Suggestion for formal evening dress.

Uncrushable black velvet with gold and silver embroidery outlining the molded hips and zigzagging down the horizontally shirred sleeves makes Maggy Rouff's stunning evening gown. Vertical shirring is used at the waistline.

COMPENSATION

When my luck seems all out
And I'm down at the mouth,
When I'm stuck in the North
And I want to go South;
When the world seems a blank
And there's no one I love,
And it seems even God's
Not in heaven above,
I've a cure for my grouch
And it works like a shot—
I just think of the things that
I'm glad I'm not:
A bird in a cage,
A fish in a bowl,
A pig in a pen,
A fox in a hole,
A bear in a pit,
A wolf in a trap,
A fowl on a spit,
A bug in a cap.
When I think of the hundreds of things I might be,
I get down on my knees and
thank God that I'm me.
Then my blues disappear, when
I think what I've got,
And quite soon I've forgotten
the things I have not.

The number of discharges this week seems to indicate that this is a pretty good repair shop. The following have completed their treatment: Floyd L. Smith, Oliver L. Williams, Harry M. It is an education in local geography and history to get acquainted with the men hospitalized here. One of our newcomers is Thomas P. Carrier, from Jacksonville, Oregon, who proudly informs us that his home town is one of the oldest in the state, and that Gen. Grant once stopped there overnight.

We are happy to report that our two seriously ill patients are both improving. Lester L. Wimberly and Lewis E. Helms. We trust they will soon be strong enough to see visitors.

The title of Monday's picture, "Shall We Dance?", appeared rather foolish, for whenever we see Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, we know they are going to dance. Our stiff muscles tingle at their rhythm.

Statistics say that there are 13,000,000 movie-goers in shows per night. That is five-sevenths of the total population of men, women and children. Our attendance at the pictures in the hospital recreation building is less than that proportion of our census, but then we cannot bring our babies!

Thursday's picture, "Let's Make a Million," showed one kind of a bonus spender. We could tell the playwrights of fifty other kinds, if they wish to write scenarios on that theme.

More queer book titles: "My Life is in Your Hands," a biography of Eddie Cantor; "Flesh of the Wild Ox," an anthropological study of the Riffians of the Moroccan hills; "Dear, Dark Head," a social and literary history of the Irish people; "The Devil's Drummor," adventures in Brazil.

Many of the overseas men can remember Elsie Janis, whose entertaining did much to cheer the fighters Over There. The following poem by Miss Janis has been treasured by one of our patients:
