Death Hazards Put Into New Type of Catfishing

PALMERS, Tex., Jan. 24.—(AP)—Barefoot fishing is Texas' newest winter sport, it's called catfishing. Equipment required: A sharp bay hook, indifference to pneumonia, water moccasins and drowning. To grabble, one wades barefoot into a stream, feeling with the toes along rocks and submerged logs for giant catfish, dozing on the bottom. When the fish is found, the fisherman dives after him with the hook—and the battle is on. The fish often wins. One sportsman made the error of tying his hook to his wrist and then sticking it into a 50-pound catfish. The big fish dragged the bigger one into a deep hole in the Navasota river but companions of the latter dragged them both out.

RECORD REUNION OF LEGION FORECAST

Never before and never again will records of Roseburg witness such a gathering as the state American Legion convention which will be held here in August. Guy Gordon, speaking for the convention commission told members of the Roseburg Rotary club yesterday. The speaker described the activities of a state Legion convention.

Dexter Rice responded for the club stating that Rotarians would do their part to assure the Legionnaires a good time while here.

Lester Wimberly, postmaster, spoke briefly explaining the request recently made that outgoing mail be placed in city boxes or at the postoffice instead of in the depot mail boxes. The volume of mail in the depot boxes is too great for efficient handling, he said, and users run risk of loss or damage due to the fact that the depot boxes often are filled to overflowing with mail left on top.

Cashing of Vets' Bonus Will Launch Flood of Money Into Business Channels of U. S.

Responses to Questionnaires Among Legion Posts Disclose Plans for Home Building, Buying of Cars, Farm Outfits, Clothes and Securities, and Payment of Debts.

Every conceivable line of business will share in the "pump priming" that payment of the adjusted service certificates of World War veterans will bring about, according to a survey completed by the American Legion Monthly.

Merchants and retailers throughout the country will receive a total payment of $23,615,783.89 from 1,897,835 veterans on depression-incurred debts and bills. This sum represents 21.965 per cent of the total bonus payment. The survey shows that 53.94 per cent of the veterans receiving payment will apply at least part of the amount on settlement of their old accounts.

The study of expenditure of bonus money was made by The American Legion Monthly. It sent 25 questionnaires to each of the more than 11,000 posts of the American Legion where they were passed out at random to members who filled the mount. The envelopes returning the questionnaires were turned over unopened to George S. Olive and Co., certified public accountants of Indianapolis, by whom the questionnaires were counted, audited and projected. The auditors projected the percentages to the total number of certificates outstanding to determine the value of expenditure for each item specified.

Returns were received from every state in the union in approximate proportion to the membership of the Legion in such state.

In the survey the auditors found the average amount to be received by members of the American Legion was $637.77.

Homes to Be Built

The survey reveals that 4.56 per cent of the veterans will build new houses on which they will make initial payments of $92,451,003.81, or 4.56 per cent of the entire bonus paid by the government. Based on an average cost of $4,000 per house, this means that from their private funds veterans will add the staggering total of $48,694,997 to make a total expenditure of $641,056,000 in new house construction. In addition to this, the building industry will benefit by the expenditure of $133,341,613 for the repair of the homes of 677,728 veterans.

The survey further reveals that 58,089 veterans will spend on an

NEW REMEDY FOR ANEMIA ANNOUNCED

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—(AP)—A new method of treating pernicious anemia, based on a theory that the disease is caused by a lack of a single unknown substance in the gastric juices, was announced today by Dr. E. A. Greenston, of Montreal, Can.

It consisted of preparations of gastric juice and animal stomach linings from which was removed their natural pepsin, the digestive agent which Dr. Greenston said aided the action of the anti-pernicious anemia substance.

The identity of this substance is as yet undetermined. Dr. Greenston said in the Journal of the American Medical Association, it has been variously described in the past as a hormone and an enzyme.

Dr. Greenston described his treatment, which he said could be administered by mouth by hypodermic injection, as a simplification of one evolved earlier by Dr. W. B. Castle, notable experimenter in this field.

Castle held that nature prevented pernicious anemia normally through a substance secreted by the gastric juices and from the stomach walls. He contended it was necessary for this substance to combine with another, probably a protein, to be effective.

His treatment therefore consisted of a preparation of gastric juices and ground beef.

Dr. Greenston said his experiments showed that untreated gastric juices were ineffective because the pepsin counteracted the anti-pernicious anemia agent. The beef protein used by cattle combined with the pepsin and thus removed it, he declared.

Dog Freezes Upright

MANCHESTER, Iowa, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Other cities may claim a lower cold spell temperature than Manchester's 25 below, but residents defy them to match this: A dog, frozen to death standing up, was found at the fairgrounds. The cold apparently killed the animal as he walked through the snow.
