TWIN FALLS, Idaho, July 19.—
(AP)—District Judge I. Balley Lea granted triple-slayer Douglas Van vlack the right today to appeal to the state supreme court from his sentence of death.

The judge signed a "certificats of probable cause," which automatically stays the execution of the 33-year-old former Tacoma, Washington, resident, set for July 27.

Washington, resident, see July 27.
Van Vlack's attorney, James H. Allshle, Jr., immediately filed a notice of appeal.
The appeal was taken from the death sentence imposed by Judge Lee on Van Vlack June 26.
Van Vlack was convicted of killing his former wife, Mildred Hook, and during his trial here he admitted shooting two police officers.
