MRS. C. S. HEINLINE CLOSES PIANO SCHOOL AND MOVES TO PORTLAND

The Heinline conservatory, for the past twenty-six years an outstandingly prominent music studio in Roseburg, was closed permanently this week by Mrs. C. S. Heinline, who left this morning to reside in Portland, where Mr. Heinline is now located. Mrs. Heinline opened her conservatory in Roseburg twenty-six years ago and during the entire time has personally conducted and supervised the many departments of music and art maintained at the studio. Teachers of voice, dancing, violin, various musical instruments, dramatic art and painting, have been employed by Mrs. Heinline to equip the conservatory with the very finest of instruction for her large classes. Numerous students of the school have received awards for their talent and instruction obtained at the conservatory.

Besides conducting one of the leading music conservatories in this city, Mrs. Heinline has been prominent in civic work and in the Methodist Episcopal church, where she has been director and pianist for the church choir for many years. She is a past president of the Business and Professional Women's club in this city and for the past three years has served as president for the fourth successive year. Her moving to Portland makes it necessary for her to resign this position. She organized the Roseburg Choral club three years ago and has acted as its director since that time.

Beauty Secrets of Screen Stars Will Be Brought to Roseburg by Studio on Wheels

Analyses of Complexions Offered to Feminine Visitors By Expert in Make-Up Allurement; Perfect Features Not Necessary to Create Charming Illusions.

The allure of Joan Crawford... the wistful charm of Norma Shearer! Women the world over have admired... these fundamental characteristics which made possible the rise to screen fame achieved by these famous Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer stars.

And yet... the illusions of allurement, the glamour, and charm radiated by these stars are accountable in a marked measure to the proper and efficient application of a correct make-up ensemble. That is the opinion of Marcia LaPine, motion picture make-up expert, who as a Max Factor artist has had years of experience in making up many of the famed beauties at the mammoth Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in Culver City, California.

And in this respect it is her emphatic contention that just as Joan Crawford's make-up gives her beauty that intangible touch of allurements, just as Jean Harlow emphasizes glamour and often youthful sophistication; as Norma Shearer's intensifies her native womanly charm, so every woman can, through the magical art of make-up properly applied, bring out and accentuate all the highlights of her natural attractiveness and individual personality.

The fascinating secrets that the screen stars of Hollywood have learned in dramatizing their beauty with make-up will be revealed to women of this city by Miss LaPine when the elaborate Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer traveling motion picture studio visits the Indian theatre here on Monday, 4 to 6 p. m.

Feminine visitors to the lavishly equipped studio-on-wheels will be permitted to consult the Max Factor make-up expert to receive personal make-up advice and to have their complexions analyzed, if it is requested.

Revelations Promised "Strange as it may seem," Miss LaPine declares, "perfect features and perfect beauty are not at all necessary in creating an illusion of beauty—either for screen work or social purposes. In Hollywood the Max Factor studios work night and day to develop new tricks of make-up, and it would be a revelation to most people outside the film colony to observe what the correct application of make-up will do for even ordinary features."

Horseshoe and games were enjoyed by the guests during the evening hours.

LOVELY CHURCH WEDDING UNITES ALEXIS LYLE AND JOHN T. RUYAN

Outstandingly impressive and beautiful among the many recent mid-summer weddings, was that which united Miss Alexis Lyle, popular member of the younger set in Klamath Falls, and John Truman Ruyan at St. Paul's Episcopal church on Friday, July 24, at 2:30 in the afternoon.

In the presence of one hundred guests, the bridal procession entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's procession played on the organ by Mrs. George McIntyre, who also accompanied Miss Virginia West singing "Beloved, It Is Morn." Miss Lyle, followed by her honor attendants, Mrs. Robert Fulton and Miss Louise Webber of Portland, was escorted to the altar by her cousin, Ralph Huntington of San Francisco.

The groom met them at the altar, attended by Robert Fulton, best man. The bride was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Alexander J. Lyle, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Hale H. Eubanks in a lovely setting of pink and white gladioli, ferns and palms. Pewes reserved for the families were also decorated. The recessional was Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Ushers for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Ruyan and Mrs. William Lyle. Miss Lyle was gown in a pale pink net floor-length redingote with neck-band, bow and belt of pink grosgrain ribbon over French blue net and taffeta under-gown. A pale pink taffeta halo turban with shoulder length circular veil of delicate pink silk net completed the costume. She carried a cascade bouquet of rapture roses and lilies of the valley.

The honor attendants were attired in French blue mousseline de sole floor length redingotes over blue taffeta with short puff sleeves, a cluster of pink rosebuds at the throat, and braided taffeta halos. Their round bouquets were of Cecil Bruner roses and forget-me-nots.

Mrs. Alexander Lyle, the bride's mother, wore a royal blue floor-length chiffon print and a wide-brimmed light grey felt hat with band and bow of matching blue chiffon. Gardenias formed her corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. John E. Ruyan of Roseburg, Ore., wore a deep blue lace gown set off by a gardenia corsage.

The wedding party and intimate friends were guests at a reception following the wedding, at which

ROSEBURG AUXILIARY MEMBERS TO GIVE TEA FOR VISITORS AUGUST 14

One of the largest social affairs of the year will be given Friday, August 14, in the form of a tea from four to 6:30 o'clock in the beautiful gardens of the W. F. Chapman home in Laurelwood, under the auspices of the Umpqua unit of the American Legion Auxiliary for all visiting auxiliary members, Legion wives and all members and Legion wives in this community.

Mrs. H. C. Church, who has so very successfully managed numerous large teas and social functions in Roseburg, is acting as general chairman of this tea. Her various committees include Mrs. C. B. Wade, Mrs. H. C. Waddell and Mrs. H. O. Pargeter, in charge of the table decorations; Mrs. L. E. McClintock, garden furnishings; Mrs. Willard Johnson and Mrs. L. A. Dillard in charge of the punch; Mrs. Will H. Gerretsen, cookies and tea cakes; Mrs. T. G. Watson and Mrs. H. A. Simmons in charge of registering the guests; Mrs. E. P. Tandy, Mrs. D. E. Faxson and Mrs. Paul Funkhouser, favors; Mrs. Carl E. Wimberly, chairman of the serving committee; Mrs. Harris Ellsworth, program; and Mrs. Walter Fisher, invitations and publicity.

The tea will be one of the most beautiful ever given here and will no doubt be the largest social function here in several years.

LADY GOLFERS WILL ENTERTAIN VISITING AUXILIARY AUGUST 14

The regular Thursday, August 13 day of Lady Golfers of the Country club has been given over to the Legion with Ivan Pickens acting as general chairman, and the Lady Golfers will take the following day, August 14, at the clubhouse to entertain visiting auxiliary members attending the state convention.

Only visiting auxiliary members having their own clubs with them have been invited to play golf in the morning and attend the noon luncheon. The luncheon for that day will be in charge of Mrs. H. C. Stearns and Mrs. Broadway, joint chairmen, Mrs. J. M. Judd, Mrs. W. F. Chapman, Mrs. A. A. Wilder, Mrs. C. B. Wade, Mrs. E. P. Tandy and Mrs. C. W. Wharton, (who compose the inter-club relations committee.)

Following the luncheon contract bridge will be played and all auxiliary members visiting here during the convention have been invited to spend the afternoon at the clubhouse. At four o'clock the auxiliary members will be entertained at the large tea to be given in the beautiful gardens of the W. F. Chapman home in Laurelwood.

Miss Lyle's mother was hostess at her home, 607 High street. The rooms and porch were made attractive with a profusion of pink gladioli, blue scabiosa, pink zinnias, ferns and other greenery.

The bride's table was centered with magnolia buds on a cover of Madeira cloth. The large three-tiered, decorated white wedding cake was cut by Mrs. George Gardiner, with Mrs. Perry Murray serving the tea, and Miss Alice Lyle, the punch. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Bryant Williams, Mrs. Don McLucas, Miss Virginia West, Mrs. Mahr Reymers, Mrs. Burge Mason, Jr., and Miss Lois Kilgore, all of whom wore long summer informal frocks and corsages of sweet peas and roses.

For her going away, the bride wore a powder blue starched suit with blouse and gloves of navy blue. Her purse, shoes and hat were of navy and white.

The couple left immediately after the reception for a short wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, after which they plan to make their home in Klamath Falls.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of the University of Oregon, where Miss Lyle was a member of Gamma Phi Beta and Mr. Ruyan of Delta Tau Beta.
