VICTIM OF DOUBLE AUTO CRASH DIES

BAKER, June 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Cornelia French Brown Mitchell, 27, of Baker died in a hospital Monday night from the effects of injuries sustained in a double automobile accident on the Baker-Haines section of the Old Oregon Trail early Sunday morning.

Mrs. Mitchell was injured when an automobile driven by Earl Garland of Baker plunged from the highway one and a half miles south of Haines. After the occupants of the automobile had been given first aid treatment and were lying along the shoulder of the road awaiting the arrival of ambulances, another automobile, occupied by Harland Jeffords, Lorin Cassidy and Adelle Lewis, overturned the Garland automobile onto Mrs. Mitchell and threw the other injured into the horror-pit.

District Attorney Goidwin said this morning "the death of Mrs. Mitchell certainly brings us to a point where we must check for the responsibility for manslaughter."

The deceased, born in Baker October 31, 1909, is survived by a son and daughter, Russell and Beverly of Eugene.

GOLD QUEST YIELDS LITTLE TO JOBLESS

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(AP)—The "depression miners," adventurous unemployed who took to the hills with pick and pan when staid employment failed, averaged but $72 a year from the gold they found, Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins said.

So much attention was given to gold mining as a method of self-support that a survey was conducted by the bureau of mines to determine the results, Hopkins said, the results "debunking" statements to the effect that, given a grubstake, the unemployed could become independent.

In Oregon, as in other states, the miners worked an average of 45 days, averaging $1.60 a day in gold, the survey revealed.

"It (a joint survey) demonstrates conclusively the futility of following the suggestion, frequently made in recent years, that large numbers of people be encouraged to become gold miners as a means of solving the unemployment problem," the bureau said.

The survey showed 28,000 unemployed who turned to small placer gold mining sold some gold during 1935. Thousands made nothing.

LATE APPLICANTS IN SWARM FOR PERMITS

Related applicants for renewals of permits to drive automobiles overflowed the courthouse corridors today as they awaited their turn to pay their fee and secure their renewals. There were also a large number of persons over the age of 70 years, and previously unlicensed drivers, who were taking the examination required of those over the age limitation or of new drivers. The examiners will be in Roseburg Wednesday and are deputizing another exceptionally busy day. An office is being conducted daily to handle applications for those who are not required to take the examination. All drivers' permits expire simultaneously at midnight June 30.

PORTLAND AIDING CANYON CITY FUND

PORTLAND, June 29.—(AP)—A city-wide committee, headed by Phil Melschman, presented its drive today to raise $5,000 in voluntary subscriptions to assist Canyon City rehabilitate its fire-damaged business district.

The funds will be used for matching purposes when the eastern Oregon community makes application for federal aid.

No direct solicitation will be made but members of the committee expect business men having commercial interests in the Canyon City area and former residents of the damaged town will forward checks voluntarily.

Baker and Pendleton residents have made similar donations.

VANDERLIP, NOTED FINANCIER, DIES

NEW YORK, June 29.—(AP)—Frank A. Vanderlip, 72, veteran financier, died in New York hospital today after an illness of several weeks.

A native of Aurora, Ill., Mr. Vanderlip started life as a machinist's apprentice and rose to the presidency of the National City Bank of New York, one of the world's largest financial institutions, before he retired in 1919.

He entered the hospital June 16 for what his son, Frank A. Vanderlip Jr., described as "observation following an illness in California eight months ago."

IRWIN INDICTED ON 3 MURDER COUNTS

Irwin called his brother, who personally presented the case to the grand jury to ask for three first degree murder indictments—one for each of the victims, Mrs. Mary Gedeon, her lovely daughter, "Ronnie," the artist's model, and Frank Byrnes.

Terror Spell Ends

It was Mrs. Kudner, Irwin's confidante, said, who was the victim of the homicide. It was Mrs. Kudner whom he "loved and hated" and whose death would bring "the way out."

of his mental sufferings. Since the murders, Mrs. Kudner and her husband, Joseph, have been living secretly in Manhattan, but today when they came to criminal courts building they disclosed they had moved back to Woodside, Queens, from which they were driven in terror when they suspected Irwin as the slayer of "Ronnie" and her mother.

At the Tombs, Warden William A. Adams said Irwin spent a quiet night and showed himself to be a "model prisoner."

Irwin, the warden said, quickly acclimated himself to the routine of the prison. He is one of 650 prisoners, 35 of whom are charged with various degrees of homicide.

Dodge indicated beforehand he would seek the electric chair for Irwin. Anticipating Leibowitz's plea of insanity and aware that the Brooklyn lawyer has saved 123 clients from the death penalty, he has never lost a client to the executioner—the district attorney will seek to disprove insanity as quickly as possible.

BOMBINGS STILL BETHLEHEM PLANT

Creary said he would question eye-witnesses before determining what steps to take.

Frank Moltrup, president of the company, said it was "too bad" the entire blame rests with the "picks."

There was no attempt to reopen the Moltrup plant today.

Hall was specifically charged with the illegal possession of explosives. Three follow unionists, said City Solicitor George Buchwalter, have made statements charging he plotted systematic bombings, including the destruction by high explosives of the homes of non-strikers.

The three are in jail on the same charge. Bond was set at $25,000. They are:

Arthur Scott, John Borawele and George Bundage.

Warren union officials said they knew nothing about the charges against Hall and the others, except what had been reported in newspapers.

Harry Wines, a member of the strike committee, said Hall was not a fugitive, but had left town yesterday on business.

At Pittsburgh, Philip Murray, chairman of the SWOC, declined any comment. He said he did not know Hall.

Explosives Cache Found

Officials said the explosives were stored in union headquarters in Warren for several days. Enough, they said, to wreck the entire block.

As to that, Wines asserted it would have been an easy matter for anyone to slip into the building unnoticed and conceal any bulky object, since both front and back doors were left open day and night.

Police Chief D. J. Gillen made it plain that no members of the strike committee were suspected of having any knowledge of bombing plans.

Men Return to Jobs

Companies in the Youngstown area, returning to normal schedules under police and national guard protection, said all but one small plant was in operation today as they prepared to resume three-shift production.

Sheet and Tube Co., reopened its rod and wire plant this morning. Officials announced about 900 of the 1,400 normally employed had reported for work.

Republic Steel reopened its Bessemer plant and said that 700 out of a normal force of 1,300 men had returned.

The only mill not yet operating is the small Hubbard unit of Sheet and Tube where 120 men are normally employed.

Sheet and Tube operations officials claimed 8,700 men reported for work today on the day shift and approximately 3,000 on last night's shift. The company employs a total of 14,500 men in Youngstown.

Kidnaping Charged

Police and national guardsmen arrested 13 men during the night, in Youngstown, four of them on charges of kidnaping Ivor W. Gardener, a steel worker, and forcing him to sign an SWOC membership card.

The quartet arrested on the warrant Gardener obtained from Justice of the Peace Charles W. Martin, included Frank Gregg, president of the steel union's lodge in Campbell.

The other arrests were made for assault, trespassing, intoxication, and suspicion.

Automobiles rolled into the gates of Republic mills at Warren and Niles for the day shift in greater numbers than yesterday, which marked heaviest traffic into these strike-crippled plants since the walkout.

C. R. Wheeler, assistant to the district manager, said 4,700 men in the two plants had returned to their jobs, and that all divisions, except the "hot mills" and construction and maintenance crews, were fully manned. The hot mills, which have employed around 1,000 men here and 500 at Niles, remained closed.

The strike committee, quick to dispute the company's employment figures, said: "By actual count both yesterday and today we know the figures issued by the company are more than double the number of men who have returned to work."

Pipelines Blasted

The two explosions at Johnston ripling new pipelines supplying water to the big Franklin mill and the Gaultier plant—major units of the Cambria works—may mean the closing of the entire works for two weeks, General Manager C. R. Elliott said.

He immediately ordered five blast furnaces banked, and closed 15 open hearths and the Franklin rolling mill. It was reported that the company's lines from the Johnston system.

Two hundred state police closed every road leading to the works.

Because the open hearth and the blast furnace supply raw materials, it was probable other units would be affected.

The first explosion about midnight broke the six-foot line running from the ten billion gallon Quemanahoning dam, 11 miles south of Johnston, to the Franklin mill, which consumes half of the water used by the Cambria works.

The second blast at 3:05 a. m., was heard for more than two miles. It snapped the 36-inch line from Border dam to the Gaultier mill, second largest division of the works.

Before the blasts curtailed the water supply, the corporation had speeded up working schedules while strikers stubbornly held their lines about the largest of seven gates to the mills.

"Our schedule is rapidly returning to normal," Sidney Evans, management representative, had told newspapermen as he escorted them through the doors.
