Today's Pattern

by Anne Adams

"I've tried everything," exclaims the forty-eight, who'd like to look as slim and trim as her younger sister. Anne Adams steps to the fore with a suggestion—"dress off" those extra pounds so easily. She follows up her contention with this charmingly styled frock. There's a flowing line from sleeve to yoke that's a ready dispenser of too much poundage in any one area, and a soft concealing jabot to detract from a too heavy bust. How becoming—the simple V neckline, and sleeves that drop to a puff, making one's waist look slimmer by comparison! Height-giving skirt seams create an illusion of slenderness through the hips. Choose a novelty or triple sheer crepe.

Pattern 2643 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 4 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included. Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. STATE SIZE. Send for OUR SPRING PATTERN BOOK! It's a thrifty guide to clothes with the new 1936 look. Easy-to-make designs for matrons, misses and children, for daytime and evening, work and play. ## HOFFMAN DEFIES THREATS OF OUSTER er proudly called 'Jersey Justice' and I hope that real and full justice will finally be done in this case. A stay of comparatively few days can not defeat that end."

Resentment Expected. The text of the statement follows: The following comment was made today by Governor Hoffman in connection with the demand of his impeachment, made by the Trenton Times:

"I expected it. It is typical of the editorial abuse I have received since November, 1934, when I committed the unpardonable sin of being elected, when the Trenton Times and several other New Jersey newspapers, said that I couldn't."

"If impeachment is the price that must be paid for daring to follow the dictates of my own conscience, I am ready to pay it. A good investigation of the Lindbergh case might be a healthy thing. "If any investigation is started, I will not run away."

"In granting a reprieve to Bruno Richard Hauptmann, I exercised a right that the framers of the constitution gave to the governors of New Jersey—an act of executive clemency that has been exercised since time immemorial by many of my distinguished predecessors in office. It is never exercised until persons condemned to die have exhausted their rights in the courts of New Jersey."

"I have never expressed an opinion upon the guilt or innocence of Hauptmann. I do, however, share with hundreds of thousands of our people the doubt as to the value of the evidence that placed him in the Lindbergh nursery on the night of the crime; I do wonder what part passion and prejudice played in the conviction of a man who was previously tried and convicted in the columns of many of our newspapers. I do, on the basis of evidence that is in my hands, question the truthfulness and mental competency of some of the chief witnesses for the state; I do doubt that this crime could have been committed by any one man, and I am worried about the eagerness of some of our law-enforcement agencies to bring about the death of this one man so that the books may be closed in the thought that another great crime mystery has been successfully solved—an eagerness that is reflected in the order given to the banks to no longer bother about looking at the balance of the ransom money which approximately thirty thousand dollars was still in circulation. "No Apology for Reprieve. "I make no apology for granting a reprieve in this case. During this period we may calmly consider some of the baffling phases of the crime and the subsequent trial of Hauptmann. I intend to give to the public, in due course, my reasons for entertaining the doubts that I have expressed and I intend to direct the state police to continue their search for any other person or persons involved in the crime. Colonel Lindbergh, Colonel Schwarzkopf, and many others have repeatedly expressed the opinion that the crime was perpetrated by more than one person and there is no justification now for abandoning that belief.

"In the meantime, Hauptmann is not being turned loose. He will remain safely in custody in the death house in the New Jersey state prison. In order to set at rest many rumors concerning his conduct, I say that, to the best of my knowledge, he has made no confession and has offered to make none.

"In my presence and in the presence of many witnesses, Sid Boehm of the New York Evening Journal stated that his paper had offered Hauptmann $75,000, to be left to his widow and his child, for an exclusive confession. This offer was rejected. Likewise, when Hauptmann was told that his only chance to save his life was to go before the board of pardons, say 'I am guilty,' and throw himself upon the mercy of the court, he spurned this opportunity.

"I am moved by no maudlin sentiment on this matter. I am the father of three children; I look upon the kidnapping as the most dastardly of crimes and I shared the horrors that struck the hearts of people throughout the world after the murder of the Lindbergh baby. "I am interested in the preservation of that thing we have proudly called 'Jersey Justice' and I hope that real and full justice will finally be done in this case. A stay of comparatively few days can not defeat that end.

"Impeachment proceedings represent only one of the threats levelled at me if I elected to follow my own sense of duty in this matter. I do not fear them, but I ask that the charges be heard in the halls of the legislature, as the constitution provides, and not in the biased editorial columns of a few New Jersey newspapers. The constitution protects, and rightfully so, the 'freedom of the press,' but neither the constitution nor the statutes of the state protects public officials from the freedom of the 'yellow press.'"

Wilentz "Regrets"

The attorney general replied: "We realize how you have been persecuted and regret the physical and mental anguish that you have suffered. There is no need for any change in your plans. "I did not consent to the reprieve, but I do not conceive it my duty to challenge the action of the chief executive. I regret the course taken by the governor only because it may be construed as a reflection upon the state, the state's witnesses, the police authorities of the several states and of the nation, who participated in gathering and presenting the evidence. The governor has assigned no reason for granting the reprieve. No new evidence has been called to my attention by the governor or defense counsel."

Bruno's Wife Happy

Mrs. Anna Hauptmann visited her husband in the death house today, and when she came out she was smiling happily. "We shall all soon be together again," she said, "and we'll be very happy."

Col. Mark O. Kimberling, warden, said he was convinced Hauptmann would not change the story he insists is the truth. The editorial which drew the fire of Governor Hoffman today began: "Impeach Hoffman. "Governor Harold G. Hoffman has sacrificed all moral and legal right to serve as chief executive of New Jersey. He should be impeached and thrown out of office."

The newspapers are owned by the sons of the late James Kerney, a biographer of Woodrow Wilson, who left the New Jersey governorship to become president of the United States. Mr. Kerney was once a lay member of the court of errors and appeals, which refused Hauptmann a new trial, and of the court of pardons.

His son, James Kerney, Jr., one of the publishers, was recently named federal jury commissioner in New Jersey. The newspapers are politically independent.

Attorney General Wilentz, who criticized the governor's course as to the reprieve, is the man who predicted the Hauptmann prosecution. He is a democrat and a political foe of the governor, a republican.

BRUNO LAWYERS HIRED BY MAGAZINE FOR "JUSTICE"

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 — Paul G. Clancy, editor of the magazine American Astrology, announced today he and his associates had hired the Washington constitutional lawyers, Neil Burkishaw and Nugent Dodds, to defend Bruno Richard Hauptmann. "We hired them," Clancy said, "to establish justice."

"We are going to this expense and trouble because we do not feel that Hauptmann got a fair trial. "It would be wrong to condemn the prosecution because their job was to secure conviction. Hauptmann just didn't get a break."

Dodds and Burkishaw prepared and argued Hauptmann's recent appeals to the federal district court in Trenton, N. J., and the U. S. supreme court.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Jan. 17 — Dr. John P. (Jasie) Condon, ransom intermediary in the Lindbergh kidnapping case, advised Attorney General David T. Wilentz today that he would return immediately from Panama "if you wish me to."

HAUPTMANN'S MOTHER IS GLADDEN BY REPRIEVE KAMENZ, Germany, Jan. 17 — Frau Pauline Hauptmann believes now that "all will be well."

Gladdened by the news of the 30-day reprieve for her son, she echoed today that same phrase that Bruno Richard Hauptmann wrote to her recently from the Trenton, N. J., prison where he was to have died tonight for the slaying of the kidnapped Lindbergh baby. "Just as the son had written, the 70-year old mother declared, "Now I believe—all will be well."

Mob Villa's Daughter

Celia Villa, daughter of the late Pancho Villa, once terror of Mexico, breathed a sigh of relief when she got back to New York after a visit to her native Mexico. Her vacation was disturbed by threats, anonymous letters and turbulent events reflecting the career of her father. On arrival at Balbuena airport she was mobbed by thousands who cheered her appearance.

Asks Church Reunion

Rev. Dr. Franklin Joiner of Philadelphia, is chairman of American committee of Church Unity Octave Council, which addressed communication to Episcopalians suggesting that a reunion of denominations was necessary to offset foes of Christianity.

to shine upon us. "Now I am sure my son's innocence will be proved, and my unhappy boy will be happy once more." "The mother sent this telegram to Hauptmann: "Dear Richard, I am more than happy that our prayers have been answered. All will be well. Thy mother."
