Endowment Tea Held by Roseburg Woman's Club Entertains Large Number at Music and Art Studio

The largest and most successful endowment birthday tea to be enjoyed by the Roseburg Woman's club was a very charming affair Tuesday afternoon at the Roseburg Music and Art studio.

Mrs. J. F. Dillard and Mrs. Scott Williams were joint chairmen of the delightful affair, assisted by members of the club whose birthdays occurred between June and November.

The room was beautifully decorated with large bouquets of colorful berry sprays and greenery.

Mrs. W. M. Campbell, president, graciously presided and introduced the roll-call speakers.

Mrs. E. F. Tandy, "Hostess Ideas"; Mrs. C. E. Roberts, "International Relations"; Mrs. Paul Warren, "Vocabulary"; and Miss Janet Moffat, who spoke on public health.

Mrs. Campbell made announcements including the announcement of National Book week and the opening of the children's room and story hour at the Roseburg library.

Mrs. Campbell presented the program chairman, Miss Helen Casey, who presented the first act of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

At the close of the play, tea was served by the hostesses. The tea was in charge of Mrs. E. F. Tandy, who is prominently known for her unusual and artistic decorating motif.

The table, covered by a wine and silver lame cloth, was placed against the wall.

The officers of the club are especially appreciative to every committee working on this annual fall birthday tea.

The next regular meeting will be a one-thirty o'clock dessert luncheon at the clubhouse with Mrs. T. G. Watson as chairman of the program on "The American Home."

Mrs. W. M. Campbell, president, introduced Mrs. M. A. Mills, Mrs. Ottilie K. Ashton, Mrs. Mary F. Harding, Mrs. C. H. Ball, and Mrs. P. H. Jurgensen.
