BUNTS and BINGLES

Paul L. Patterson, state chairman of American Legion Junior baseball, in a letter addressed to E. A. Britton, enclosed a list of umpires acceptable to the state committee to work the games to be played here during the state convention. This list includes the names of Ken Williams of Grants Pass, Carl King of Cottage Grove, Frisco Edwards of Salem and Harry Dillon, of Garbarino, and Spec Burke of Portland. These men are all high type baseball officials and at least two or possibly three of them will be seen in action during the big series between the Oregon and Washington champions.

Mr. Patterson does not exclude the services of any other qualified association umpire in southern Oregon. The man selected, however, will have to meet the approval of the state baseball committee.

Three umpires were used at the state series last year. They were Spec Burke, Jude Moreland and Pete Deguire. The series was handled in good shape and there was hardly a squawk over a decision. Deguire and Moreland are not included in this year's list, but any of the men named above will do a splendid job.

From reports filtering in relative to the inter-state playoff between Oregon and Washington, the kids this year are going to play before the biggest crowds Oregon will have ever turned out to a Junior Legion game. This will not be the case. After going through a hot state series in their respective states, they will be able to face any sort of a crowd and not even know they are present. It is to be a mighty sweet baseball series and the crowds are always interested in contests of that nature. There will be plenty of color, plenty of sparkling play and a baseball-crazy crowd of fans.

One would think that the advantage in staging an inter-state playoff in a convention city would be all in favor of the home team. This will not be so. No matter who our team will be, plenty of Washington fans will be on hand to cheer and encourage them. That is the spirit of the Legion. It will be worth the price of admission just to see these fans really go to town with their rooting.

One thing hasn't been overlooked. If these Douglas county lads win the Oregon state championship enough seats couldn't be put in Finlay field to seat the crowds that would come to support them. Due to the fact that some of the players on this team come from Myrtle Creek, Daye Creek, Riddle, Glide, Oakland, Yoncalla, Roseburg and way points, practically the whole county would be interested in the series. There certainly wouldn't be very much work done by the baseball fans of the county during the three days of the convention.

The winners of the Washington-Oregon series will go right on to the regional tournament in which the eleven western states will be represented. From there probably to some spot in the middle west for the great western playoff. The winner there will represent the western half of the United States in a game with the champions of the eastern section. This is sometimes called the "little world's series" and is usually played some place on the east coast. We think these new Douglas county uniforms (promised if we take Eugene) would look mighty good in these eastern tournaments.

The only regrettable thing about such an occurrence would be that at least one and possibly two of our youngsters would never come back. That is, they would only come back for visits during the fall and winter—like Larry French for instance.

Referring back to the possibility of new uniforms, those suits would be made more attractive by new arm emblems purchased for the team by Roy Young. Roy has purchased these ornaments bearing the American Legion emblem, to be placed on all of the squad uniforms, and is donating the emblems as his personal contribution to Junior baseball.

Harry Baird, of Wilbur, was a business visitor in this city yesterday.

Daily Devotions

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS
The daily tasks of life play their good part in the life of us all, both in the making of Content and Happiness, and in the building of character. God intended we should work and when we rob people of their divine right they soon find trouble. God knew that idleness was a bad thing and that laziness was utterly demoralizing. Help us to be workmen not to be ashamed, taking up every task that comes to us with honest purpose and willing mind. Make all our toil as a service unto thee, Amen.

LOST SHIP FEARED EXPLOSION VICTIM

TAMPA, Fla., July 22.—(AP)—Hope of finding alive the 22 persons aboard the British motorship Nunoeca faded today with discovery of traces of a ship's cargo nearly 100 miles from the missing vessel's course.

Coast guardsmen found a charred piece of timber fastened to an oil drum which they said strengthened the belief that Nunoeca was shattered by an explosion. The ship has not been heard from since she set out July 4 from Grand Cayman island for Tampa under command of Captain Moses L. Kirkconnell. Captain Cecil M. Gabbett, divisional coast guard commander directing an extensive hunt for the 110-foot craft, said he was informed by the American consul at Georgetown, Grand Cayman, the Nunoeca loaded 60 Texas oil containers in its hold before leaving. The drums were marked "Texas company." Provisions for only about six days and water for not more than 11 days were carried by the Nunoeca, which usually made the voyage from Georgetown to Tampa in five days at the most.

DAKS BEAT BEAVERS IN TWELFTH FRAME

By the Associated Press.
Facing their severest baseball test of the season, the Oakland A's won only one game away from first place today by virtue of a 13-inning victory in the opener of a 12-game series in Portland. Seattle, pacing the Pacific Coast league parade, hammered out a 7-3 win over the Sacramento Senators, but San Francisco Missions and Portland, other first division clubs, lost their series openers.

The Oaks broke through in the 12th to trim fourth-place Portland, 7-4, while the Missions fell before San Diego, 5-4. Los Angeles continued its drive for a first division berth by winning the league's second 12-inning contest from San Francisco Seals, 6-4, and crept within a game of fourth place. Oakland had the game won from Portland until the ninth inning, when the Beavers scored three runs off La Rocca to tie the score, 4-4. Olds, who replaced La Rocca, allowed only one hit in the three innings he worked. His single started the A's on to a three-run rally in the final canto. Glynn hit three for five, including a homer, for Oakland. Six double plays helped the five pitchers who toiled.

In San Francisco, Gibson lost an overtime pitched duel to Salveson when Los Angeles bunched hits to score three runs and break a tie. Gibson pitched two-hit ball for eight innings, then allowed three hits each in the ninth and tenth. The victory was Salveson's 11th in a row.
