. It was learned today.

Through the efforts of Victor McLaglen, movie star, Key has two jobs—working in pictures, and playing semi-professional football.

"Sure, I'm trying to take care of him," McLaglen said. "I don't care much what they said about him after that thing happened. I think he's got the stuff, and if I can do anything about it, he's still going to get that college education."

Key was ruled out of the football team at the University of California at Los Angeles, last November, when it was discovered he had enrolled under an assumed name, after having played football several years ago, at the Texas School of Mines.

When he left the institution, he was without funds.

McLaglen said he communicated with Key and offered him a post on the "lighthorse" football team. Later, he arranged to have the athlete get extra-work in the movies.

Key was recognized on the set of "Under Two Flags," in the uniform of a foreign legionnaire today.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS' CAGE ADVOCATED

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., Jan. 7.—(AP)—A movable, open-front "cage" for alcoholic drivers was suggested today by Sheriff J. R. Devitt.

The officer said his jail was being overcrowded by persons convicted of driving while intoxicated. He has seven serving terms and the toll probably will mount.

"The cage could be moved and the most persistent of the drunken driving violators would be placed on public view," Sheriff Devitt declared.

GARBO BATTLING WITH BAD THROAT

LONDON, Jan. 7.—(AP)—An exchange telegraph dispatch from Stockholm said today that Greta Garbo, who had been staying at a villa near Nykoping, was reported ill for the past six weeks with a serious throat infection.

Her condition at one time, the dispatch asserted, was "rather critical" but she now has been able to leave her bed. The report added that extreme caution is still necessary and that it is uncertain when the actress will be able to return to Hollywood.
