

CANADIAN JUNIOR BALL TEAM DATED

Touring Lads Will Battle Douglas County Boys in 3-Game Series.

On international tour, an all-Canadian junior baseball team from Vancouver, British Columbia, will play the Douglas County American Legion Juniors a three-game series in Roseburg on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of next week.

The traveling team was unable to secure games at Salem and Eugene, where stops were originally scheduled, and have decided to spend three days in Roseburg. They will play an afternoon game Sunday, and evening games, starting at 6, Monday and Tuesday, according to present plans.

The first Canadian invasion in the United States, the juniors' trip has been arranged by American Legion officers and sponsors of junior baseball in western Canada. Special support was given the tour by Hugh Albert Fowler, Legion post at Vancouver.

As Roseburg is supporting the only Legion Junior baseball team south of Eugene this season, the Douglas county team has had little practice in competitive games, and the chairman, W. H. Gerretsen, is greatly pleased by the prospect of contests against stiff competition.

It is practically assured, he said, that the Douglas county Juniors will go to Woodburn for the state championship series, and the games with the Vancouver boys should afford an opportunity to get in some real practice in preparation for that series.

"We believe we have one of the best junior teams this year that Douglas county has ever turned out," Gerretsen said today. "The trouble is, the boys haven't been able to show what they can do. We hope the fans of Roseburg and vicinity will turn out for the series next week and give those lads the kind of support they deserve."

LONGSHOREMEN'S CONTROL AT ISSUE

Ultimatum From Bridges Meets With Defiance by Joseph P. Ryan.

NEW YORK, July 12.—(AP)—Threats of raids and counter-raids in the nation's union labor camps today touched off the incipient "open warfare" between John L. Lewis, C. I. O., and the American Federation of Labor for control of 40,000 members of the International Longshoremen's association.

As a people to the struggle, leaders on both sides held conferences behind locked doors.

Principals in every indication of fight to the finish, with Joseph P. Ryan, veteran I. L. A. president, declaring:

"We're not taking ultimatums from anybody."

The ultimatum was served on Ryan yesterday by Harry Bridges, leader of the Pacific Coast longshoremen, the so-called "brains" of the 1937 west coast maritime strike which paralyzed shipping for 27 days, cost an estimated $100,000,000 and ended only after a general strike in San Francisco.

Bridges informed Ryan that the C. I. O. was determined to invade the nation's waterfront and enroll both longshoremen and warehouse workers.

Ryan is defiant. He warned Ryan that unless he abandoned the American Federation of Labor, with which the I. L. A. has been affiliated for 25 years, the C. I. O. would take Ryan's organization away from him.

Ryan retorted: "I'm not interested in any statement that Australian communist (Bridges) makes. To me he is like a prickly heat."

Ryan said he intended "retaliating" in other C. I. O. dominated fields if Bridges pushed his ultimatum to a showdown.

In reply, Bridges announced that the C. I. O. would charter piers and warehouse men on the east coast under separate charters and carry the fight directly into Ryan's own territory.

Officials in the rival camps declined to comment on what ramifications might develop from the inter-union feud, particularly as to the possibility of further costly maritime strikes such as have plagued both coasts during the past three years.

Bridges demanded for C. I. O. control of the country's waterfront workers just a flat refusal from a three-man I. L. A. committee, which declared it could find "nothing beneficial" in the C. I. O. proposal of "any improvement over the system practiced by the I. L. A. for a quarter of a century."

Bridges snarled Ryan himself refused to talk personally with Bridges, with whom he clashed repeatedly in the past on questions of jurisdiction and cooperation between Atlantic and Pacific coast longshoremen.

"If our answer to Mr. Bridges is not plain enough," Ryan said in a letter, "we may be forced to extend our activities to the field of organization that are interfering with ours. We may have to retaliate."

He did not amplify the statement or indicate whether the "retaliation" would include possible widespread raids by the A. F. of L. into such C. I. O.-dominated fields as steel workers, miners, garment makers and automobile workers.

Bridges outlined his reasons for "joining" the A. F. of L.-controlled longshoremen's association after delivering the ultimatum to Ryan's committee.

HAL SCHUMACHER STILL ON TOBOGGAN

Giants' Once Star Pitcher Costs His Team Chance to Overtake Cubs.

By BILL HONI (Associated Press Sports Writer) From a shining light to a feeble flicker in two short seasons—that's the strange, sad story of Hal Schumacher.

In 1933, his first full season with the New York Giants, Schumacher won 19 games. The following year he pitched up 25. Two years ago he was 19 again and each time Schumacher kept his percentage above the 500 level.

Today he is in a terrific nose-dive. Sixteen times he has been sent into action as Bill Terry's starting pitcher. On all but three occasions—the last on June 1 when he hurled a ten-hitter to whip the Dodgers—he has failed to finish.

He failed again yesterday against the Phillies, a club the Giants had been in six out of nine games. Schumacher pitched out of a bad hole by a Mel Ott-initiated triple play in the first inning, dropped out of sight in the seventh. When he bowed out he had put on base five of the six runs the Phils scored in that inning to win the ball game by 6 to 3.

The defeat cost the Giants a chance to draw up virtually on even terms with the rain-out Chicago Cubs. In addition it may have sealed Schumacher's fate for the balance of this season.

May Go to Outfield. It was, they say, his last chance to prove his claim as a starting pitcher. There even is talk of converting the 180-pound 6-footer into an outfielder.

Terry, who yesterday was tossed out of the first ball game in his career for protesting Empire 8th Klam's conduct, of 1932-33, 35— or someone else equally effective—to catch the Cubs again and win the National league hunting.

A happier figure than Schumacher is the irrepensible Joe Medwick. That go-home gangster, who leads the league in everything but triples, stolen bases and, of course, pitching, pounded out three more hits and drove in three more runs as the St. Louis Cardinals ousted out the Pirates, 6 to 5.

The Cubs' next game in Cincinnati was rained out, as were the Beech-Dodger date in Brooklyn and the only American league game scheduled between the Indians and White Sox.

FELLER SURE HE'LL SOON GET BREAKS

CHICAGO, July 12.—(AP)—Bob Feller, the 18-year-old Cleveland Indians' hurler who blazed a strikeout trail across the baseball horizon in 1936 and then injured his arm this season, is convinced he's just as good as ever, notwithstanding his current record of three defeats and no victories.

"I'll get the breaks soon," he smiled, "and I'm far from discouraged over losing those games, even though I'd have liked to win them. But if I could go out and pitch like I did against Detroit Sunday, I'd win 25 games a season." He allowed Detroit only two hits although he lost the game.

"I've been relying mainly on my fast ball, and my arm feels just as good as ever. My curve is getting better—when it's right I think it's as good a curve as any pitcher has in the league—someday I'm sure that I'll start winning soon. I'm not trying to fan every batter. If I can fan them with men on bases, I'll be satisfied."

The Feller case has been baseball's most intriguing mystery of recent years. When he injured his arm pitching against St. Louis April 24, some said he was through for good. Others that he wouldn't pitch again until 1938. Starting against Detroit at Cleveland, he allowed one hit in four innings, but the Tigers got three unearned runs off him and won a seven-inning game, 3 to 2.

At Detroit Sunday he walked six and made one wild pitch.

Art Garibaldi of Sacramento kept up a steady hitting pace, his average of .360 remaining unchanged and the second highest in the circuit. Marvin Gudat, Los Angeles, gained six points to .358 but stayed in third place.
