FOOLISH TO JOIN UNION, FORD SAYS

Workers Will Lose Their Liberty, Get Nothing in Return, Assertion.

Liberty, Get Nothing in Return, Assertion.

DETROIT. April 13.—(AP)—Henry Ford said today that the provisions of the Wagner labor act "have been standard policies of the Ford Motor company for years," but added that its terms "might have been dictated by Wall street."

He said that "of course the Ford company" is subject to the terms of the law, when told that Chairman Madden of the unitonal labor relations board had made that assertion after the supreme court had upheld the Wagner act.

Ford said he did not intend to "put anything in the way of our men joining any union, any church or any lodge they like," but that he would advise them not to join a union. "That's foolish," he added, "and they will lose their liberty and won't get anything out of it. Two or three strikes have been settled already and they didn't get anything.

Ford declined to indicate what his course would be if the United Automobile Workers union made any domands upon him. "Ask me that when the demands are made," he replied.

Asked about wages, he said he intended to give "the Wall street crowd some competition," adding that "you can't compete on low wages." He would not say when he intended to increase the present $5 a day minimum or to what level he planned to raise it.

"If there are any union men in our plants, there are very few. I think," Ford said.

"My advice to the men and to all workingmen is to keep away from unions. Nobody ever got anything out of the union in the long run, excepting a very few concerns where there was very poor management."

Asked specifically what his idea of the Wagner act is, Ford said:

where there was very plot andagement.

Asked specifically what his idea of the Wasquer act is, Ford said:

"It still remains to be seen whether the act will work. We have not said the Wagner act has affected us in one way or the other. I don't see how it can as long as we go ahead as we have in the past."

one of the president's helpers as observing that "no man's land is now Roberts' land."

This referred to the widespread comment in the capital that Justice Roberts has held the balance of power in important decisions on the scope of tederal powers. Since he recently has been voting to uphold administration measures, some senators contend the court bill should be abandoned as unnecessary.

senators contour along the senators contour should be abandoned as unnecessary.

Postmaster General Farley, however, said last night in a speech at Philadelphia:

"That is an absurd idea. The circumstances that by a single vote the court austained the validity of several new deal measures furnishes no security of permanent liberalism on the high bench."

Declaring "our side has the votes," Farley accused opponents of the court bill of filibustering by prolonging the hearings.

Despite opposition by Senators Ashurat and Burke to compromise by adding less than the proposed six justices to the court unless members of 70 retire, talk of such a proposal persisted.

OREGON HAS BIG TOTAL OF UTILITIES

CORVALLIS, April 14.—(AP)— It may be hard to believe, but Ore-gon has 40 railroads, 89 telephone companies and 30 electric childres, as well as many miscellaneous concerns under the regulation of the public utilities commission, N. G. Wallace, commissioner, reported to the Corvallis Engineers' club.

Increased interest in rural elec-trification is indicated by the de-mand for 132 examinations of rural electrical extensions during the past year, said Wallace. Rate reductions obtained inrely through negotiation amounted to more than $100,000 for the year.

It used to be, Dr. Hunter remarked, that a person was a good litizen if he kept out of trouble and especially was he a fine character if he left something for his family when he was gone. But the time has come when good citizenship embraces the responsibility of adding to the welfare of the community.

Citizens must educate themselves to control of their prejudices and the home and the school is the means of doing it, he said. "We must teach our young people to yote not with the emotions aroused through pressure groups and by demi-gods but by intelligent thinking and knowledge of facts," the chancellor counselled. Byrnes is surveying the financial conditions of states to determine whether they could take over a larger portion of the relief load next year.

In his original budget estimates, the president said receipts would match outlays in the fiscal year beginning July 1 if relief spending could be held to $1,537,000,000.
