30 Million in Voting Bloc

Will the social security act help to create a pension bloc of 25 to 30 million people eager for more and quicker money?

If we have 25 or 30 million workers who are also voters paying in from week to week, money to care for them in their old age, they are certain to grow conscious of the growth of the fund and to ask one or both of two things, increase the amount paid in pensions; reduce the age limit at which pensions begin.

THE Republican candidate is facing a task as difficult as any ever undertaken. He must tell us that there is no Santa Claus at a time when we want to believe in Santa Claus.

New Business Prospects

THERE are many new faces in the United States since 1934. Census bureau estimates the total population on July 1, 1935, at 127,521,000, up .71 per cent since 1934.

Daily Devotions

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS... "For love sake." There are things that only Christian love can do.

all prosperity.

THIS plank (which seems certain of adoption as these words are written) is of SUPREME importance.

THAT pledge isn't much of a vote-getter, and KEEPING it will be one of the toughest jobs ever undertaken in this nation.

THERE is much else in the platform—some of it exceedingly important, and much of it relatively little importance.

THE Republican candidate is facing a task as difficult as any ever undertaken. He must tell us that there is no Santa Claus at a time when we want to believe in Santa Claus.

"THERE'S MURDER IN THE AIR"

By ROY CHANSLOR

CHAPTER XXIV... They drove to Manhattan, to Center street. Tyler went in his name. The captain on duty returned immediately and showed them into Commissioner John Kilrane's office.

On the third day, in the forenoon, Dr. Peters telephoned. "I think the girl's quite normal now," he said to Gordon.

"The name's Gaudin," said Tyler. "But Kilrane shook his head again, after a moment."

"Only a government of laws, no men, can rescue us from this plight."

Members of the Roseburg Rod and Gun club are asked to meet at Umpqua park at 10 a. m., Sunday, June 14, to prepare for the annual salmon bake.

make faster time. Tyler and Nelson were silent. The harassed Gordon was in no mood for conversation. He kept his hands clenched, staring straight ahead, repeating: "Faster, faster!"

Gordon stared helplessly at Tyler, who addressed Harrigan. "You called all the hospitals?"

"That's so," he said heavily. Some one came on the wire, and he spoke, giving his name, asking if his wife had been there or called. She hadn't.

"You can't find her?" Gordon demanded. "We got separated in one of the shops," the agitated girl said.

One Word Led To Another

By Bugs Baer

Here's a side elevation of the average delegate at the political Olympics.

He is a home-loving citizen who manages to crowd all his affection on a penny postcard.

He gets more instructions than a tourist asking questions at a gasoline pump.

He pays his own expenses there and back. He is a trusting individual who actually believes that the bosses count his vote.

He will join any stampede up the aisle without knowing the object of the ankle excursion. He would manage to live and grow fat if the government plowed every crop under except the hot dog and popcorn.

We do not know his reaction in these conventions, which will be wet. At the dry conventions of '20, '24, '28 and '32 he managed to get his stagger syrup through channels as mysterious as Hendrick Hudson's northwest passage.

Allowing for the stresses and strains of human nature, we judge the 1936 conventions will be unusually sober and dignified. The aisle stampedes will not be as rough and noisy because nobody will join them to walk a jag off.

The bootleg liquor of 1924 was poison. The legal booze of 1936 is overtaxed. There doesn't seem to be much choice.

If the delegate of 1936 is the same delegate of 1932 he will not know whether he is getting good liquor or not. In his time he has absorbed boiler compound, fusel oil, lamp-black, various blends of carbolic syrup, wood alcohol, corrosive denaturants, shoe polish—both brown and black—hair oil, shaving lotions, white iodine, bath tub gin, coal scuttle rye and rainpout Scotch.

All of which has shellacked, varnished and stymozed his constancy and carbonized his taste. His judgment is as bad as the purp's who chased the wildcat. Give him the best and the finest that money or influence can secure and skilled hands can distill, and he will still be homesick for a horrible mixture of mudlage, depilatory and waterproof poured out of a rubber boot.

OFFICERS RETAINED BY OREGON P. M.'S

GRANTS PASS, June 13.—(AP)—Oregon members of the National League of Postmasters returned to their homes today, leaving choice of a convention city in 1937 to their officers with instructions to seek a joint convention with first and second class postmasters.

The convention here closed with reelection of all officers. Elton A. Schroeder of Myrtle Point is president, and the following are vice-presidents for the five districts: C. A. Rieder, Williamsport; Sophia M. Mitchell, Yachats; Harry E. Mahoney, Oakland; Elton Moldstrom, Adams; Josephine T. Stark of Sutherlin was reelected secretary-treasurer.

OREGON EVENTS FLASHED FROM WIRE SERVICE

THE DALLES, June 13.—(AP)—Part of the reward received by Tom Burdane, former Pendleton police chief, as his share in the capture of William Edward Hickman, Los Angeles girl slayer, will be spent to develop a new auto park here.

Gurdane is moving here with his family and plans to start construction of the park immediately, he said. He was forced to sue the city of Los Angeles to get the money offered for the Hickman capture.

THE DALLES, June 13.—(AP)—The chamber of commerce no longer has an official thermometer and rainfall gauge.

THE DALLES, June 12.—(AP)—Solution of a theater robbery which occurred here last November has come with the return of George W. Rosenbaker from Eureka, Calif., where he was arrested at the request of police here, said Sheriff Harold Sexton.

Rosenbaker confessed taking $400 from the Granada theater, the sheriff said, and implicated Harold Dairnple, of The Dalles, an employe of the theater at the time. Both are in jail.

OREGON CITY, June 13.—(AP)—Three of four men arrested for operation of slot machines pleaded guilty and each was fined $40. They were permitted to reclaim the machines on the understanding that the property was removed permanently from the county. A fourth man will be arraigned later.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 13.—(AP)—If a certain baby could talk, he or she probably would have some mighty nice things to say about a pair of Portland bluecoats.

Patrolmen Heath and West were called to investigate a car in which the tot was crying.

THEIR report said: "We found the baby crying, and in looking around found a bottle. We fed the baby. When we left it was smiling happily."

PORTLAND, June 13.—(AP)—Eugene Courtney of The Dalles, president of the Oregon State Bankers' association, told delegates to the state convention here "it is high time that we get back to the old-time principles and have the people support the government rather than the government support the people."

Frank Sifford of New York, executive manager of the American Bankers' association, said between 4,000 and 5,000 bankers from 11 western states will attend the regional conference here next February.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 13.—(AP)—Charles Rice, superintendent of Portland schools, said 20,000 persons, representing every state in the union, will attend the National Educational association's annual convention here June 28 to July 2.

PORTLAND, June 13.—(AP)—Circuit court, after adjudging arias Laura E. Stevens, 55, insane in connection with the fatal shooting of Myron T. Hullett, timber cruiser, last January, studied further disposition of the case today. The court's ruling followed a report of alienists that she was not mentally responsible.

PORTLAND, June 13.—(AP)—Lewis Mills, chairman of the Columbia River Loggers' association, denied reports logging camps would not reopen until after the fire season and said it was hoped operations could be resumed around July 4 if the present labor controversy is settled.

Nearly 10,000 members of the sawmill and timber workers' union will participate in a vote on a proposed agreement beginning next Wednesday. The first ballot was declared invalid when a box was found unsealed.

About 30 camps closed down several weeks ago.

HILLSBORO, June 13.—(AP)—E. J. Earle, of Decatur, Ill., took the time and got lots of it. Judge R. Frank Peters sentenced him to a year in prison for stealing an alarm clock from a pharmacy. Sheriff's records showed he served time previously in California and Oregon.

PORTLAND, June 13.—(AP)—The estate of Mabel B. Kerr, estimated at $100,000, will provide a $100,000 bequest for the protestant Episcopal bishop of the diocese of Oregon for the benefit of missions in the district.

HILLSBORO, June 13.—(AP)—The Washington county relief committee, in approving 15 requests for food assistance and denying seven, said the present load of 259 is the maximum for this area, despite a waiting list of 174 applicants. Payments average $18.45 a month.

ASTORIA, Ore., June 13.—(AP)—National guardsmen will find their usual job of tent-raising already has been taken care of when they arrive for the 1936 encampment next Tuesday at Camp Clatsop. A permanent lighting system and a swimming pool also have been installed. An advance detail was to arrive today.
