Longest of Coast Bridges to be Dedicated

Traffic is now using the Coos Bay span, third of the five new bridges on the Oregon Coast Highway to be placed in use this spring. Marshfield and North Bend have planned a three-day celebration June 5, 6, and 7 to dedicate the structure which is more than a mile long and cost approximately $2,094,000 to build. The new bridge across the Unopqua will be ready for service in June and that across Yaquina Bay in September. Not only the coast region but all Oregon has received a tremendous amount of publicity throughout the country and in western states particularly as a result of the bridge openings this summer, according to the Travel department of the Oregon State Highway Commission, which cannot but result in substantially increased traffic over Oregon highways this year. This traffic is expected both from the south and east.

WEBB DISMISSED AS SUIT CO-DEFENDANT

Sheriff Percy A. Webb was dismissed by the court today as a co-defendant in the damage action brought by Bradford T. Bowles against Leona Creason. Sheriff Webb, Deputy Sheriff Clifford Thornton and State Policeman Fred L. Perry, on charges of false arrest and imprisonment. Following the completion of the plaintiff's testimony, shortly before noon this morning, the defense presented a motion for dismissal of charges brought by Bowles against Webb, claiming that there was no evidence to include the sheriff as a party to the claims of humiliation and mistreatment brought by the plaintiff. The court sustained the motion. The plaintiff took exception to the court's ruling as a basis for appeal to the supreme court.

The defense testimony started shortly before noon this morning after the plaintiff and his witnesses had completed their testimony.

Bowles is asking $10,000 damages, charging false arrest and imprisonment on charges of assault and battery. He was arrested last December, accused of assaulting Mrs. Creason when she demanded possession of two horses from her farm which Bowles held under lease.

The jury hearing the case is composed of L. A. Cosner, H. G. Thompson, C. C. Hancock, J. E. Pinkerton, Mrs. Alice Guard, R. H. C. Wood, Fred H. Elliott, Mrs. Marie A. Dorman, Mrs. Hilda Quine, V. S. Woodruff, Wm. P. Graham and P. R. Walker.

CONFERENCE HELD ON RELIEF MEASURE

G. O. P. Attempt to Create State Control of Funds Loses in Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—Emerging triumphantly from the senate with a 62 to 14 vote of approval, a giant relief and deficiency appropriation bill sped today into a conference in which senators will try to straighten out differences with the house.

So fast did the senate amend and expand the bill last night, that clerks could not immediately compute the exact total of funds it carries, but the sum was figured roughly at more than $2,428,000,000, of which the biggest item is a $1,425,000,000 grant to President Roosevelt to carry on WPA and other relief activities next fiscal year.

Fighting without hope of success but for purposes "of the record," Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) sought to dismantle WPA and return the administration of relief to the states, with the federal government bearing 75 per cent of the cost. His amendment was snuffed under 57 to 11.

On this issue Vandenberg found himself opposed by Senator Borah of Idaho, another man prominent in the republican presidential picture, and as the debate continued, the name of Governor Alf M. Landon was mentioned in chiding tones from the democratic side.

Vandenberg argued that if the job of administration were given to the states "waste and political exploitation" would be avoided.

Borah disagreed on the wisdom of such a move. He said Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator was right, and that it was "not in the interest of economy for one sovereignty to contribute the money and another to administer it."

To Aid Local Agencies.

Secretary Ickes' PWA is permitted to use $300,000,000 for grants to local agencies to carry on public works, grants not to exceed 45 per cent of construction costs.

The president is permitted to continue the giant Florida ship canal if engineering boards of review approve.

An amendment offered by Senator Hayden (D., Ariz.) and approved by the senate yesterday added $57,000,000 to the bill for western reclamation projects.

In last-minute senate voting, the United States conference of mayors, headed by Mayor La Guardia of New York, won a victory. After La Guardia assailed a provision limiting the PWA grant to 30 per cent of a project's cost, the senate boosted the figure to 45 per cent.

Republicans Lose Out.

The Florida ship canal had a narrow squeak, Republicans sought to have the senate reconsider a previous decision to give Mr. Roosevelt conditional authority to continue the project. Their move was beaten, 55 to 32.

Vandenberg fought for an amendment to outlaw solicitation or receipt of political contributions from beneficiaries of relief money. Senator Byrnes (D., S.C.), objected that this would apply to party officials who unknowingly accepted contributions from contractors on public works and other undertakings.

The senate thereupon voted Vandenberg's amendment down, but accepted a modification applying to solicitation of funds from persons benefitting from relief. Senator Borah remarked that this "emasculated" Vandenberg's amendment.

TOWNSEND, SMITH PLAN 1936 COURSE

NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, head of the old age revolving pension plan, and Dr. Gerald K. Smith, leader in the share-the-wealth movement, announced after a conference today that they are planning one of three courses in an attempt to defeat President Roosevelt for reelection.

At the convention of their organizations in Cleveland in July they will decide whether to advance an independent candidate for president, merely to "expose the administration policies," or to support "any republican."

On the last score, Townsend and Smith expressed the belief that President Roosevelt definitely wants to crush both movements and that they might support any republican in the hope of more consideration from any republican.

They said they would welcome any representatives of Father Charles E. Coughlin and his Union for Social Justice at the Cleveland convention.

Newhards Return—Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Newhard returned to their home Sunday evening, after spending a week in Portland visiting.
