RECESSION BLAMED TO LABOR LEADERS

POCATELLO, Idaho, Jan. 19.—(AP)—A major share of the blame for the current business recession can be placed on the shoulders of labor leaders, William Green and John L. Lewis, President William M. Jeffers of the Union Pacific railroad said today.

"They are doing a more effective job of tying up factories than any quarrel between laboring men and business," Jeffers declared in interview.

"Among the most serious contributing factors to the present recession are these run-away strikes of undisciplined labor unions. The committee for industrial organization is more or less a run-away situation with no discipline at all."

"We have no quarrel with labor, provided it is run by responsible leaders. These rival labor groups are not working and they will not let each other work—but all go on relief, and the taxpayer pays the bills."

Jeffers said he "could not see the psychology of persons who criticize railroads for rate increases."

"People seem to think it is all right for other business to meet rising costs with increased prices, but they think it is all wrong for the railroads to do it."

The railroad president predicted greater cooperation between government and business in the near future and said "the country as a whole is to be permanently retrained."

DOOMED WOMAN DENIED CLEMENCY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 19.—Governor Horner broke precedent today and refused to prevent the electrocution Friday of Mrs. Marie Porter of St. Louis, 37-year-old mother of four daughters.

The governor also refused to commute the death penalty of Angelo Ralph Giancola, 22, convicted with Mrs. Porter of the wedding day insurance slaying of her husband, William Kappen.

Illinois has never electrocuted a woman. Horner in several cases has commuted to long terms the death sentences of women convicted of murder.

Available records show that only one woman was hanged for murder in Illinois, at Lawrenceville in 1846.

Mrs. Porter's only hope of escape from the death penalty would be a sanity hearing in court.

A patent was issued in 1926 on an extra long bib that could be spread on the table as a protection against falling food. The bib had a rim to catch foodstuffs.

HE SELLS TOBACCO TO THEM ALL

But Branch Bobbitt, like so many other independent experts, prefers Luckies...

"At AUCTIONS in my warehouse in Farmville, North Carolina," says Mr. Branch Bobbitt, "the higher the tobacco sells for, the better my profits. So I'm always glad to see Lucky Strike buyers in there bidding. They know what they want and they'll keep bidding right up until they get it."

"Well—in a cigarette—it's the tobacco that counts. I know tobacco and I know what tobacco is in what cigarettes. So that's one reason I've smoked Luckies for 5 or 6 years."

Mr. Bobbitt represents the "aristocracy" of tobacco experts. He judges the tobacco that the growers grow. He's impartial, not connected with any cigarette manufacturer.

Many other experts agree with Mr. Bobbitt. Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.
