HORSES OF QUEEN'S FLOAT RUN AWAY

OREGON CITY, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Queen Mildred Oliver and her princesses got a real taste of the old west when horses drawing the royal float staged a runaway at the start of the territorial day parade here.

Spectators screamed in horror as the horses raced down a steep grade, threw their driver, and plunged on through the business section. They were finally stopped by City Patrolman Les Reif-schneider and National Guardsmen Albert Long and Lester Beard.

The runaway was caused by lack of brakes on the heavy float, which exerted too much pressure on the horses for them to withstand on the steep slope of Singer hill.

The driver, Emil Magnusson of Clackamas, was injured only slightly and the royal party not at all.

Improvements at Rose Theatre Begun

In an effort to further appeal to the comfort of the patrons of the Rose theatre, extensive improvements are now being made, according to Don Radabaugh, manager of the show house.

"We have installed a new and much better screen so that we may keep in progress with the strides being made in the theatrical world," Radabaugh stated. "In connection with this we have thoroughly worked over our sound system and have what I think is a top notch reproduction system. Improvements in our ventilation system are being made at the present time and when we are finished I am sure we can return the fine support of our patrons with a thoroughly modern and up-to-date theater."

YOUTHS BREAK JAIL AT THE DALLIES

AT THE DALLIES

THE DALLIES, Ore., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Clarence Campbell, 22 and Wilby Clark, 17, both of St. Joseph, Mo., asserted automobile thieves, escaped from the city jail last night after apparently reaching the key to their cell with an extension hook fashioned from a coat hanger.

Officers who did not discover the getaway until this morning, began a search for them near Pendleton, where a furniture truck believed to have been used in the escape, was found.

The suspects were arrested a week ago in asserted possession of an automobile stolen at Chardon, Neb., and a quantity of merchandise believed stolen during their trip west.

Officers from Missouri were en route here to return the youths for trial.

Name of Village is Moot Problem

SALEM, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Whether to call the small community on the territorial secondary highway southwest of Junction City in Lane county, "Franklin" or "Smithfield" was the problem confronting the state highway department.

Investigation had shown that the postoffice there was originally operated under the name "Smithfield" but was later changed to "Franklin." Residents of the community had protested against use of the new name, which was used on the highway signs.

Some officials suggested that an election would be the easiest way to settle the problem.

As his republican opponent for the presidency sped eastward to speak in Pennsylvania, the president told his press conference that the way things looked now he planned no political speeches before the month preceding election.

James A. Farley had no comment on the president's decision to defer his personal campaign drive until October, but he said once the chief executive started on the campaign firing line he most likely would go to the Pacific coast.
