GEHRIG HOMERS IN HIS 1700TH GAME

"Iron Horse" of Baseball Still Breaking Records in Major Leagues.

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

To Lou Gehrig—"Iron Horse Lou," the indestructible infielder—a mere matter of playing in 1,700 straight games without a break, eclipsing anything in the record books, ancient or modern, requires no exceptional baseball ability.

The New York Yankees' glutton-for-punishment first sacker, who starts on his second 1,700 today, says it's "just luck"—nothing else—this all-time mark of his.

But, considering that the man has been in there, getting his daily bats, in spite of broken bones, ripped muscles, lumbago, and any number of other physical beatings through 11 years, there's no denying Lou has plenty on the ball besides a rabbit's foot.

He sets a record every day he shows up on the job. He erased the old endurance mark three years ago, and since then has been making a new one daily.

Lou celebrated game No. 1,700 yesterday with a homer inside the park and a long fly that drove in another run, just enough to hand the Yanks a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians. It was a sorely needed win, since the second place Boston Red Sox stretched their streak to four straight by belting the Chicago White Sox 8-6, and stayed two and a half games back.

The Washington Senators, meantime, went into a tie for fourth place with Detroit by downing the world champion Tigers 6-2, while the Athletics and St. Louis were idle.

Dizzy Baffles Giants.

In the National league, Dizzy Dean won his tenth game—the first big league pitcher of the year to turn the trick—as the Cardinals walloped the New York Giants 9-2, thereby increasing their league lead to four full games. The slugging Pittsburgh Pirates, a threat in third place, pounded out 23 hits and a 14-8 triumph over the Phillies. The Chicago Cubs also came up with a lop-sided edge, 12-3, over the Brooklyn Dodgers, and the Boston Bees returned to fifth place by a 10-4 win over the Cincinnati Reds.

The nicknames "Iron Horse" and "Indestructible," with which Gehrig has been dubbed during his career, were not applied without reason.

In addition to his endurance mark, Gehrig has compiled other never-before-equalled performances that stamp him as among the greatest the game has ever seen. His four homers in one game is down in the record books as tops. So are his 17 four-baggers with the bases loaded—more than any other player. He has been the choice as American league most valuable player three times, and not even his old teammate, Babe Ruth, had that distinction.

DOUGLAS INVITED TO KLAMATH FETE

An abundance of entertainment features is promised Douglas county residents who attend the big Fourth of July celebration in Klamath Falls July 3, 4 and 5.

Under sponsorship of the American Legion, the Klamath empire metropolis is staging a celebration on this occasion for the first time in years, and the event is expected to go on an annual basis for the future.

A three-day rodeo, parades, fireworks displays, a carnival, sports contests and many other features have been lined up, with "something to do all the time" as the committee's objective.

A "pep parade" is scheduled for Friday night, July 3, followed by a night program on Modoc athletic field. On Saturday morning the main Fourth of July parade will be held, including floats, bands, rodeo talent and many other features. The rodeo will be staged Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons at the Klamath county fairgrounds. There will be dancing Friday night, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night at the Klamath armory.

"We want to invite the people of Douglas county to come over and see us July 3, 4 and 5," said Marshall Cornett, general chairman of the event. "The roads leading to Klamath Falls are in excellent condition, the trip over will be a pleasant one, and we know they will have a good time during their stay with us. Klamath has not staged a celebration of any kind in a number of years, and this one promises to make up for lost time."

World War Veterans Offered Further Information by Postmaster Wimberly Of Roseburg on Bonus Bond Payments

By Postmaster L. L. Wimberly

The Roseburg postoffice is in receipt of further information regarding the veterans bonus bonds and desires that all veterans have all the details available.

For all veterans who mailed their applications early it is expected that the bonds will be mailed from San Francisco on June 15th and will reach Roseburg on the 16th. Making complete records of the registered letters containing bonds, notices to the veteran, and preparation for delivery will require one day's time, so that delivery will be made on June 18. All veterans should bear this date in mind and not expect to get their bonds before that date. If at all possible veterans who live on city and rural routes should arrange to be home on that date prepared to receive their bonds and provide identification if they are not known personally by the carrier. One identifying witness who knows the veteran and is also known to the carrier will be required. If the carrier is personally acquainted with the veteran no other identification is necessary. The same regulations apply to those who will receive their bonds at the postoffice. Veterans who reside on star routes will not receive their bonds by the carirer but must come to the postoffice for delivery, bringing the notice which they receive from the postmaster. This applies to those who reside on the following star routes: Melrose, Camas Valley and Lookingglass. Those residing on rural routes No. 1 and No. 2 will receive their bonds by carrier. All of those receiving bonds will be required to sign for the registered letters on their notice as well as the return card which goes back to the mailing office. Under no circumstances may anyone but the veteran himself sign for his bonds.

Extra Hours Set.

For those veterans who cannot be at home when their bonds are delivered and for those living on routes where delivery cannot be made by carrier, the postoffice will make delivery at the window. On the 18th of June and also on the 19th, if necessary, the postoffice registry window will be open in the evening from 6:30 to 9:00 p. m. to accommodate those who cannot come to the office during the working hours of the day. It is hoped and expected that nearly all bonds will be delivered on the 18th. Bonds addressed to veterans who have moved to another postoffice and for those who may have died, will be returned to the mailing office. Under no circumstances may letters containing bonds be forwarded to another postoffice. For those who have moved to other offices the new addresses will be placed on the back of the letters returned and the mailing office will again mail the bonds to the veteran at his new address. If a veteran desires to have his bonds held at the postoffice until he can call for them, an order to that effect will hold the bonds for at least thirty days, or longer if circumstances warrant.

Arrangements are being made to have the bonds for veterans residing at the national veterans' facility delivered to the owners at the facility by a designated clerk from the postoffice. This will greatly facilitate delivery, for the reason that identification will be made much faster than would be possible at the postoffice. Delivery will be made there the same day as in the city, on June 18th. Certification of the bonds for payment will also be made at the facility on the days following delivery, or sooner if it is possible. It is not expected to be able to start certification until the day following delivery.

Certification of the bonds for payment will require considerable time and care and it is hoped that none of the veterans will expect this service to start until the day after delivery of the bonds.

Portland to Pay Off.

The Portland postoffice is the only designated office in the state for paying bonds. After certification by the local postoffice, all bonds will be forwarded by the postmaster, at no expense to the veteran, to the Portland postoffice for payment, which will be made by check mailed direct to the veteran by ordinary mail. When the bonds are turned in for payment, a receipt listing all bonds will be issued to the owner. If the certifying officer at the postoffice knows the veteran personally, no other identification will be required. If not known to the officer, one or two persons who know both the officer and the veteran will be required to sign as identifying witnesses. If, at the time of certification, the veteran wishes to have his check for his bonds mailed to another address than the one at which he received the bonds, he may designate such an address. Officers of banks may also certify bonds for payment but such bonds must be mailed, at the expense of the veteran, to Washington, D. C. for payment. The delivery, certification, and payment of bonds through the regular postoffice channels will be made at absolutely no expense to the veteran.

In signing the request for payment on the back of the bond, if the veteran is unable to sign his name he will sign by mark and his finger prints taken, before witnesses. Finger prints may be required in other exceptional cases but in most cases will not be required.

It has been reported that some veterans expect to go to Portland immediately after receipt of their bonds in the expectation of being able to cash them at once. It will be next to impossible to do that in most cases. First, the veteran will have a much more difficult time to identify himself there because of the fact that he must have witnesses who know him and are also known to the certifying officer there. For nearly all local veterans this would be a condition almost impossible to meet. Another situation in Portland is that the certifying office is not in the Portland postoffice but at a separate office set up for that purpose at the civic auditorium. After certification there the bonds will be sent to the Portland postoffice for payment which will be made by mail to the veteran. So, in no case is the veteran paid directly for his bonds. He must wait his turn, pay his own expenses while waiting, and then receive his money by mail.

Some veterans expect to cash a part or all of their bonds but are in no special hurry about doing it. If these men will wait a few days to turn them in, it will allow those who insist on immediate payment to be served sooner and prevent congestion at the postoffice.

Arrangements have been made for the use of a room on the second floor of the postoffice for the purpose of certification of bonds for payment. This arrangement will prevent congestion at the regular service windows at the office.

Patience Urged.

All postoffices will have a big job to perform in a short time so it is hoped that veterans will be patient and considerate and not expect the postoffice force to do the impossible. Every regular and substitute employee will be working and part of the clerks will work overtime in order to render the best possible service to veterans.

Veterans are urged to have their bonds certified for payment by their own postmasters at the post offices where they receive their bonds and where they may be readily identified.

Important points to be remembered are: Identification for receipt and certification of the bonds must be positive; no one may sign for the bonds but the veteran owner; and letters containing bonds cannot be forwarded to another postoffice but must be returned or held on the written order of the veteran.

The Roseburg postoffice will be glad to give veterans any information they desire regarding procedure in handling the bonus bonds.

SEATTLE GAINS TOP OF COAST LEAGUE

(By the Associated Press)

There were plenty of Coast league managers to agree today with P. K. Wrigley in the thought, "It seems to be a bad year on pitching all around."

Twenty-one hurlers were called to duty in the four coast games yesterday and last night. Only one of that multitude had a good night. He was Caster of Portland, the only starting pitcher to finish.

His six-hit performance dropped Oakland down 13-4 into a second place tie with the Missions and boosted Portland over San Diego, and the Missions 12-9 win—instrumental in the change standings was Seattle's seven-inning 7-5 victory over Sacramento. Los Angeles 8-7 triumph over San Diego, and the Missions 12-C9 win from the San Francisco Seals.

By its victory the Seattle tribesmen advanced to first place in the league standings.

Caster was aided by the potent batting of Third Baseman Bedore and Catcher Brucker. Each got three hits, including a homer with none on, driving in nine runs between them. Every Beaver batsman hit but Shortstop Lee, who contributed one of the three errors that gave the Oaks two unearned runs.

INVESTIGATOR OF TERRORISTS OUSTED

ed by a member of the Black Legion.

Pidcock, 32-year-old steel worker, disappeared from his home early on May 13, clad only in his underwear. His body was found next day, hanging in a hut on Fighting island, in the Detroit river.

His death was recorded as a suicide, but Wyandotte detectives said they had discovered that Pidcock and Poole, who was shot to death by an admitted Black Legion executioner the same morning, had mutual acquaintance.

Detectives said they had information that two men questioned Pidcock two weeks before his death about reports reflecting on his character, and that he returned to his home on May 11, after a two-day absence, with welts on his back, as if from a beating.

Pidcock's death is one of a dozen that presumably will be investigated during Circuit Judge Chenoi's grand jury inquiry, which was in recess today until Monday.

Bombing Denied

Dayton Dean, who testified in court that he killed Poole, while half a dozen fellow Black Legionnaires looked on, denied published reports yesterday linking him with the bombing of Father Charles E. Coughlin's home in Royal Oak in 1933.

Jesse J. Pottijohn, Ecorse township trustee, and Harry Clawson, of River Rouge, who were detained yesterday for questioning about the flogging of Robert Penlan, Ecorse steel worker, were released last night. Eight others were detained.

MYRTLE CREEK WINS TITULAR BALL GAME

Contest Against Yoncalla High Ended by Rain in 5th; Score 8 to 0.

Lashing out eight hits and abetted by numerous errors, the Myrtle Creek high school baseball team defeated Yoncalla 8 to 0 in five innings at Oakland Friday afternoon to win the Douglas county high school baseball championship. The game was rained out at the end of the fifth inning, but Myrtle Creek had amply demonstrated its superiority.

Elliott, Myrtle Creek pitcher, yielded only two hits, both by Coggswell, and, aside from Coggswell, only two Yoncalla batters reached first base, both on errors. Elliott had seven strikeouts in five innings.

Yoncalla wavered in the first inning and Myrtle Creek scored four runs on one hit. Six Yoncalla errors were recorded in the opening inning.

Upshaw, pitching for Yoncalla, yielded four hits in three innings, and Turpin, who relieved Upshaw in the fourth, was hit four bingles. Nine errors by the Yoncalla players contributed largely to the Myrtle Creek victory. Myrtle Creek was charged with two errors.

Lineups:

M'GAUGHEY MAKES FINE TRACK RECORD

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, June 6 — Sam McGaughey, former Roseburg high school athlete, was one of the leading stars of Bill Hayward's University of Oregon varsity track team this spring and was rewarded by being elected captain of the 1937 squad.

McGaughey was among men named by Hayward last week for letter awards. It will be his second stripe.

McGaughey was undefeated in northern division competition in the mile and two-mile this season and he placed fourth in the latter event at the Pacific coast conference meet at Berkeley.

The ex-Roseburg runner has run the mile in 4:23 and the two-mile in 9:43. Running for Roseburg, he set new state prep school marks in both the mile and the 880 in his senior year. His state high school records, still unbroken, are 4:29.8 for the mile and 2:01.5 for the half-mile distance.

Bill Hayward's Webfoot squad had a successful year, tying for the northern division championship on the basis of dual meets and leading all northern teams in the Pacific coast conference meet at Berkeley, California. McGaughey won firsts in all meets.

Another Roseburg boy taking a prominent part in Oregon athletics this spring was Rex Applegate, freshman tennis player. Applegate aided the Duckling netmen in splitting two matches with Oregon State and downing Oregon Normal. He will be a candidate for the varsity racquet squad next season.

POSSES SEEK BOY IN OREGON KILLING

reached it and the relatively open country gave officers hope of effecting a capture shortly. If Walker succeeded in escaping into the wild rugged region farther east, however, the chances of his escape would be increased.

There are no towns and but few inhabitants in the area, which is covered with open pine.

Officers were told that Walker rode into the Ike Mills sheep shearing plant east of here near Suplee, on the Grant-Crook county line, about noon yesterday and shot Peacock through the head. Springing on a bay horse, he galloped away toward the hills to the east.

Both are sons of old time residents of the central Oregon range country and officers were informed that their fend over range and fence rights had been punctuated with gunplay on other occasions.

Sheriff Claude McCauley, of Deschutes county, ordered all ranchers to be on the lookout for Walker, and Sheriff C. W. Frazier, of Harney county, posted guards along couty roads as a precaution against Walker hitch-hiking a ride.

Heavy rains which drenched the range lands late yesterday along the southwest foothills of the Ochoco range aided the fugitive by covering up his tracks.

Peacock's body still remained in the rugged hill country, where he was killed.

BITTER RACIAL ATTACK MADE ON LEON BLUM

Jews."

The rightist deputy attacked ably his prediction in 1932 that Adolf Hitler never would take the power in Germany.

Then Vallat attacked the British policy of sanctions against Italy but not against Germany.

After walking out of the chamber Blum returned in a din and shout to take his seat. Vallat returned to the attack despite screams from the left.

"For once," he declared, "France will be led by an Israelite.

"I have nothing against Jews, but I assure you there are millions of peasants who are not in favor of studying the Talmud!"

Former Premier Edouard Herriot, newly elected president of the chamber, arose from his chair to shout: "I know neither Catholic nor protestant nor Jews; I know only Frenchmen!"

He warned Vallat to cease his attacks on Blum saying otherwise he would be "forced to take extreme measures."

In the midst of the uproar, communist deputies, led by Maurice Thorez, a huge former coal miner, started toward the rightist benches.

Six burly sergeants-at-arms rushed in a flying wedge across the floor, hastily forming a cordon across the chamber between the rightists and leftists.

Herriot told Vallat: "I regret to be forced to tell you that you have pronounced inadmissible words in this chamber."

Blum Pledges New Deal

The sudden disturbance broke out after the premier had addressed the chamber with a program intended to satisfy the demands of the hundreds of thousands of laborers on strike in the country, to revive business and to relieve the farmers.

Peace for all Europe through collective security was announced as his foreign policy in the ministerial declaration to parliament.

Simultaneously Blum took action to break a nation-wide strike of nearly one million workers, to revise the government's financial structure, and to coordinate France's national defense.

New strikes were started in many sections of the country even as the premier spoke.

Workers joined the strike ranks in Paris suburbs.

In the neighborhood of Rouen more than 12,000 workers struck. At Arras in the north the strike reached the coal mines.

Steel mills, synthetic gasoline plants, chemical factories, dye works, and power plants joined the movement in the north in a series of towns and cities.

Blum failed to make any mention of war debts in his declaration.

TAX BILL FACING CONFERENCE FIGHT

in the taxes on brackets over $50,000; and an 80 per cent "wind-fall" tax on what was termed "unjust enrichment" of processors who did not pay the AAA processing levies.

The 7 per cent undistributed profits tax is much lower than is desired by administration officials. They orginally suggested a graduated tax averaging 33⅓ per cent. The house bill, nearer to the administration ideas, would tax corporate net income on a graduated scale ranging up to 42½ per cent and depending on how much of the income was withheld from stockholders.

Recess Set for Monday

The tax conferees will labor all next week, but the senate and house proper will recess Monday, not to meet again until June 15. This will permit republicans to attend their national convention in Cleveland.

The question of conferees was put over to today when the republican senators, Couzens and Keyes, refused to be conferees. Declaring there was "not a chance" that he would serve, Couzens said he was opposed to both senate and house bills.

Among the provisions approved by the senate were excise taxes of 2 to 4½ percent on imported fish and vegetable oils. Senator Adams (D., Colo.), lost in an attempt to exempt from the undivided profits tax earnings used for machinery, equipment, plant expansion and improvement of business.

enough votes away from Roosevelt in key states either to defeat him or throw the election into congress."

The Detroit Townsend and share-the-wealth leaders agreed at a conference here, Smith said, to adopt the slogan: "Anybody but Roosevelt."

Dr. Townsend and the Louisiana pastor talked at length with persons close to Father Coughlin, but there was no indication that they saw the priest, who made no comment on their visit here.

SOUTH CHINA HALTS IN WAR GESTURE

SHANGHAI, June 6.—(AP)—Events in South China, where a quarter of a million men are reported under arms, were characterized by uncertainty today.

Canton leaders were chiefly engaged in issuing reiterative statements that South China wants armed resistance against Japan.

They added, however: "But the actual launching of an anti-Japanese campaign must be inaugurated by Nanking." (Nanking is the capital of China.)

It was believed here that Canton, which marched troops northward now has completed its gesture designed to embarrass Nanking in the face of Japan.

DODSON STICKS TO GIANT TROUT STORY

J. L. Dodson, deputy sheriff at Reedsport, was in Roseburg today on official business and refuses to retract in any particular details of his fish story. Fishing on a lake near the Douglas-Lane county line yesterday, he reports, he hooked and landed a 22-inch cutthroat trout which tipped the scales at 3¼ pounds.

LOCAL GIRL WEDS GRANTS PASS MAN

GRANTS PASS, June 6.—(AP)—Miss Inez Margaret Lehrbach, daughter of Dr. L. M. Lehrbach of Roseburg, became the bride of Leo Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Walker of Riverton, Neb., here Friday evening at the home of Rev. Henry Bruenagel.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker will make their home in Grants Pass.

RECKLESS DRIVER FINED

J. P. Seabeck, Seattle, Wash., paid a fine of $25 this morning in the local justice court. He entered a plea of guilty to a charge of reckless driving, following his arrest by a state policeman.

COUPLE WEDS HERE

Donald N. Pankey, Roseburg, and Uhla Rogers, of Powers, were married by Justice of the Peace R. W. Marsters this morning at the courthouse. Only the necessary witnesses were present.

Flowers Given to Office—A beautiful bouquet of lilies and sweet-peas was presented to the Roseburg chamber of commerce office today by T. M. Winniford, of Garden valley.

LOCAL FANS SET FOR SUNDAY BALL GAME

Legion junior baseball fans are anticipating an interesting game at Myrtle Creek tomorrow, weather permitting. It will be the first time the Myrtle Creek players will be in the lineup with other members trying out for the squad, and fans will have an opportunity to judge the strength of the team Douglas county will have to offer in state competition.

The game will be played on the Myrtle Creek diamond, starting at 2:30 p. m., against the team from South Umpqua CCC camp.

Coach Ward Cummings announces that his starting lineup will probably be Crouch, rf; Morgan, lf; Anlauf, 2b; McLain, c; Morris, ss; Neal, 1b; Ball, 3b; Roberts, cf; Sporer, p.

There will probably be several shifts in the lineup to give various contenders for team positions a chance to play. Andrews will probably relieve Sporer on the mound. Elliott and Morris, other leading pitchers, will probably not be used on the mound, as both have pitched high school baseball games this week.

Coach Cummings reports arrangements are being completed for a game with the Medford juniors to be played at Medford, Sunday, June 14.

DONKEY BASEBALL STARTS SUNDAY

Donkey baseball will provide sport for the general public at Finlay field Sunday and Monday. Sunday's games will start at 2:30 o'clock and will offer donkey baseball and polo and an exhibition by a trained mule. The games are declared to provide the most hilarious amusement, and capacity crowds are anticipated both days.

Monday's contests will start at 7 p. m.

The events are sponsored by the Roseburg Lions club and proceeds will go to the fund used to provide glasses for children in needy families.

The animals to be used in the games are owned by Jack Bartlett of Phoenix, Arizona, and arrived here today in specially equipped auto trucks.

PRISONER IS HELD HERE OVER NIGHT

George Rosenbacker, recently arrested at Eureka, California, on a warrant from The Dalles, where he was charged with burglary, was held over night in the county jail here. The prisoner is being returned to The Dalles by Sheriff Harold Sexton and District Attorney Leland Brown, who visited friends and relatives of the latter last night. Mr. Brown, a son of the late Justice George M. Brown, was a resident of Roseburg for a number of years.
