HOW'S YOUR STOMACH?

WHEN your stomach gives trouble, with gas or "sour risings," why not try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It stimulates the appetite, improves the action of the stomach and makes the food digest better. Mrs. Edward De-Clark of 240 R. Ave., Anacortes, Wash., has this to say: "I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, when I had a very bad stomach and my condition seemed hopeless. A few bottles of the 'Discovery' cured these disorders. I was able to eat again. I have great relief in Dr. Pierce's 'Discovery' for all stomach troubles." (See new! OREGON EVENTS FLASHED FROM WIRE SERVICE

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—(AP)—The Multnomah civic club went on record opposing the averaging of power rates for the Bonneville, Boulder and Grand Coulee projects. The report of the power committee of the club suggests a Pacific northwest power agency, advocates use of Bonneville power for winter house heating and summer irrigation, and urges sale of power to heavy industries on navigable water at the lowest possible cost.

BEND, Ore., May 22.—(AP)—Twenty members of a track-laying crew escaped injury near here when they jumped from a fast-moving work train which plumed down-grade out of control during a sheet storm. The wheels failed to hold. The train jumped the tracks, the locomotive plunging over an embankment. The equipment was badly damaged.

HELEN HAYES WINS TOP DRAMA MEDAL

NEW YORK, May 22.—(AP)—Helen Hayes, who is playing the role of Queen Victoria on Broadway in the drama, "Victoria Regina" was announced winner today of the medal awarded annually by the Drama League of New York for the most distinguished performance of the year.

U. S. POLITICAL OBSERVATIONS
By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington.)

The closing days of the congressional session are developing some interesting signs of independent thinking on Capitol Hill. It can be said that President Roosevelt's leadership has disappeared, nor does it ever appear that he will lose many, if any, of the remaining major legislative battles of the session.

What has happened with respect to the tax bill and other things is notable chiefly for what it may mean in the more distant future, should Mr. Roosevelt be reelected. A president serving a first term and one serving a second term are two entirely different figures in politics. It is not uncommon for congress to take the ball away from a chief executive if he knows will not come up again as a candidate. That happened to Theodore Roosevelt and to Woodrow Wilson.

A tendency toward congressional initiative is apparent in the Byrd success of the possibility of governmental reorganization; one outcome might be a wholesale scaling down of the alphabet agencies. On the basis of this move comes a lame proposal to make all the spending agencies answerable to congress, in detail, after the middle of 1937.

The whole future of history-making at Washington may depend on the extent and persistence of this tendency in the congressional session which follows this year's election.

London Withholds Fire
Word comes from the London camp that the governor of Kansas has said all he intends to say before the Cleveland convention, except perhaps for one short speech touching but lightly on political issues.

Nevertheless it is the view of some of his friends that the quietude of his campaign thus far hardly forecasts what he will do if nominated.

Some who know him best believe he could be a highly vocal nominee. They argue that, not having declared himself an active candidate, he has felt no responsibility for speaking out. Should he formally declare the spokesman of the republican party, however, he would assume new obligations, and find himself in an entirely different role.

Of course none of these friends assume to speak with the authority of the governor himself. They merely venture the opinion that, 1936 being what it is, he would not sit down at Topeka and hope that the presidency would come his way. They foresee him staking everything on an active campaign.

They acknowledge that such a course might expose him to experiences quite new to him, but they figure that's what will happen—if and when the opportunity presents itself.

Many Want Seats
If the demand for national convention seats means anything—and it usually does—political interest is running extremely high this year in both parties.

Those who allot places in the press galleries are smothered under an outpouring of applications numbering many hundreds more than there are seats available.

The crush for spectators' tickets likewise is overwhelming, many of the applicants are willing to spend hundreds of dollars of their own money journeying from far points to see the show.

Even at Philadelphia, where the democratic proceedings are expected universally to follow a pattern well understood in advance, the demand already is heavy and insistent.

Evidently the country is going to have one grand time over its politics in 1936.

POTATO PRICES

SUDDENLY ADVANCE

Past 24 Hours Sees Climb to $4 Per Cent; Berry Crops Looking Good.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—(AP)Buyers said today that Portland and other Pacific northwest potato markets recorded the most sensational price advance in the history of this area in the past 48 hours.

Tony Burgato, head of a large produce department, said the advances were more frequent than any within recent years as well as being the most spectacular in trade history here.

Old crop potatoes climbed to a high record of $4 per cental in 24 hours and the advance for the day was 50 to 75 cents. Extreme scarcity and the smallness of the new crop as well as price advances for the new crop combined to boost quotations, which ordinarily decline at this period of the year.

Berry Showing Good
A berry crop better than anticipated unless weather conditions interfere also is in prospect, buyers said. The principal damage appears in raspberries but even there production is expected to be 60 per cent of normal.

Strawberry damage is less than expected because many plants reported killed have come up from the roots and the production may be the greatest in recent years although fewer plants are growing, market sources said.

Nut Crop Smaller
John E. Trunk, manager of the Oregon Nut Growers, said a late survey of the walnut industry indicates that the damage to trees during the winter storms was not as serious as generally forecast and it appeared that 75 per cent of last year's tonnage may be realized.

The Newberg section has been comparatively free of serious damage except to some young trees but in the Corvallis-Eugene area more of the older trees appear to have been killed and many badly damaged.

Trunk said the outlook is for a smaller crop than in California, where 80 per cent of the 1935 tonnage is expected to be harvested.

MONTANA RAMS AID CHINESE STOCK

BOSTON, May 22.—(AP)—Three Montana rams are doing missionary work out in Taiku, North China.

Rev. Earle H. Ballou, formerly of Chester, Vt., reported the work of the "ram-missionaries" to the board of commissioner for foreign missions, which he is working in Peiping.

Rev. Ballou wrote that a missionary agriculturist, Ray Meyer, through cross breeding of the Montana rams with common Chinese stock, has produced sheep giving two and one-half times as much wool as the average native animal, and which brings much higher prices than the wool from ordinary Chinese sheep.

BONUS BONDS BY JUNE 15, PROMISE

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, reported to President Roosevelt today that applications for soldiers' bonus bonds will be acted upon as fast as they can be investigated and certified to the treasury.

"I am satisfied," he said, "that on the morning of June 15 postmasters will have bonds for every section of the country."

Hines said 3,100,000 applications to exchange bonus certificates for cashable bonds had been filed to date. By the end of this week, he said, the veterans administration will have certified 2,000,000 of them to the treasury for payment.

"Whether all the bonds will go out," he said, "depends on whether all applications are in, so we can certify them."
