MAHAN, CAMPBELL, GANGSTERS, NABBED

coast and into the northwest. Death of two Puyallup, Wash., police officers within a month after the kidnaping was laid to him by some officers, and he was suspect ed of other crimes committed since the chase began.

"G men" took up the Mahan trail in earnest when Harmon Metz Waley and Margaret, his wife, were captured in Salt Lake City, Utah. Their confession implicated the former blacksmith and auto mechanic. Waley is serving a long term in Alcatraz island, Calif. penitentiary and his wife is locked up with other gangster "molls" in the federal jail at Milan, Mich.

Shortly after the Waleys confessed, a Butte, Mont., police officer saw Mahan flee from his parked green sedan when the officer approached. Mahan escaped, but $15,000 of the ransom bills were found in the car. Finding of the "hideout" house and cache of $90,700 of the ransom money in historic Immigration canyon, five miles from Salt Lake City, Utah, also followed the Waley confession.

Mahan, like Waley, previously had served two prison sentences and was released on parole each time. He had been sentenced to 20 years in Idaho state penitentiary at Boise on Sept. 24, 1927. Before that he was sentenced to Deer Lodge penitentiary in Montana for grand larceny and was paroled after serving little more than a year of his 2 to 4 year term.

CLEVELAND, May 7.—(AP) — J. Edgar Hoover, federal bureau of investigation chief, announced here that Harry Campbell, last of the Alvin Karpis gang, a woman described as his wife, and Sam Cokar, a minor gangland figure, were captured by federal agents early today at Toledo, Ohio.

Hoover said the capture was effected without the firing of a shot. Campbell was taken to St. Paul, Minn., by airplane to face charges in the Edward Bremer kidnaping, he said.

Campbell showed what Hoover termed a "little resistance" when the agents apprehended him, Hoover said. "We have the last of the Karpis gang," Hoover said. Federal men surprised Campbell and the woman in a Toledo apartment.

On Campbell's person, the agents found a .45 calibre revolver and six clips of shells, Hoover said. Agents said the girl claimed to have married Campbell at Bowling Green, O., in 1935. She gave her age as 19 years.

Hoover said that when Karpis and other members of the former Barker-Karpis gang escaped from a trap here in 1934 "they were tipped off by two Cleveland politicians and we are now investigating every detail of this angle."

Faces, Fingers Altered

The bureau chief said members of the Karpis gang had face lifting and fingerprint operations performed by a Cleveland surgeon. "That doctor probably is dead now," Hoover said. "We have reason to believe he was killed after performing the operations. We believe his body was dumped into Lake Erie."

Hoover said that Campbell was married under the name of "Robert Miller" and that his wife did not know anything of his criminal career. She probably will be released, he said.

Hoover said Cokar probably will be held for Oklahoma authorities as a parole violator, where an unfinished 30-year sentence for bank robbery still stands against him. Campbell's capture came less than a week after that of Karpis, who bore the label of "public enemy No. 1." Karpis was taken in similar manner without gunfire in a fashionable New Orleans residential district.

Escape Recalled

Karpis became known nationally after federal agents killed Kate "Ma" Barker and her son, Fred, in a gun battle in Florida. Campbell and Karpis fled north in a stolen automobile, shot their way out of an Atlantic City hotel in a battle with police and escaped to the middle west after abducting a Pennsylvania doctor to obtain his automobile. Campbell was charged, together with Karpis and Fred Hunter, taken with the former in New Orleans, with a $46,000 machine gun mail train robbery last Nov. 7 at Garrettsville, O.

The federal men surrounded the two-story apartment building where Campbell was hiding out. Hoover refused to say how many men were in the raiding party. Campbell and his wife were seized as they emerged from the building, just at daybreak. Campbell scuffled slightly but was covered and overpowered, Hoover said.

Cokar, 40, was taken a half hour later at another hideout not far away.
