OREGON LABORITES FACE C.I.O. ISSUE

MARSHFIELD, June 21.—(AP)—Prominent among issues which are expected to highlight the 35th annual convention of the Oregon State Federation of Labor, which officially opens here today, is consideration of John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization and its threatened inroads on the labor bodies affiliated with the state federation.

With the Coos Bay area reputedly a hotbed of C. I. O. sentiment, it would be impossible for the subject to remain buried in the maze of convention detail, labor observers believe, even though strong factions, mostly from Portland, have come here to weld harmony in state labor ranks and quiet the Lewis issue.

Labor leaders do not deny, however, that the convention will probably be asked for an expression of allegiance to the American Federation of Labor. This, they also are forced to admit, is where the fireworks are likely to start.

Another important matter which is expected to occasion considerable debate is the requested affiliation of labor with the Oregon Commonwealth Federation. Previously expressed labor sentiment indicates, however, that the convention will cast it aside, preferring to continue its alliance with the state grange and the state farmers' union.

LIONS DEDICATE PARK TO OFFICER

MEDFORD, Ore., June 21—(AP)—The opening business sessions of the fourteenth annual state convention of the Lions International got under way here today with a joint breakfast attended by the Lady Lions auxiliary. Registration for the meet totals 186.

Selection of a convention city for next year, and election of state officers, will be held tomorrow. Salem, Corvallis and Enterprise are listed as convention city applicants.

Yesterday afternoon witnessed the dedication of the George A. Prescott Memorial park and the unveiling of a plaque, atop Roxy Ann, a local eminence. The dedicatory speech was made by Attorney E. E. Kelly, acting for Governor Martin, who was unable to attend. The park was a Lions' project. Prescott was a charter member and a police officer here, slain in line of duty four years ago.

A salmon barbecue was the final entertainment feature of the Sunday program.

The convention will close tomorrow.
