CULPRITS ADDED TO WEED CUTTING GANG

The city weed cutting crew was augmented by two new recruits today. Everett Post and C. P. Malow, of Roseburg, pleaded guilty in the city court this morning to charges of drinking liquor in a public place and were fined $15 each. They lacked money to pay the fine and were assigned to the crew engaged in cutting grass along unimproved streets and on city property.

Gerald Powers, serving a sentence at weed cutting, walked off the job yesterday, but was picked up within a short time by city officers. He was given a job washing city cars yesterday afternoon, but returned to the grass cutting force this morning.

MOB RUSH VICTIM BLAMES "GOSSIP"

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—(AP)—"False, malicious gossip" resulting from a friendly gesture toward a six-year-old boy was attributed today by William Haines, ex-movie actor, as the reason an angry crowd beat and chased him, and four friends out of a beach community.

His friend, Jimmy Shields, screen extra, gave the boy six cents and told him to go home, Haines said, and consequently "we were made the victims of a mob action that might have proved serious."

Haines, who once specialized in screen portrayals of smart-quick heroes, sat in his interior decorating shop and told of the harrowing experience of last Sunday evening. "Did you ever have any experience with a wild mob of people?" he asked, and launched into his story.

"It was all a misunderstanding and arose out of false gossip. My friends and I went down to the beach house for the week-end. Jimmy had told me of the cute little boy also named Jimmy, that he had seen on the beach there Thursday."

"He said the little fellow followed him home and that he gave him six cents and told him to go home. There was no misconduct."

Legal action in the case was definitely ended today. Mrs. V. O. Walker of the El Porto beach community, had sought a morals complaint against Haines and a "John Doe" charging her six-year-old son, James Walker, was mistreated by a man in the shore house Haines had rented for the season.

Justice of the Peace A. F. Monroe refused to issue the complaint, saying the evidence was insufficient. Haines estimated his party was attacked by a crowd of about 100 men and women who booed, jeered, cursed and beat them.

The mob also invaded beach homes adjacent to Haines', routed about a dozen other men and forced them to leave the place, too. "How such things can happen in a civilized country is beyond me," Haines said.

EVANGELIST OPENS MEET SERIES HERE

An evangelistic campaign, directed by Teddy Leavitt, state evangelist for the Churches of Christ in Oregon, opened at the First Christian church here last night, with a large attendance.

Delegations were present from churches at Myrtle Creek, Glendale, Oakland and Eugene, with visitors also from Lookingglass and Sutherlin.

Mr. Leavitt, one of the best known evangelists of the Christian church in Oregon, has conducted more than 100 revival campaigns in the state, with a total of more than 6,000 additions in his meetings.

During his campaign here he announces as some of his topics, "Science and the Bible," "Outstanding Predictions in the Bible," "The Jew, His Land and Prophecy," "Archaeology and the Bible," "Archaeology and the Bible." Miss Rena Goff of Eugene will lead in the singing and will present special music at each service.

OREGON EVENTS FLASHED FROM WIRE SERVICE

PALLAS, Ore., June 3.—(AP)—Tragedy hung today over the Coburn-Altenet lumber mill at Vassett when reopened Monday.

Ray Ross, an employee, touched a live wire and was electrocuted.

EUGENE, June 3.—(AP)—Ben F. Morris, Eugene, defeated candidate for the republican national committee post in the May primaries, left for Cleveland yesterday where he will attend the national convention as an alternate. He was invited by Ralph Williams, successful candidate for the post.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3.—(AP)—James J. McEntee, assistant director of the civilian conservation corps, told interviewers here soil erosion and forestry protection work of the CCC has drawn especially widespread commendation. Life of the CCC, which ends legally March 31, 1937, will depend upon the interest of the American people and on congressional action, McEntee said.

SALEM, June 3.—(AP)—Loganberry grade requirements as set by the control board met with only one objection at a hearing here yesterday conducted by Frank McKennon of the state department of agriculture.

Packers raised the objection that the proposed grading set no requirement for length of the berries; growers maintained it was "out of the question" to include such a standard.

Packers indicated they would like to have the requirement set at one inch. A possibility of a compromise on three-fourths of an inch was considered.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3.—(AP)—The seventh and fourteenth degrees will be conferred today at the 73rd semi-annual five-day reunion of the Scottish Rite Masons of Oregon.

The reunion opened last night when the fourth degree was exemplified and the fifth and sixth degrees conferred.

Prominent visitors include Louis G. Clark, sovereign grand inspector-general in Oregon and representative of the supreme council in Washington, D. C.

EUGENE, Ore., June 3.—(AP)—Ralph Schomp, assistant graduate manager of the associated students of the University of Oregon, will become director of educational activities at the University July 1. Dr. C. Valentine Boyer, president, said Schomp was chosen unanimously by the educational activities board.

ROSEBURG STREETS BEING REPAIRED

The city street department is today completing a major repair job on Main street in the city hall block. The surfacing was badly cracked and has required patching for several years. A permanent repair has been completed by completely resurfacing the entire block. An extensive repair program has been carried on during the past few weeks by the street department, under the direction of George Frew, superintendent, despite poor weather conditions.
