FLOOD CONTROL PLAN AWAITS ALLOTMENT

WASHINGTON, July 27. — (AP) — Representative James W. Mott of Oregon received word from the army engineers today that a preliminary flood control program will start as soon as the president makes the necessary $796,900 allotment. The work will be preliminary to major projects in the valley. The board of army engineers has received the Willamette survey and will forward it to the national resources board. Later it will go to congress. Mott said the survey will be part of the omnibus flood control legislation for the next session of congress. About $200,000 of the sum required for the reclamation and emergency work will come from reforestation and the rest by regular appropriation.
