SEALS MISS CHANCE

Second-Place Team Drops Twin Bill as Sactoes

By the Associated Press.

San Francisco's Seals were a rame and a half behind the leading Sacramento Solons in the Pacific Coast baseball league today because the San Francisco Missions were brutally lacking in any degree of civic pride.

With the Seals only a half a game behind a wavering Sacramento team the Missions upset the apple cart yesterday by deflating their hometown rivals twice, Il to 2 and 5 to 2.

Had the Missions been considerate enough to bow to the Seals the latter would be tied with the Solons for first place, Sacramento divided a twin bill with the Portland Beavers. Portland took the opener, 16 to 2, but dropped the second, 4 to 3. The Beavers took five out of eight games from the league leaders.

San Diego won six of its nine games with Los Angeles and moved to within two and a half games of the top. The Padres shared a twin bill with the Angels yesterday, blanking them in the curtain raiser, 5 to 3.

History was made last wook by the Oskiand Acoras who won their raiser, 5 to 0 and losing the nightcan, 5 to 3.

History was made last week by the Oakland Acoras who won their first series since the season opened. And how they won it!

Taking a twin bill from Seattle yesterday, 7 to 4 and 5 to 4, the Acoras ran their total of wins for the series to seven games while Seattle managed to win two. The games were marked by 39 base nits which included six homers, two by Art Hunt of the tribe, the leagues leading circuit clouter.
His total is now 23.

The Missions made their double

The Missims made their double defeat of the Seals even more bitter by beating Sam Gibson, the league's topmotch pitcher. It was his second defeat of the season.
