PORTLAND REVELS IN ROSE PAGEANTRY

PORTLAND, Ore., June 12.—(AP)—The grand floral parade of majestic floats, snappy bands and trim marching units wound through downtown Portland today, bringing bursts of applause from thousands of Rose festival visitors.

Hundreds of thousands of roses and other flowers were embodied in more than 60 floats which vied for prizes in the depiction of the Rose festival spirit.

One group that drew loud applause was the troop of 27 north-west mounted police from Canada.

More than 50,000 persons, an all-time record, watched the red-carpeted mounted and their spirited horses perform their musical ride as parts of the festival programs at Multnomah stadium the past two nights.

A display from Newark, N. J., won a new event in the Rose display this year, the air-mail show. Exhibits from numerous cities arrived on the opening day and were nearly as fresh as Portland's own entries.

A 4-H club member, Florence Frink who lives near Portland, entered the grand sweepstakes winning rose, but was not here to see her exhibit. A long-stemmed, coral-yellow Opelia rose won the honor for her while she was at Corvallis attending a 4-H club summer school.

Allentown, Pa., placed second in sweepstakes of the inter-city air-mail show competition.

The best general exhibit came from Salt Lake City, Utah, while Tampa, Fla. sent the most distant entry.

Saved from Mock Cult Death

Joseph Ignani, 9, and Albert Valenti, 11, of Detroit, were nearly hanged by their schoolmates who, inspired by the fantastic activities of the Black Legion, had tied ropes about their necks and were about to push them from the second floor window of a barn when a citizen stopped them. The 14-year-old ringleader of the mock Legion said the boys were to have been punished for "some things we had against them."

U. S. HIGH COURT TO GET 'ITCH' CASE

SALEM, June 11.—(AP)—Notice of appeal of the noted "itch" case to the supreme court of the United States was given here today by the Hammond Lumber company, which stated if the Oregon court were upheld it would be necessary to subject all of its employees to physical examinations.

The original suit was brought by Ralph Compton against the lumber company to recover damages for the "itch" which he alleged he contracted while working on one of the lumber company's boats. The lower court awarded a judgment of $1,200 to the plaintiff. In the second appeal the state court affirmed the judgment to the extent of $1,000. Previously the case had been remanded for a new trial.

A and their followers formed a new church organization today, naming it the Presbyterian Church of America.

The assembly of 175, including 45 ministers, declared itself the general assembly of the new church.

At the morning session delegates to the Presbyterian constitutional covenant union approved the executive committee report recommending the abolition of the union and the formation of a new church organization, which its leaders said, will continue the true spiritual succession of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A.

In Portland—Mr. and Mrs. Alva Spang, of this city, are spending a few days in Portland visiting and attending to business.

PROGRAM HELD FOR GRADUATES

OAKLAND, June 12.—Oakland high school held its twenty-fifth annual commencement in the high school gymnasium, Friday, June 5, for a graduating class of seventeen members. The salutatory and valedictory were given by Marcell McCurdy and Gerald Young and the main address by Dr. Daniel T. Ordeman, professor of English at Oregon State college, who spoke about "Equipment for Success in Life."

The girls' glee club and the mixed chorus sang "Indian Dawn," by Zamecnik and "Midsummer," a Swedish folk song.

Commencement awards were made to a number of seniors and underclassmen. The scholarship awards went to Gerald Young, who had maintained a straight "A" average and to Marcell McCurdy, whose grades were nearly straight "A." Their names also appear upon the master engravers' scholarship plaque. Lloyd Carlson, as president of the student body and prominent in high school affairs, was presented the activity award. Fay Stearns and Ruth Young received the athletic awards for combining scholarship, athletic ability and character. Gordon Miller received a personal award from Coach J. A. Biles for making the greatest progress in group play and cooperation.

The home town essay cup for 1936 will contain the names of Joyce Bridges and Gerald Young who submitted high quality essays of a distinctly different type and were judged a tie. The significant achievement plaque will have the names of Gerald Young and Ruth Leonard engraved on it. Gerald Young for having exceeded highest national scores in standard tests in geometry and Ruth Leonard for 100 per cent accuracy in the state typing contest. Awards also went to Ruth Leonard in art; Georgianna Chenoweth in Journalism; Bernard Sar for the student most responsible for the success of the annual, and the debate medal to Maryjane Boyvingdon as the outstanding debater.

The Whitman college scholarship award was made to Gerald Young in recognition of his all "A's" record. This scholarship was granted without investigation because of the excellent record made by his parents who were graduated from this school. Georgianna Chenoweth also won a state scholarship at Southern Oregon Normal school.

Special recognition was also given Gertrude Adams, Florence Allis, Josephine Baird, Lucile Leatherwood, Doris Mallery and Margaret Todd, seniors, for their 4-H club achievement awards which were made on achievement day.

15 YEARS GIVEN ON STATUTORY CHARGE

DALLAS, Ore., June 11.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Arlie G. Walker today sentenced Aubrey Gretzinger, Salem, to 15 years in the state penitentiary without parole, following his conviction on a statutory charge.

Gretzinger was convicted of an attack on Mrs. O. Sigurdson of West Salem April 20.
