10 NEGROES AMONG 66 TO WIN PLACES

Jesse Owens Takes Three Events; 8 With Record Marks Lose Out.

By ALAN GOTTLID
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 13.—(AP)—Bound for Berlin, America's team of 66 track and field men emerged today from the final tryouts with a flock of familiar faces missing and Uncle Sam's hopes of Olympic conquest largely pinned on the most sensational squad of freshman athletes ever assembled.

They represent the cream of the 1936 crop, a complete entry for all 23 Olympic events, and in many respects the most startling array of performers this country has yet produced for the quadrennial world championships.

Featuring the list in an extraordinary group of ten negro athletes, led by the redoubtable Jesse Owens of Ohio State, only men to gain three places.

Eight athletes who entered the final tests with reputations as world record-makers, Olympic champions or national titleholders emerged with nothing but the exercise.

Outstanding victims of the form reversals included big Ben Eastman, world record holder, who finished a bad sixth, and Charley Beetham, Ohio State's brilliant national champion, who fell and was eliminated on a heart-breaking 800 meter final.

Head Coach Lawson Robertson was among those rating Eastman's downfall as the biggest blow struck at America's Olympic scoring prospects.

San Francisco's colorful George Varoff, who cleared the world record height of 14 feet, 6 1/2 inches in the pole vault a week ago in the national championships, was beaten out by a trio of southern Californians.

Ralph Metcalf, dusky Marquette flier, five-times national champion, and co-holder of the world record for the event, finished fifth and was eliminated in the 200 meter dash to the astonishment of all. He made the team by running second to Owens in the 100 meters.

Walter Marty, unable to do better than 6 feet 4 inches in the high jump, also failed to make the team.

Two negro rivals, Cornelius Johnson of Los Angeles and Dave Albritton of Ohio State, negotiated a new world record height of 6 feet 9 1/2 inches in the most startling performance of the final trials. Marty set the listed mark of 6 feet, 9 1/8 inches in 1934.

Another west coast favorite, Norman Bright of Sunnyvale, Calif., ran fifth and was shut out in the 5,000 meters, which ended in a dead heat between Indiana's redoubtable Don Lash and a surprise contender, Louis Zamperini, of Torrance, Calif.

Two Kansans Sparkle
The comeback of Glenn Cunningham, world mile record-holder, and the sensational development of a fellow Kansan, Archie San Romani, strengthen America's bid to win the classic 1500 meters for the first time since 1908.

Cunningham and San Romani ran one-two in a thrilling stretch duel yesterday, with both being clocked under the Olympic record of 3:49.9.

Trailing them by ten yards was Pennsylvania's picture runner, Gene Zenzke, who beat Bonthron for third place and thus redeemed his failure of 1932.

The negro talent captured seven of 12 places in the flat races, a standout in the 800 and long-striding John Woodruff, University of Pittsburgh runner, filling the place conceded a month ago to Eastman in the 800.

Fritz Pollard, Jr., University of North Dakota high hurdler who placed second to Towns in the final, rounds out the contingent of extraordinary negro athletes.

Woodruff came within a tenth-second of equalling the world record Saturday when he won his trial 800 meter heat in 1:49.9. Yesterday the Pitt negro flashed home in front of the veteran Chuck Hornbostel of Indiana and Harry Williams of the University of North Carolina in a spectacular final.

Lash was placed first by the judges, but the motion picture tape determined they hit the tape together. The official verdict was altered accordingly.

Optimism Prevails
Despite these upsets, American coaches and officials found plenty of room for optimism in the make-up of the team that sails Wednesday with the rest of the Olympic forces, numbering upwards of 200 athletes in a score of sports.

Olympic records were bettered in 10 of 27 events in the final tryouts at Randall's Island stadium. World records were smashed by four athletes, including the two high jumpers, Glenn Morris of Fort Collins, Colo., in the disqualification at Milwaukee, and by Owens in the 200 meter final yesterday.

The team personnel includes 13 individuals who either hold or have claims to possession of world track and field records.

Lead by Owens, who will be America's favorite to capture both sprints and broad jump, the record-smashing headlines making the team include the two renowned southern hurdlers, Forrest (Spec) Towns of Georgia in the 110 meters, and Glenn (Slats) Hardin in the 400 meters.

Towns and Hardin, unbeaten in any Olympic test, give the United States its best chance to sweep the Olympic hurdling honors since 1924.

The three California victors in the pole vault were:

Bill Graber, Los Angeles; Earle

Mendows and William Sefton, University of Southern California.

Coach Cummings has been handicapped for the last weeks on account of sprains, sprains, and about everything else that can befall a ball team. Reports have it that Buss Sporer has been confined to the hospital for additional treatments for the injuries received last winter. Bobby Morris is just getting over a touch of the flu. Ball has a sprained ankle and several of the other lads are suffering from a milder ailment that runs from a twisted ankle to corns. All of which makes it plenty tough with the important Eugene series less than a week away.

Bobby, according to those who are keeping in touch with the situation, is coming along nicely and will be able to take his turn on the mound. This is mighty good news. The weather may have a lot to do with the others. If that old sun comes out and continues to beat down, the other aches and pains will soon disappear. We haven't had a great amount of good baseball weather this year. When it comes, you may expect some good results.

Among those who have not yet forgotten the kids that are coming along and who might represent the county in other years is Jim Ware. Jim is spending a lot of time with the intermediates. Every Wednesday afternoon finds him with a group of youngsters 13, 14 and 15 years old, out on Finlay field. This bunch is coming along splendidly, and the work Ware is doing should prove a boon to next year's team. Baseball teams are not made overnight. It takes years to develop a good team. We don't believe that even Jim realizes the fine piece of work he is doing.

A lot of the fans were rather skeptical of the pitching ability of young Andy Andrews, the Youcalla bean pole, until his performance against Eugene July 5. His showing in that game has changed their opinion materially. They are now all for him. Andy really did a fine job in that game. The fact that it was lost could not be blamed on his pitching. Six errors behind any sort of pitching will just about tell the tale. Of course, Andy made one of these errors himself, but he had plenty of company. This kid is O. K. and we are betting that the coach will find plenty of work for him before the season is finished.

Have you noticed the way this Crouch lad has been playing second base lately? He has been doing consistently well. George is out of position. He is really an outfielder, and a mighty good one, but had to be brought into the infield to plug a hole that needed filling badly. He is doing a good job of it. The selection of Crouch as a lead-off man in the batting order was a wise piece of business. He is really getting on base more times than could reasonably be expected. He has a good eye at the plate and works the opposing pitchers for many a walk. In one game this year he officially appeared at bat only once. He worked the pitcher for three walks and got a hit. This made his average for the day 1.000. Crouch is a good base runner and uses his head.

of convention of 1937 to Portland.

CLEVELAND, July 12.—(AP)—Some two-score Townsend troupe members arrived here today for the old age pension movement's five-day national convention and received the formal assurances of Presidential candidate William Lemke that he would address the final session Monday.

Rep. Lemke, who heads the union party ticket, said in writing his acceptance of an invitation "I wish your convention every success and know it will make history and do much to end unemployment and avert poverty in America."

The message of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the pension movement is scheduled for Wednesday, the opening day.

Big Growth Seen

State Senator Frank A. Aycock of California, who received Lemke's telegram, was among the early arrivals. Aycock said there had been a great growth of Townsend interest in the east, the middle west and on the Pacific coast in recent weeks.

Other chiefs here today included Captain Russell Hand of Los Angeles, convention secretary Alvin and Frank J. Ashe, of Paso, Texas. Townsend's slogan "Citizens maximums."

CHICAGO, July 12.—(AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, author of the old age revolving pension plan, said today there was a possibility that a Townsend plan candidate for president would be nominated at the convention of Townsend club members, opening in Cleveland July 15.

Asked about reports that the convention would endorse Rep. William Lemke of North Dakota, union party candidate, Dr. Townsend said:

"There is a great deal of sentiment against our joining any third party movement. It would be like the tail wagging the dog."

EAGLES DEFEATED BY COQUILLE, 9-2

Lodgemen Blank Loggers for Five Innings, Then Throw Game Away.

Six unearned runs after aimlessly tossing the ball higher and higher in the first of the sixth and seventh innings, cost an erratic-playing team of the Roseburg Eagles a 9 to 2 drubbing by the Coquille Loggers in a baseball game played Sunday afternoon at Finlay field.

George Barr, Eagle pitcher, out-nitched Spencer, Coquille hurler, but was given such poor support that he retired in the seventh.

Barr fanned 7 batters and allowed four hits, one a home run, in 7 innings and Spencer gave 8 hits, one a home run, and fanned 5 in 9 innings.

In the first five innings Barr allowed only two men to reach base, one batter drew a walk and another was hit by the ball. No errors were made by the home team up to the sixth.

Goff, second man up for Roseburg in the first inning, hit for the circuit and was the only score for both teams up to the sixth.

Two errors, coupled with two hits, one a home run, gave Coquille the game in the first of the sixth. Spencer, first man up, doubled to left field. Bailey popped to the pitcher for an easy out. Pulford hit to second and was caught at first. Poes was issued a walk as Peterson, next man up, had been fanned by Barr both times before. The choice proved unlucky for Barr, as Peterson hit the first pitched ball for a long drive to right field for a home run, driving in two men ahead of him. Woodyard was allowed to reach first on an error at short. Calvert was given a walk. Duncan then hit to short, who again erred, and the ball was overthrown to each base, allowing two more runs to come in.

In their half of the sixth, Roseburg eluded out a run as Saunders, who pitched first on an error by the second baseman, managed to gain home during the inning.

Still more jittery in the seventh, the Eagles made three more errors and allowed 2 more runs. Spencer, first man up in the seventh, made first on a ball which got by third and bounded to left field. He then took third on an overthrow from left field. An error by Barr gave Bailey, next man up, first, and a single by Pulford allowed three more runs to come in as the Roseburg team lost control of the ball completely.

Coquille was given another run in the eighth on errors, ending the scoring for both teams.

lishing the book was undertaken by the News-Review, requiring nearly six months steady work on it.

"The praise given the new Douglas county cook book by those women who have already called for their copies is most gratifying," J. B. Toles, KRNR manager, said this morning. "We are endeavoring with KRNR to render outstanding public service and are proud of this contribution to Roseburg and Douglas county home makers."

All those whose recipes were accepted for publication in the cook book are each entitled to a free copy, which may be obtained by calling at the office of the Roseburg News-Review. As soon as possible, it is planned to arrange distribution stations at other points in the county but this cannot be done for two or three weeks.

A limited number of extra copies were printed and these are being sold, while they last, for fifty cents each.

Unusual accidents injured two women. Mrs. William Bell fell on a Portland dance floor and broke her arm. Mrs. J. L. Wilson, Seaside, suffered head and leg injuries when a boulder crashed upon the crater wall trail near Medford.

GLENDALE LOGGERS LOSE TO PELICANS

GLENDALE, July 12.—The Glendale Loggers lost their first baseball game on their home diamond Sunday, when they bowed before the onslaught of the Klamath Falls Pelicans and were left by the wayside by a 6-to-2 count.

The Loggers did not buckle down in the pinches and, as a consequence, gave the revived cellar-dwellers their first victory of the season.

Lowell Brown, port-flipperd Pelican, pitched hard to give the Klamath team their first win, while Johnson, league strike-out king, was covered by 10 base hits which were mostly planted in the 6th and 8th innings, to give the Pelicans their six tallies.

Next Sunday, Glendale again takes on the Pelicans, this time in the Klamath City.
