

FIVE STAR WEEKLY

Section of
Roseburg News-Review
 Saturday, Nov. 28, 1936

Entire issue copyrighted 1936 by Five Star Publishing Corporation. Reproduction without permission prohibited. Great Britain rights reserved.

Pretty Girls

A MELODY OF YOUTH

—*— Into the great American melting pot of beauty comes the sleek, dark loveliness of the Mexican senorita, heady as a cup of wine—a swooning, voluptuous charm woven into a living tapestry of dark eyes and hair, lips as scarlet as a molten volcano, and skin burnished to a soft olive by the warm Mexican sun. Her's is a quick beauty, with emotions that come and go with the winds. Her melody is tempoed in allegro, her beauty with an exotic irresistibility.

Painted for this page
 by J. RIVAS