University Selects Desert Queen

Something different in the way of a campus beauty contest was staged at University of Arizona at Tucson where Edith McMahon, home town co-ed, was chosen desert queen, crowned with a teganon sash and presented with a bouquet of desert wildflowers. Her throne was not a cactus, however.

VISITS HERE

MRS. J. S. HORNER
Mrs. J. S. Horner, formerly of Roseburg, and now a resident of Corvallis, was the guest of honor at the D. A. R. meeting Monday evening at the Woman's club, when a program was sponsored honoring the memory of the late Dr. Horner.

The program was in charge of Mrs. F. H. Churchill and opened by singing America with Mrs. Horner Grow at the piano; salute to the flag led by Mrs. Grant Bales. The short business session, in charge of the president, Mrs. Roy Entler, was followed by Mrs. Churchill calling on Mrs. C. W. Hunt for a short address on the work accomplished by Dr. Horner while residing in Roseburg.

This was followed by a group of solos by Mrs. J. L. Gault of Corvallis, also formerly of Roseburg. Mrs. Gault accompanied the numbers, which included "The Star" by Rogers; "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," by Cadman; "The Answer," by Terry, and encore, "Grandma," by Maech, and then by special request, "Smilin' Through," by Penne. Dr. Charles A. Edwards gave the address of the evening on the life of Dr. Horner. His talk was beautifully given and was greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the large attendance. Mrs. Horner very graciously followed with a short talk telling of the museum started at Corvallis by Dr. Horner in 1928 and which at the present time is valued at half a million dollars.

A social hour followed and refreshments were served by Mrs. W. M. Campbell, chairman, Mrs. L. E. Goodhour and Mrs. Roy Entler.
Mrs. Horner and Mrs. Gault were house guests of Mrs. F. H. Churchill at her home on East Cass street from Friday until Wednesday, when they returned to their homes in Corvallis. During their stay here they visited numerous friends.
Sunday afternoon Mrs. Horner, Mrs. Gault, Mrs. Churchill and Mrs. W. M. Campbell visited Mrs. W. C. Winston at Winston. Mrs. L. Kohlhaas, Sr., entertained Mrs. Horner, Mrs. Gault and Mrs. Churchill at tea at her home on Military avenue. The tea table was beautifully appointed for the occasion. That evening Mrs. Horner, Mrs. Gault and Mrs. Churchill were guests at Mrs. George Sewell and her sister, Miss Jennette Buick, on Spruce street.

Novel Fabrics Mark New Summer Fashions

Velvet will go to the beaches this summer and wool to the ballroom for designers have turned the fashion world topsy-turvy and decreed bathing suits in the new wash velvet and evening gowns of a sheer wool which is as pliable as chiffon. One of the smart new beach suits is shown at the left, a red-inkote coat and play suit of printed linen to match. An interesting example of the shirtwaist and skirt influence appears at the right. The blouse is of pleated canary yellow chiffon and the skirt of gray crepe. White is favored by many stylists for resort wear, the suit modeled by the feminine Roman fan, center, being in white with pipings of Roman striped silk. Novel fabrics are also featured in the new creations, which are also distinguished by their unusual color combinations.

U. S. V. HOSPITAL

By OTTILIA K. ASHTON.
We surely have been favored with many visitors lately and the veterans are happy to see them any time. Tuesday of last week members of the Russian American Legion auxiliary visited the hospital. They presented Mrs. Reigel with a gift of cash to be used for the comfort and pleasure of the men when the new recreational building is opened.
Mrs. Ward Cummings of the D. A. V. auxiliary advised us that they had ordered a year's subscription to "Bridge World" for our library. The boys know their bridge pretty well now but with the help of this magazine just try and get into a bridge argument.
Thursday of this week we were pleased to have as our visitors Mrs. Hazel Walters, state president of the V. F. W. auxiliary and her chief of staff, Mrs. Cecile Porter. Mrs. Porter is also a national council member.
Seven pillows and fourteen covers were received this week from the V. F. W. auxiliary of Silverton, Oregon. These pillows are used in the lounging chairs of the solarium and do help considerably to ward the comfort of the patients.
The men are very busy making the American Legion poppies these days in fact they are so busy they claim the days are hardly long enough.
We have received the most beautiful bridge lamp for the Recreational building from the American Legion auxiliary of Corvallis, Oregon. The bronze base has engraved upon it "Corvallis Unit, American Legion Auxiliary."
