PRE-CONVENTION Paragraphs
By W. H. HAILLEE, Executive-Secretary, Convention Commission.

A telegram reached Al Bashford from Tom Young, commander of Klamath Falls post of the American Legion. Tom says the Klamath Falls delegation is coming to the convention via Pullmans and that they already have two cars sold out. This three weeks before the convention. He said that we could expect a train load of Klamath delegates and they all expected to participate in everything they could enter. They are bringing a drum corps, a Sons' drill team, Legion and auxiliary marching organization and two or three other stunts that they want to keep under cover for a while. The Klamath Falls outfit is a live bunch and they will be much in evidence during the convention.

Rose City post band of Portland will be in Roseburg during the convention. This is a real band of all Legion members. They are scheduled for almost continuous appearances during the four days of the convention and their music will win the hearts of Roseburg people who already understand and appreciate good music. The Rose City band is scheduled to play at the opening of the convention.

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

POLLY AND HER PALS

Ickes, PWA Worker

Robert H. Ickes, son of the Secretary of the Interior, is shown above at work as inspection clerk on the $3,000,000 Aberjona PWA sewer construction job at Bedford, Mass. Ickes, Sr., is reported to have asked that his son, fresh out of college, be given hard work to do.

Incidentally there will be something new in entertainment at this convention. Over at Klamath Falls lives one Carl Cook. Perhaps we should say the one and only Carl Cook. Carl is a Legionnaire and a good one. He is city jurile officer, but, unlike most officers, all the kids in Klamath Falls run to Carl rather than from him. He is about the best "boy" man we ever saw. Well, Carl, who toots a mean bugle in the drum corps, coaches drum corps marching, trains the auxiliary corps, works on Junior Legion baseball, sponsors the Klamath Falls Knot Hole club and works on the police force when not otherwise occupied, has a new organization. He has developed a Sons of Legion military company and, according to all reports, they are good. They are coming to the convention, and disdain such soft accommodations as hotel beds, restaurant meals and the like. They will be housed in their pup-tents, do their own cooking and maintain their own camp. Look for these little soldiers at the convention.

This little Sons outfit from Klamath Falls is full of tricks. The members are coming to the convention to help their dads have a good time. They don't want to be in the way. They are equipped and prepared to take care of themselves. They will do guard duty, act as traffic officers, or as escorts. In addition they are putting on a company drill at Finlay field on Wednesday night as a part of the program and will be in the parade on Thursday night. These kids are in uniform and carrying vicious looking wooden guns. They will be a real feature of the convention.

Last week the ladies of the auxiliary staged a sale of white caps and met with wonderful response. So much so, in fact that the threatened kangaroo court was almost unnecessary. Twenty-five hundred caps were obtained for this purpose and they are almost entirely sold out. The object of this cap sale was (two-fold). First, the profits derived will pay for the entire auxiliary convention and secondly the caps call attention to the dates of the convention to every visitor to Roseburg. This second purpose is probably the most important. It is an old advertising practice. Some communities resort to the wearing of antiquated clothing or the growing of beards for this purpose but the ladies of the auxiliary felt that the caps would do as much. Wear your cap so as not to lose the value of this advertising. It is important that as many Legionnaires as possible be attracted to this great convention. Five thousand guests are expected. Figure it out for yourself. They will be here three or four days. What commercial benefit will that be to Roseburg and surrounding area?

Believe it or not, we have a complaint. We have it upon good authority that one of our up-to-the-minute ladies' apparel shops is swamped with orders for summery clothes for the convention. It cannot keep its stock up. It is overworked. Women are snatching up, as soon as it comes in, everything that will be suitable for the different features of the convention. Banquets, teas, luncheons, dinners, dances, receptions, reunions, bridge and even golf are on the program. Our ladies have a part in all these and are preparing themselves well in advance. We have heard no word from the men's shops will have their run at usual, the women are more foresighted that the men and that the men's shops will have their run at the last minute.

Senator Frederick Steiwer is lending the convention commission his able assistance in securing from the war department additional housing facilities. Fred is that way.

Will Visit Over Week-End—Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Schloeman and small son, Melvin, of this city, are spending the week-end in Portland visiting.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation for the kindness and sympathy shown by our friends during our recent bereavement, and for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. John Roberts and family.
