

CONTROL OF CROPS AGAIN CONSIDERED

Problem Rises in Decision of U. S. Supreme Court Outlawing AAA.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(AP)—The administration again is considering "definite and positive production control" as part of a broad farm program.

Secretary Wallace and H. R. Tolley, agricultural adjustment administrator, made that disclosure to a house sub-committee in hearings on the agriculture department appropriation bill, submitted today to the house.

Each expressed a belief additional legislation supplementing the soil conservation act would be needed to obtain for the farmer his rightful share of the national income. Tolley added, however, he did not know how production control could be legislated in view of the supreme court's AAA decision.

(The court held in that case that the federal government could not regulate crop production.)

The agriculture department Tolley said, had been studying crop production control as part of a five-point program which would be added to soil conservation activities in an attempt to bring farm income and prices to parity with those of industry.

4 Points Considered

The other parts that have been under consideration for two or three months, he said, are:

1. Expansion of commodity loans on products held in storage by farmers to keep excess supplies, in years of heavy yields, from depressing prices.

2. Payment to farmers, in addition to soil conservation benefits for additional acreage reductions in years when supplies become too large.

3. Continued purchase of surpluses to remove them from the market.

4. Speaking of possibilities of assuring farmers stability of income, Wallace said: "I think that a system of commodity loans, backed in the end by production control that will sustain the commodity loans, will bring about that stability."

Big Problem Cited

"In order to be sure that the whole program would not fall down on account of an increase in particular supplies piling up in granaries, the failure on the part of the farmers to make the proper adjustments," Tolley said, "I feel that there should be provision, if possible, for definite and positive production control of specific commodities if and when supplies get out of hand."

"It would be our hope, of course, that this last resort or step would be something that would be put in to effect only under very exceptional circumstances."

A bit later, Rep. McFarlane (D., Tex.) remarked: "I would like to have Mr. Tolley tell the committee how we are going to approach that production-control problem in the light of the triple decision."

"I can not answer that," Tolley replied. "In our minds, it is not at all sure that any of these acts—even the soil conservation and the domestic allotment acts—would be upheld by the court."

Wrecking Trains Was His Hobby

Because "nothing ever happens around here," Frank R. King, Fresno, Cal., youth, tried to inject some excitement in his humdrum life by wrecking trains, he told officials. King, shown with an automobile axle he says he used in a derailing attempt is charged with attempting to wreck four trains.

That President Roosevelt's court reorganization plan be submitted to the people in constitutional amendment form.

"It is time we stood up and were counted," said Mrs. Sisson, who wrote letters to the D. A. R. membership several weeks ago saying there were "dangers" in the president's plan.

Mrs. Sisson said there were members of the D. A. R. who felt the organization's membership might be affected adversely by a definite stand on the controversial court issue.

"I would be perfectly willing to lose 100 to 200 members on this issue," she said, "because it is of such paramount importance."

RATTLER NABBING SCIENCE RELATED

WATONGA, Okla., April 20.—(AP)—Mark Garvey is a rattlesnake hunter and it takes more than a couple of snake bites to stop him.

Garvey came over from his home at Geary, Okla., to lead 25 Watonga adventurers on a safari to Salt Creek valley to rid Blaine county of rattlesnakes.

Proper equipment for rattler hunting Garvey listed in order of importance:

1. A long pole (the longer the better).
2. A stick with a V notch in the end.
3. A lot of nerve.
4. Little thought for tomorrow.
5. A bulging hip pocket.

Literally speaking, Mark Garvey had a hand in on almost every catch—50 rattlers.

Garvey tried an experiment with the first one. With his bare hands he attempted to extract its fangs. Result: A big gash in the thumb. He insisted it was not a bite, only a scratch. He tried it again; another gash. Still he insisted he was unbiten.

Later Garvey nabbed a diamond-back behind the head. He fainted, pitching forward on his face.

Every man rushed forward to grab the snake for fear Garvey would drop it and be bitten.

Not Snake Hunter Garvey. He held the reptile clear and squeezed so hard it almost choked to death.

Revived, Garvey still hooted the theory of companions that the scratches on his neck were from poison fangs.

He passed out a second time, still denying snakes were getting their revenge. He was rushed to nearby Hitchcock.

A physician said Mark Garvey was suffering merely from heat and over-exertion.

FRANCO ASSUMES ROLE OF DICTATOR

SALMANCA, Spain, April 20.—(AP)—Inauguration Spain was converted today by Generalissimo Francisco Franco into an authoritarian state, after the pattern of Italy and Germany, with himself as virtual dictator of the territory his armies have wrested from the Spanish government.

By a single sweeping decree yesterday, the generalissimo outlawed all political parties except one under his sole leadership and took over all semi-military organizations as well.

The decree declared, however, the action did not "shut the door" to a possible restoration of the monarchy in Spain if Franco's armies emerge victorious from the ten months old civil conflict.

In his first reference to the possibility of a royalist restoration since the civil war began, Franco indicated the future might once again see a king on the throne of Spain.

GRANT FOR OREGON CAPITOL LOOMS

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Governor Martin of Oregon expressed confidence today his state would receive $450,000 from the PWA for state capitol development.

He made this statement following a conference with Senator Charles McNary and Colonel Horace Hackett, assistant PWA administrator.

E. J. Griffith, Oregon WPA administrator, said he would transfer sufficient labor to the PWA to absorb $300,000. This accounts for all but the sum involved in indirect employment in capital expansion.

Sympathetic interest has been expressed by the president who asked assurance 45 per cent of the grant would go to labor. Both the governor and Senator McNary said Griffith's certification and estimate of indirect labor from materials will meet the president's requirements.

LAUNDRY DRIVER SLUGGED, ROBBED

BAKER, Ore., April 21.—(AP)—Eugene Ostrom, local laundry truck driver, was attacked by one or two men and robbed of from $30 to $50 at the laundry plant Tuesday evening.

Ostrom was struck on the head, apparently with a "sap," when he started to lock a door leading to the dry cleaning department of the plant. The blow knocked him to the sidewalk and he was so badly dazed he did not realize his money bag was taken until a few minutes later. Ostrom did not see the robber as he was attacked from the rear.

BIGGER AND BETTER, CANYON CITY'S AIM

CANYON CITY, Ore., April 21.—(AP)—While the charred ruins of what had been the town's business section still smoldered, citizens of Canyon City planned today to rebuild "bigger and better than ever."

"We may be down now, but we are far from out," Mayor R. W. Cozad summed up the sentiment of the community, rich in the tradition of the indomitable "old west."

Efforts will be made immediately to secure WPA assistance and rebuilding will begin as soon as possible, the mayor said.

Actual financial damage from the fire was estimated at $100,000.

This represents about $45 per capita, of which slightly less than $4 is in coin and the rest in paper currency. In addition, stocks of money are kept in the treasury and federal reserve banks to meet demands.

DOG KEEPS IN TRIM

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Adkin recently took their pet dog to have its ears clipped. Two weeks later they asked the veterinarian if they should bring the dog back for observation.

"Bring him back," said the doctor. "Why, he's been coming back by himself every morning since the first visit."

NO DEATHS AT BUSIEST SPOT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—At the traffic intersection which Los Angeles claims is the busiest in the world there hasn't been a fatal accident in seven and a half years.

Robert L. Burns, president of the city council, estimates that 200,000,000 automobiles and 10,000,000 people have passed the intersection of Wilshire boulevard and Western avenue in that period, without a fatality.

U. S. FILES APPEAL IN PENSION RULING

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(AP)—The government asked the supreme court today for a final decision in the next few weeks on constitutionality of the old-age pension provisions of the social security act.

It filed an appeal from a ruling by the federal circuit court at Boston last Friday holding unconstitutional the old-age pension section of the measure.

At the same time, counsel for the Edison Electric Illuminating company of Boston and George F. Davis, who won the Boston litigation, notified the supreme court they did not oppose a review of the controversy or the setting of an early date for argument.

The government attorneys expressed the opinion this would insure a final opinion before June on this part of the new deal legislation.

BRAND TO TESTIFY AS COURT BILL FOE

Circuit Judge James T. Brand of Marshfield left Portland by airplane last night for Washington, D. C., where he will testify before the senate committee considering the administration's plan for supreme court reorganization. Judge Brand, who is a member of the board of governors and past president of the Oregon State Bar association, has been speaking aggressively throughout Oregon against the proposed change in the supreme court.

Circuit Judge Carl E. Wimberly of Roseburg will conduct court in Coos and Curry counties for Judge Brand, during the latter's absence. He is leaving the last of the week for Coquille to attend to court matters there.
