FUNERAL DIRECTORS
HOLD MEETING HERE

Funeral directors of southwestern and southern Oregon held their first joint meeting of the season in Roseburg last night. M. E. Ritter and Harry C. Stearns of Roseburg acted as hosts. Henry A. Schroeder, of Myrtle Point, president of the southwestern group, acted as chairman while Frank Perl of Medford, president of the southern group was sergeant-at-arms. Chas. W. Schroeder of Bandon told of his experiences during the disastrous forest fire in which his funeral parlors and equipment were burned. He was able to save part of his Unger and Mrs. Robert Unger, rolling stock which was used to transport the people and their belongings out of the danger zone and was finally sent with a full load of Bandon residents to Coquille. Short talks on subjects of professional interest were made by W. O. Campbell, Marshfield; A. M. Peterson, North Bend; C. W. Gano, Coquille; Frank W. Perl, Medford; Henry A. Schroeder, M. E. Ritter and Harry C. Stearns.

George S. Ryan, executive secretary of the Oregon, Washington and north Idaho division, reported on his recent trip around the state where he found more interest being taken in meetings and attendance practically 100 per cent. The southwestern group voted to hold their next meeting at the Coos Bay hotel in North Bend and the southern group decided they would meet in Klamath Falls. Officers members present were John A. Unger and Mrs. Robert Unger, Reedsport; A. W. Larson, Klamath Falls; Earl W. Hergreen, North Bend and Miss Evelyn Gano of Coquille.
