

HEPBURN-GRANT FUN FILM SPARKLES

By L. K. P.

Katherine Hepburn, revealing her talent as a comedienne, with Cary Grant opposite her, in "Bringing Up Baby," which opened yesterday at Hunt's Indian for a three-day run, is being offered as the outstanding laugh show of the screen by RKO. Backed by a sparkling cast headed by Charles Ruggles and May Robson, the stars "go to town" in uproarious fashion.

The story is based on the go-getter activities of Miss Hepburn, a madcap heiress with a remarkable propensity for creating trouble. Although Cary Grant is a studious professor, interested only in completing a huge dinosaur skeleton and in promoting a million dollars to carry on the work of his museum, Miss Hepburn decides she wants him. His fate is sealed from that moment, especially when she discovers he intends to marry his secretary.

Virtually kidnapping Grant to help her hide a tame leopard her brother has sent from South America, she plunges the hapless professor into a melange of ridiculous adventures and unexpected situations that are said to make the picture the biggest piece of merriment of the season. The leopard is the "baby" of the title. The leopard and a feline dog add plenty of feline and canine complications to the plot.

HIGH RADIO SPOTS AUNT EMMA WOTS:

Mutual Highlights

Mutual's (Kunes) have just revealed that 22.3 per cent of all programs heard over the coast-to-coast network are devoted to the presentation of educational and fine musical programs.

Out of a total of 1921 network hours a week, 223 hours are devoted to programs on literature, education, public affairs and serious music.

The programs that are listed under these classifications originate from the major studios of Mutual's affiliated stations, thus giving listeners a cross-sectional knowledge of the cultural tastes and educational developments of the entire nation, rather than confining these broadcasts to a few major cities.

New Regulations for Administration Of Western Range Lands Provide For Grazing of 100,000,000 Head of Stock

WASHINGTON, March 21 — (AP) — Secretary Ickes' set-up of new regulations for the administration of 120,000,000 acres of range land in the far west provide for grazing of 100,000,000 head of livestock on the federal range on a term permit basis and embody conservation policies for perpetuation of the range.

The new regulations will supplant rules which have been in effect since 1934 when the government instituted a "home rule policy" under the Taylor grazing act.

F. R. Carpenter, grazing director, said division of grazing plans contemplated early installation of the term permit system.

"Within a year," he said, "it is expected the term permits will have been put in effect in at least one grazing district in Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, New Mexico, Nevada, Montana, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming."

Forty-nine grazing districts eventually will be affected.

Pending installation of the new term permit arrangements, temporary licenses, extending through the grazing season of 1939, will be issued, Carpenter said. Approximately 20,000 term permits will be required before the switch to the new regulations has been completed.

Features Outlined

As outlined by Carpenter, major features of the new federal range code are:

1. Range conservation through computation of an animal unit month—the amount of feed necessary for one cow for one month—and the carrying capacity of the land. In calculations one horse or five goats or five sheep are considered the equivalent of one cow.
2. Possession of sufficient land, water or feed to insure a year round operation for a specified number of livestock.

ELECTRICITY USE IN OREGON MOUNTS

SALEM, March 21 — (AP) — Electricity consumption in Oregon last year set an all-time record of 1,018,288,273 kilowatt hours, and 8.32 per cent increase over 1937, N. G. Wallace, public utilities commissioner, said today.

Revenues of electric companies were $19,212,501 last year, 7.56 per cent more than in 1937.

Residential and rural consumers used 13.8 per cent more electricity but paid only 9.4 per cent more for it, the difference reflecting rate reductions during the year and the increased use of energy in the lower priced brackets of the rate schedules.

The average residential consumer used 1,300 kilowatt hours in 1937, compared with 1,156 in 1936. He paid 2.83 cents a kilowatt last year, and three cents in 1937.

Wallace said the average Oregon domestic consumer used 75 per cent more electricity than the average American consumer, but his average rate was 70 per cent less than the average rate for the entire nation.

Commercial and industrial consumers increased their kilowatt hour consumption 6.95 per cent, while the amount paid for the energy increased at the same rate.

Wallace said the business recession was responsible for the decrease in industrial consumption during the last three months of last year.

tion system.

Rear Admiral Andrews, chief of the bureau of navigation, told the committee the additional officers would be needed to command the expanded fleet.

Chairman Vinson (D. Ga.) said the bill would revise the selection system by which the navy promotes its officers so that every officer would have at least two chances for selection.

If the measure is enacted, many officers who otherwise would be forced to retire between now and next January would be given another chance for promotion and one more year of duty, he said.

SHIFT IN FOREST SERVICE OPPOSED

It should be transferred," he said.

Senator Pope, Borah's democratic colleague said he was not convinced that such a transfer would come to pass; that he had assurances from high officials that it was not contemplated.

Dorah replied that private assurances were "no protection against such a thing happening."

The senate, he continued, had "ample warning" that such a shift was in the wind.

"The report which was made by the Brownlow committee recommended the transfer," he said. "The president sent the report to congress with his tact approval. In addition to that, influential members in the administration have urged the transfer."

"No Danger," Pope Oppines

Pope said, however, that he was convinced "there is no danger."

"If I thought there were any danger of the transfer of the forest service from the department of agriculture to any other department I should oppose the bill," he said.

"One of the most important questions congress has ever confronted is the problem of bringing about efficiency and economy through the reorganization and abolition of unnecessary boards and bureaus," Pope added, asserting that was his prime reason for sup-

UNPOPULAR COURSE FORCES 2 LITHUANIANS TO RESIGN

KAUNAS, Lithuania, March 21 — (AP) — Foreign Minister Lazoras and Minister of Justice Silingas have tendered their resignations to President Smetona, but it could not be learned today whether they were accepted.

There were reports that Lazoras offered his resignation five days ago—before a show of Polish arms forced Lithuania to bow to demands for "normalization" of Polish-Lithuanian commercial and diplomatic relations, but that the president would not accept it.

Throughout last week's tension Lazoras favored reconciliation with Poland.

Saturday's compliance with Poland's army-backed ultimatum, however, affected the foreign minister's political position and caused countrywide bitterness.

Submission Unpopular

Lithuanian student associations today declared a ten-day period of mourning to protest the nation's capitulation to Poland.

The association members decided to wear black crepe on their caps until March 31, the date when Lithuania agreed to exchange diplomatic envoys with Poland, as demanded in the Polish note of last week.

There was a brief flurry last night at the state opera when a leftist newspaperman tried to read a statement demanding the gov-

4 miles in a bee-line =

6 miles by road map

8 miles by STOP-and-GO

A mile on your speedometer may easily be a mile and a half to your engine—when it's stop and go. HERE'S WHY:

In "low" gear, your engine turns over about twelve times for each turn of the wheels. In "second," it turns about eight—in "high," only about four.

You drive a mile, but how far your engine runs depends on how many times you stop and start—how much of the mile is in low and second gears.

Shell engineers found that getting away from a traffic stop can waste enough "undigested" gasoline to carry you 1/3 of a mile.

To cut this waste and its cost, they found a way to rearrange the chemical structure of gasoline, making every drop of fuel usable to your motor under all driving conditions.

You can save on the cost of your stop-and-go driving by the regular use of Super-Shell. There's a Shell dealer near you.
