S. DEER CREEK SCHOOL PRESENTS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Last Friday evening under the auspices of the teacher, Miss Nancy Tizart, the fifteen pupils of the South Deer creek school presented a Christmas program at the grange hall to a capacity audience.

Opening with a Merry Christmas drill, the next number was a song, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," followed by a playlet, "Christmas Surprise."

Two recitations entitled "Christmas" by Richard Gilliam and Byron McKane, were followed by the song, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear," after which the youngsters presented a playlet, "Trouble in Santa Claus Land."

Charles Oleott Bailey recited "The Best Christmas," and June Hall, "Wait for Christmas," after which a play was presented, "When Santa Claus Flies the Powder." Another playlet, "An Extra Stocking," was followed by a recitation, "A New Christmas," by Lorraine Stride. Betty Jean Swirt played a piano solo, and all the little girls of the school presented the "Maule Tree," a playlet with Charles Melton and Charles Oleott Bailey as the two lost children.

An interesting feature was a short play by Byron McKane, Walter Paul and Pat Melton, who received Christmas gifts from an uncle who thought his sister's children were all girls instead of boys.

After the singing of "Jolly Old St. Nicholas," by the entire school, Santa Claus made his appearance and distributed gifts. The part of the holiday patron saint was well carried out by Ed Karcher.

The Christmas tree was beautifully decorated and after the serving of refreshments a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.
